THE CAROLINA HOME. and farm and EASTERN REFLECTOR

THE APPLE-TON COMPANY, Inc.
J. J. WHICHARD, Editor
WINTERVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA.

Subscription, one year, $1.00
Advertising rates may be had upon application. The Publication Office is on Church and Third streets.
All cards or Dunns and resolutions of respect will be charged for at cent per word.

ENTERED JANUARY 2, 1914.

It is out of fashion to have a dispute without saying his hat is a broom is dressed up. His name is attached to it and it is inverted as a sign of respect.

—o—

The divorce "evil" promises to figure prominently in the deliberations of the Virginia state legislature, which will convene in Richmond in a few days.

—o—

John Lind must have struck Woodrow far a big cut at mid-night in the Chester calling for which the president landed with his hands in his pockets. See "Lind Blind" chapter.

—o—

Mrs. Annie Nutt, negro, who was given a life sentence in the Virginia penitentiary for killing Policeman Hardy, in Richmond, has been pardoned by Governor Mann. Mrs. Nutt was convicted of murder in the first degree.

—o—

Anne Rittenhouse, in a fashion magazine, tells us that "In the tall-hood gardens at Delmonico's where men and women tea and dance in the afternoon between four and six thirty o'clock, two women were a black velvet ribbon around the neck with a white net ruffle attached." Great guns, Anne, was that all they had on? and hit a snowbird.

—o—

Very few people have even a remote idea of the immense amount of work done at the Spencer shops of the Southern Railway Company, which has just closed what is perhaps the biggest year's work in the history of the big plant. Some conception of the proportions of the work may be gthered from the fact that more than 828 locomotives were turned out from the shops in 1913.

New York is to have a [illegible] stories, or 864.6 feet high.

—o—

Several of our up the state ex[illegible] report slight snow storms [illegible] last week or two.

[illegible] steamer on the new line between New York and Wilmington will arrive in the latter port today.

—o—

You might see the bad weather [illegible] Dame Fortune will [illegible] when good weather comes.

—o—

Twenty-three thousand vessels have cleared the ports of the United States during section in the last fiscal year.

—o—

John Sevier, Williams [illegible] Tennessee, [illegible] hospital is built in Greenville.

—o—

"A wonderful bird is the Pelican;
His mouth holds more than his belican.
He can hold in his beak
Enough for a week;
I don't see how in the hellican."

—o—

Some North Carolinian is liable to have luck this year. It is believed there are radium-bearing ores in the state. Look out for everything that looks like radium.—Wilmington Star.

You forgot to tell us what radium looks like.

—o—

A Washington dispatch says "Intervention in Mexico will be the next step on the part of the United States if the information obtained today from high authority. The exact date will depend largely upon the result of John Lind's conference with the president at Pass Christian.

—o—

From the standpoint of industrial growth and development the city of Greensboro has just completed [illegible] prosperous year in its history. [illegible] the Record, and there [illegible] can be said of every village, hamlet, town or city in this good state of ours.

—o—

A Hartford [illegible] to [illegible] that [illegible] to [illegible] to [illegible] to