

HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATED

Training School Has Special Dinner For This Occasion.

On Hallowe'en night there was quite a delightful crowd in the Dining Hall of the E. C. T. S., when Miss Rankin and the twenty-one girls who assist her, served a most delightful Hallowe'en dinner.

The Hall was attractively decorated for this occasion. In the center of each table was a nest of pine needles holding beautiful red apples. The dainty place cards had small pine needles run through the corners. A huge Jack-O-Lantern glared from the side board, at the girls as they passed.

After the girls were seated a large ghost crept silently among the crowd, slipping plates by stealth, showering caresses on its favorites, and causing much laughter among the crowd. It was particularly attentive to the faculty during this time, toasts in rhymes and jingles were given by the students to Mrs. Beckwith Mr. Spilman Miss Rankin and her twenty-one assistants in the dining room.

The menu for this occasion was served in three courses the first: Fried oysters, scalloped potatoes, creamed peas, hot biscuit and butter; the second: Fruit salad, beaten biscuit and pickle; the third: Chocolate cream and marble cake.

The happy faces and laughter assured Miss Rankin that the students thoroughly enjoyed her surprise.

Rev. T. W. Chambliss to Students

Rev. T. W. Chambliss, pastor of the Baptist Church of Wilson, preached a special sermon to the Y. W. C. A. of the Training School on Sunday evening. His striking theme, "Aristocracy of True Worth," was developed in a strong, logical manner. He showed the various kinds of aristocracy of the ages, those based on brute force, possessions, and blood, and with the coming of Christ the "Aristocracy of True Worth" was established.

The sermon was not only one of force, but the delivery of Dr. Chambliss was marked by a certain polish and ease of manner that made his listeners delight in hearing him.

Once a month the association invites a preacher of note from a nearby town, or from a distance to conduct the Sunday evening service. The students are thus given opportunities to hear many of the best preachers of the different denominations.

Greenville People Assist In Rescuing Children From Burning Home

A party of young people from this place report the burning of a colored man's home near Tarboro yesterday which happened just as they were passing while autoing. The party was composed of Misses Ethel Skinner, Rubelle Forbes, Louisa Grant and Messrs. J. B. Kittrell and H. M. Phillips. The fire was discovered before they reached the house and by the time they got to it the fire had gained considerable headway. They assisted in removing the household goods, practically all of which were saved, and rescued three small children, which were alone in the house at the time of the fire. The house was a three-room, tenant house, better than the average and is a complete loss. The fire started under the roof near the middle of the house and no cause for the fire could be found. It is pretty certain that the children would have been burned up had it not been for the prompt and timely assistance of the party. They were too small to save themselves and as the fire was making rapid headway they would have soon been beyond rescue.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.

Julian Whitley, Fifteen Years Old Boy Victim.

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 31. The accidental discharge of a shot gun shortly before noon today inflicted a wound from which fifteen-year-old Julian Whitley died within five minutes.

The accident occurred about two miles from this city in Nash county. It happened while the gun was in the hands of Fenner Johnson, sixteen years old. The two boys accompanied by Herbert Bottoms, had been hunting for several hours. They stopped for a moment and were sitting down near the edge of the woods talking, when the gun fired. The shot entered the right side of Whitley's face and the boy died within five minutes.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Whitley, and his father is the foreman for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad at Rocky Mount. The three boys were students at the Rocky Mount High School, and it was while they were coming from school yesterday that they planned this hunting trip.

Tobacco Sales.

There has been sold to date on the Greenville market 11,611,698 pounds of which 6,709,157 pounds were sold during the month of October at an average of 13.61 cents a pound.

The market today had a large break and prices are satisfactory. With the coming of the favorable weather it is expected that sales will grow heavier and prices will be better.

Wants Public Defender

The first thing a child usually learns about the country in which he lives is that it is a justice loving nation, and that all of our ancestors fought for what they thought to be the cause of justice. I now wish to call your attention to a condition which now exists that to mind has no resemblance of justice to it. I refer to the position of prosecuting attorney in our courts. His is a position, generally held by a man of brains, whose sole duty is to prosecute. Not to lift up or help the poor or down trodden, but he draws his salary merely for prosecuting every case brought up for trial in the courts. Now I will ask you squarely do you call that justice to have a man hired, and paid for the sole purpose of prosecuting, and not have one hired to devote his whole time to defending or helping those who are unfortunate enough to infringe against the law, unintentionally perhaps.
