LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—Judge Gilmer is holding court at Smithville, Brunswick county.
—The trains this morning see well crowded for all directions.
—Be sure to report at this office any and every failure to receive the DAILY WORKMAN.
—Fresh oysters and coffee, cake and ice cream at the Coffee House Festival to night. Pine apple sherbet.
—The cold wave struck Greensboro last evening and made itself felt. It was waving all night, and made one think of early frost.
—Mr. N. A. Hanner, who was here some days ago on crutches, is here to-day, minus the crutches, which we are glad to see.
—Our near neighbor, Mr. Strauss, has been receiving large lots of dry goods, and last night was very busy putting them on the shelves.
—The Presbyterian Synod of N. C. will meet in Concord October the 4th. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. J. C. Alexander, of Guilford.
—We give our readers to-day an interesting, matter of fact letter from a correspondent at Mount Pleasant Cotton Mills, and feel sure that such solid matters will find appreciation.
—It is hoped that at the reopening of the Coffee House this evening the company will be favored with speeches from the gentlemen with whom the Coffee House idea originated.
REMEMBER.—It is according to our platform as a non-partisan journal to publish the proceedings of all public meetings and conventions and give a list of the nominations, but candidates who announce themselves through our columns will be charged for the service at advertising rates.

The Daily Workman.

VOL. 4. GREENSBORO, N. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1886. No. 101

—There are some very important cases to come up in the U. S. Court at Lynchburg, Va., before Judge Paul, this week. The cases are brought by several parties against the Va. Midland railroad to recover damages for injuries and losses incurred in the great accident at the bridge beyond Lynchburg a little over two years ago. Col. John N. Staples, who represents the railroad, went on last night. Judges and counsel will be plentiful and able.

Personal.

—We had a pleasant call to day from Mr. P. R. Coble, who lives near Red Cross.
—Rev. Dr. Smith returned from Mount Airy last evening, and reports quite an interesting and fruitful meeting at that place.
—Miss P. E. Macon, who has been spending her vacation in Greensboro, took her leave this morning bound to one of the schools of middle Tennessee, where she will fill a position as teacher.
—Mr. Hunter Dalton, who came up on a short visit from Danville yesterday is off to day for Philadelphia, where he will enter the College of Pharmacy to make himself solid in his special line.

Just So.—One of our business men put the facts in a very just light when he remarked this morning that no place in existence could surpass Greensboro in the march of improvement for the amount of noise that is made about it. Nothing could be truer. Dozens of houses are built without a note to go out on the breeze, and tens of thousands of dollars' worth of goods go out without a ripple being seen on the waves. And this we have to say, that people who come to Greensboro to live can bear testimony to the fact that the surroundings are even more favorable than they had been led to believe. As to the prices of goods in this market, we know them to be low, so low that those who come from abroad to buy give the praise to our merchants for their moderate rates.
But we do want a few things just now: 1. Manufactures. 2. Paved streets. 3. The opening of North Elm, so as to have an unobstructed, broad, grand extension reaching from the depot to what is now a forest in the lands of Mr. Jesse Lindsay—the grandest step that could be taken now to broaden the town on that wing and give it its due proportions. Let all the people say amen.

—The Dispatch reports that after filling all the room, both permanent and temporary, that is obtainable, there are yet over one thousand children of school age in Richmond for whom there is no provision. Commendable efforts are being made to meet all demands and make the schools of Richmond the pride of the State.

—The subscriber would announce to the public that he has consented to permit his name to come before the County Democratic Convention as a candidate for the nomination to the sheriffalty of Guilford county.

Respectfully, N. A. HANNER.
