

THE DAILY WORKMAN.

J. S. MICHAUX, Local Editor

A paper for all people, but especially meet the desire which many are known to entertain for a non-political sheet, the WORKMAN will strive to go into every house, leaving to other papers the science of politics, giving the news in brief and holding itself responsible to the moral sense of the community for its utterances.

—Woodruff, the new President of the Mormon hierarchy, is 80 years old.

Music hath charms to soothe the breast of a savage,
To break in twain the mountain rock
Or split the head of a cabbage.

SUCCESSION. NOT A SUCCESS.—There have been many probable successors of Henry Ward Beecher spoken of, but the old shoes are still empty.

—Dr. Herbert P. Battle, son of President Kemp P. Battle, of the State University, has been appointed director of the agricultural experiment station.

A SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.—The Person County Courier very politely announces that the new jail will soon be ready for occupants. "First come first served."

—A specimen of how some people manage to express themselves is found in what an old lady once said: "For my part I always sometimes generally never don't."

—Some newspaper men, on learning that Senator Riddleberger had so managed as to get into jail, have about made up their minds that the Senator has found his position.

—It is about this season of the year that the average editor treats the word "license" as if it were of the plural number; and also when a man succeeds in obtaining a license it is said that he "got them."

CYCLES OF SUICIDE.—In nearly all the cases which have thus far brought themselves to notice there are traces of dementia of one form or another, and as there is abundant cause for mental distress in the excessive strain which the continued heat of the past month has put upon the nervous system and physical endurance of humanity, the theory of cycles and periodicity for suicides is by no means a strange conjecture. It has been thought, and said often, that publication of the facts of one suicide invites and suggests another, and it is highly probable that many apparently strong instances of the kind could be cited. —Baltimore Sun.

We have heretofore taken the ground of the foregoing as to the concluding suggestion, and illustrated with a case which occurred twenty five years ago, in which a gentleman of strong sensibilities declared that he felt a strange tendency to commit suicide by being shown the place where a fellow creature had taken his own life but a short time before. And this man so affected did commit suicide not a great while afterwards!

Corner-stone Address of Judge Schenck.

Ladies, Gentlemen, and School Children: It is a matter for congratulation and pride that we have assembled here today to lay the corner stone of our new Graded School House for the white children of Greensboro.

On the 2d day of May last the almost unanimous voice of the citizens of Greensboro was heard at the ballot box demanding Reform, Progress and Public Improvements, and one hundred thousand dollars in city bonds was placed in the hands of your Commissioners to carry out these beneficent purposes.

In three months from that date the design of this beautiful and spacious edifice had been adopted, drafts for the building had been prepared, the contract for all the work had been signed and busy hands were pulling down the old house to make room for the new.

Today, the 17th of August, 1887, we have the gratification of seeing the new walls rising above the ground and inviting us to the pleasant task of laying the corner stone which is to mark so important an occurrence in the history of our lovely and progressive little city.

Every heart should rejoice and every citizen should be encouraged with hope. What does this ceremony signify, my friends?

It means an education for all classes of our people, "without money and without price," in humble and reverential imitation of the God whom we adore, who confers freely upon us his mercies and his blessings.

Here, in a land of liberty and law, where the gospel is preached to every creature—in a land of plenty and freedom, where no titled nobility is known or recognized, where the race for wealth is open alike to all; here in this blessed land, let our hearts be raised in gratitude and praise to the Giver of all Good for his wonderful mercies to the children of men.

Citizens, let us cherish and protect the institutions of learning in our midst, and to this one, the common property of all, let us give our hearty and cordial support, our encouragement and our sympathy.

We must educate our children that they "may not love darkness rather than light." It is the blighted understanding which grovels in degradation and vice and finds its resting places in our jails and penitentiaries. It is the uneducated mind that descends to its natural level of crime and idleness and seduction, because it knows nothing of the purer and more elevated enjoyments of intellect and of spirit. It is "of the earth earthy," and cannot be raised from the dust—except by education and intelligence. "Knowledge is power;" pure knowledge is pure happiness.

Let students who are blessed with the heritage of pecuniary means remember that wealth alone cannot purchase intelligence, nor honor, nor position in life. Knowledge is the child of studious and unremitting labor, and comes to none unbidden. She must be wooed and won by individual votary. She recognizes no proxy in the courts of her temple, and scorns to dwell with idleness or indifference.

"Learning by study must be won, 'Twas ne'er entailed from sire to son."

Let the humblest and poorest of our students have hope and courage. The race for honor is free and impartial to all. Application and perseverance are the only conditions of success, and merit is the only test of excellence. Be worthy, and your reward will come.

"Worth makes the man, the want of it the fellow." In Republican governments you will be honored in proportion to the difficulties and misfortunes and embarrassments you may overcome, and your very poverty may be the evidence of your virtue in a dishonest age. You have all to encourage you, and nothing to daunt or destroy your spirit if you be true to your duty and your opportunity.

Parents, instill into the minds of your children the importance and necessity of education.

In the years that have past, in the opening era of our political history, education was a blessing and a help in the struggle of life, but in this day and generation, where the motto is "Brain not Brawn," education is an absolute necessity to success. It is the condition precedent to the attainment of distinction and honor. There may be exceptions to the general rule, but there are but few avenues to prosperity that are open to the ignorant and uneducated man.

Boys and girls, be patient, the clang of the trowel and the buzz of the saw will soon cease; the brush of the painter will be laid away and the old school bell will ring out clear and merry before the Christmas holiday, and summon you to these spacious and comfortable quarters.

We have room for 450 boys and girls, enough for all, and we want every seat filled. Come with sunny faces and willing hearts, and you shall be filled with knowledge. Come with ambition and pride and courage, and you shall have your reward.

As a general rule, whether a man determines to be or to have, he attains it. "Verily, they have their reward," is the voice of the Master to the evil as well as the good, and in profane history we have the aphorism that "every man is the architect of his own fortune."

Let us join in fervency and sincerity with the prayers of these godly men who come to invoke for us the blessings of the Deity on this our noble enterprise, our pride and our joy.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died, at the age of 78 years 5 months and 29 days, Rev. Joseph Guyer. His death occurred at his own home in Guilford county, N. C., in the month of April, 1887. The date of his conversion is not known, nor the time when he joined the church. But he was licensed to exhort on the 4th of May, 1839, at Sandy Ridge Church. He was licensed to preach at Hickory Grove Church, March 26th, 1842. At that quarterly meeting, Rev. Alson Gray was chairman, and Rev. R. K. Prather was secretary. He was ordained Deacon in 1853, and Elder in 1854.

He was a member of the North Carolina Annual Conference a number of years, and in the active work several years. Though he was limited in his education, yet he was quite successful in many of his efforts and in building up at many points. He was a zealous worker and quite a revivalist, and especially strong in exhortation.

It was the privilege of the writer to be with him in those days at many camp and protracted meetings, and I have seen sinners yield before his efforts until the altar was crowded with penitent persons of all classes present. God's choicest does not always agree with our ideas of the best propriety. Why Christ should have chosen fishermen for his apostles and workers, instead of scribes and doctors, we do not vary will see. Why he should pick up comparatively illiterate men and make them more successful in bringing poor sinners into the kingdom of Christ, than many who are far better educated, we cannot so well understand. But we are not ignorant of the fact.

Double the stars in Brother Guyer's crown will exceed in number many who are far in advance of him in opportunity. At any rate Brother Guyer has gone to his reward.

I was a privilege to stop with him twice, not very long before his death. I found him much afflicted, but cheerful. He talked much about his work in the past, and especially those meetings where so many persons had been converted and added to the Church. His soul seemed to catch the zeal of those days as he related these experiences. He related his Christian experience, too, and to me of his hope of heaven, soon. But I could not undertake to relate his conversation in this notice, but believe that he has found his rest with the redeemed. Let his bereft relatives feel that they have another tie to bind them to their Christian duties and to Christ.

His funeral will be preached at Lebanon Church on the 4th Sunday in August, by Rev. J. R. Ball and Rev. C. F. Harris, D. D.

Ladies will find relief from headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, indigestion, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulder and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator. It is not unpleasant, is purely vegetable, and is not injurious to the most delicate constitution.

Give us a rest—from anger!
