

THE DAILY WORKMAN.
J. S. MICHAUX, Local Editor

A paper for all people, but especially to meet the desire which many are known to entertain for a non-political sheet, the WORKMAN will strive to go into every house, leaving to other papers the science of politics, giving the news in brief and holding itself responsible to the moral sense of the community for its utterances.

—The Statesville District Conference raised $400 for Trinity College endowment, as we are informed by the Twin-City Daily.

—The Philadelphia Press is discussing the mysteries of the Bustle. There need be none of it any longer. The stores keep the article that can be seen through, and there is no mystery.

—The Charlotte papers announce that a young Mr. McLaughlin of that place had lost an arm by an accident at Columbia Factory, Randolph Co., which convinces us that the report we print elsewhere about Mr. Kivett is incorrect. The accident as it was is serious enough.

—A widow, at New Albany, Indiana, has been ordered to leave, on the complaint that she is about to marry a very young man, after being heard to remark that she cared nothing for anything further than what the young man would receive in the way of worldly means when he became of age.

—A very deplorable accident is reported to have occurred at Columbia Factory on Monday last. John Kivett, a worthy employee of the factory, was working at the lapper, and by some means not explained his arms came in contact with the beater of the machine and were beaten off to a point above the elbows. Mr. Kivett is a plain, hard working man, in moderate circumstances, with a wife and four children to maintain. See correction elsewhere.

—It is now said that the cause of Rev. Thos. Law's resignation as agent for the American Bible Society in the Carolinas is that he is a disciple of Darwin, a follower of Woodrow and a firm believer in an ancestry of immense monkey power. Mr. Law is from South Carolina. The North Carolina Law would have been a better selection as it turns out. That monkey business is doing a great deal of harm. "Monkeying with a buzz saw" is suggested by "evoluting" from the gorilla.—Wilmington Star of August 23rd.

There seems to be a slight misunderstanding as to the fact of Mr. Law's resignation, as it was in the Charlotte Chronicle of yesterday that we found the paragraph announcing that Mr. Law "neither believed nor disbelieved" the monkey theory. We are satisfied of one thing and that is, that Mr. Law makes entirely too broad an application of the Bible Society's doctrine of non-interference in matters of opinion, and we think it likely that if Mr. Law does not manifest more level-headedness, and more of the spirit of deference which is due from an agent to the officers of a Branch Society, that his day of independence will wind up about the time of the first white frost.

It is said that Ameer Abdulrahman, of Afghanistan, had his physician recently beheaded, Kooder Bux, for failing to make an immediate cure of a boil on the sovereign's arm.

It was generally reported on the streets yesterday that Morehead had been visited by a heavy and destructive storm during the morning. There was no foundation whatever for the report.

The State Treasurer yesterday issued a drummer's license to Geo. W. Helms & Co., Helmetta, N. J. It appears from the continued issuing of drummer's license that the live business men of the North especially are of the opinion that the North Carolina license law is constitutional, and that it will be sustained in the United States court next November.

Considerable speculation and some excitement was caused among the more timid element of the city yesterday over the receipt of a telegram announcing that a severe cyclone was working its way from Florida up the coast, and reaching sometimes into the interior. Some thought it would get here last night, and speculated as to the best place of safety in case of its arrival. There is no use in getting excited about such things as this. If it is coming, it will come; but the probabilities are that it will not come through this immediate section. This is neither the home nor the habitat of the Cyclone.—Raleigh News-Observer, 24th

SENSATION IN KITTRELL—The Kittrell correspondent of the Raleigh News Observer says: "Probably the greatest sensation this section has experienced since the discovery of the old original Kittrell Spring, some years prior to the war, is caused by the discovery of a pure chalybeate spring on the lands of Mr. M. B. Hedgepeth, about two and a half miles from this place. The celebrated chemist and specialist on mineral waters Dr. J. R. Duggan, of Wake Forest College, has visited the spring and pronounced it "a very pure chalybeate water," free from organic matter or surface drainage, in his analysis. It gushes from the hillside, about 60 gallons per hour, clear, cool and delicious, and such relief has been found from drinking its healthgiving waters, that the whole neighborhood is about to go crazy over it, and resort to it daily, conveying off of vessels from hand to hand a dilapidated coffee pot. It is truly a wonderful tonic and never fails to produce a most destructive appetite."

Mr. W. L. Reed, clerk to the register of deeds of Davidson county, died at Lexington last Monday morning of typhoid fever, at the age of 24 years. His body was buried at Greensboro yesterday. He was an exemplary young man and was held in high esteem by all his acquaintances.—Charlotte Chronicle.

MAD DOG KILLED.—A mad dog excited considerable commotion in the vicinity of Independence Square this morning. A lively chase ensued, when the dog took refuge under an old platform in front of Mr. T. Garibaldi's tin shop. Chief of Police Griffith appeared on the ground armed with a double barreled shot gun, which was handed over to Mr. W. B. Correll, who fired at the dog, placing the charge just between the shoulders killing him instantly.—Charlotte Hornet.

THE REVERSES OF FORTUNE—A dispatch from New York, says: A young woman of refined and pleasing manners applied at a police station for lodging for herself and two children. She gave her maiden name, Mary Morton, but investigation revealed that she was the wife of Arthur Wellesly, a distant relative of the Duke of Wellington.

Wellesly's father owns a large sheep-ranch on Loaneceston, Australia, and his family is wealthy and well connected. Young Wellesly married the daughter of a well-to-do sea captain, who lived near his father's ranch and then removed with his wife to New Zealand and thence to England. Here they lived several years in passable style, but on removing to this country misfortune seemed to follow them. Wellesly could not obtain work here, and went to Boston. There he obtained a position as cook in Temple Cafe. He wrote to his wife inclosing money, but she did not receive his letters and was turned into the street, with her children, for non-payment of rent. The agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children sent Mrs. Wellesly and her children to meet the husband and father in Boston.

The Ounce of Prevention.
The satisfaction of feeling safe from catching any disease from drinking water, from impure air, from a sick person, from contact with foul clothing, infection or contagion from any source, is complete and all anxiety allayed by the use of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid. A bottle will give more safety, comfort and confidence than all the doctoring in the world.

The Vermont legislature, it is said, will be asked to exempt baseball players from serving on the juries. Already the courts in the State are adjourned when the judges want to attend a game.

The Verdict Unanimous.
W. D. Duggan, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I have used Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years standing." Abraham Hare, Druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Hunter & Michaux's Drug Store.
