HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.—Attention is called to the advertisement of valuable property for sale by Mr. J. E. Walker, of Randleman. It will be seen that it has a number of advantages, one of which is the extent of the lot.

LIST OF LETTERS

C., Aug. 16, 1888: M M Farrell, Miss Julia Green, Mrs Caroline Howard, J L Jackson, Miss Lenora T Jackson, Mrs S P Jordan, J T Jones (2), Thomas Kincaid, Miss Estha V Leach, Wm McCree, Miss Sarah McGuire, W R McLean, Calvin Moss, J Sydnor Phelps, Thos Rankin, E H Rankin, Miss Lina Ross, Alexander Russam, Chas W Scott, Miss Eliza Ella Smith colored, W H Summerell, Albert Thomas, D W Underwood, Miss Lizzie Weeks, A C Weatherly, Ninna F. To TAKE THE BARK OFF.—It is but a week or two since it was announced through these columns that the barking of dogs at night could be stopped immediately if the inmates of the house would turn their shoes bottom side upwards. The expedient was given us by a gentleman in Danville, Va., where the practice is observed and found effectual. We had forgotten it until yesterday when the recollection of it was revived by a statement made to us. A lady living on Greene street, who was greatly annoyed by the barking of dogs Tuesday night, finally concluded that she would try the shoe remedy.

OUR SANITARY CONDITION.

It will be admitted, we presume, that no town in North Carolina is as cleanly as it ought to be. In view of the liability of all to diseases peculiar to the summer season. Indeed, the views of people differ widely as to what is a good sanitary condition, and when a town has been pronounced in a good condition, a person who scrutinizes closely will find something yet requiring removal. It will be found, we think, that there are decaying timbers in back yards, either in the foundations of framed dwellings, or under fences that have been supposed to be all right. There are damp spots covered with shrubbery, on which the sun never fairly shines, from which unpleasant odors are emitted, and which are no doubt favorable to the origin of diseases in various forms. We do trust that our authorities will exercise special care in this important matter, and let no guilty spot escape.

There was a Democratic speech making in the Court House last night. Speeches were made by Colonel Waddell, J. C. Buxton, Esq., Mr. Myrover, of the Patriot, and Col. Jas. T. Morehead.

The first of the series of garden parties to be given by the children assisted by the ladies of the Episcopal church, will be held at the residence of Col. Staples to-morrow (Thursday) evening, and all are cordially invited to attend.
