He Kissed Me

A Nebraska paper narrates this educational incident: "A high school girl, class A, being told by the teacher to parse the sentence. 'He kissed me,' consented reluctantly, because opposed to speaking of private affairs in public. 'He,' commenced, with unnecessary emphasis and a fond lingering over the word that brought crimson to her cheeks, 'is a pronoun; third person, singular number, masculine gender; a gentleman, pretty well fixed; universally considered a good catch. Kissed is a verb transitive—too much so; regular—every evening; indicative mood—indicating affection; first and third persons, plural number, and governed by circumstances. Me—ob, everybody knows me, and down she sat."

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose on you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief to all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's Drug Store.

The mild powers cure.—If a cathartic is needed to rid the blood of impurity and to stimulate the action of the liver use Laxador. Price 25 cents.

If there were called a meeting of babies and young children and the question put to vote "who was their greatest benefactor" the loud and unanimous vote would be "Dr. Bull," for he gave us his wonderful "Baby Syrup."

Wanted to die Rich.

When the ship Britannia was wrecked on the rocks off the coast of Brazil, it had on board a large amount of silver. The passengers, to save themselves, took to the lifeboats. When the last boat was about to push off, the mid-shipman ran back to see if all had left the sinking ship. To his surprise, he saw a man remaining and clutching a barrel of Spanish silver dollars—"What are you doing?" exclaimed the mid-shipman. "Escape for your life! Don't you see that the ship is sinking?" "The ship may sink said the man. "I have lived a poor wretch all my life, and I am determined to die rich." So he went down into a watery grave. He had the pleasure of thinking himself rich for one moment.

We call this man a madman—a big fool—and he was. But how many men living on dry land are doing about the same thing. They make and keep all they get. The use of money to them is merely to have, to hold, to keep it. They work hard, dress plainly, live in uncomfortable houses, have but little to eat. They hold their silver dollars tight enough to make the eagle squall. They are bomb proof to all religious appeals. What do they mean? Simply to die rich. Like the hog in the pen, they are going to die fat.—Then what? When death comes it finds them clinging on to their silver.—Selected.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a purely vegetable compound, innocent in nature and wonderful in effect. For children it is invaluable, curing croup whooping cough etc, in a few hours. price 25 cents.

Mr. W. B. Graves, of Wetheredville, Md., writes:—I suffer sometimes with acute rheumatism, and your Salvation Oil gives me instantaneous relief. I cordially recommend it as a sure cure.

A VETERAN.

I was wounded in the leg at the battle of Stone River, Dec. 31st, 1862. My blood was poisoned from the effects of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and remained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thousand deaths. Nothing did me any good until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my system, and enabled me to feel myself a man again. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison. brother vot keeps a clothing store on Chatham street he use to mark de brice ob his goods but he always mark $15.00 on de $3 00 suits so he could come down a little somedimes. But he don't do dot vay any more now. He marks no figures on de goods now. Von day I vent in his place and he was crying like his heart vas broke in two. I ask him vot's de matter vid him. He say, "Oh, mine gracious I shust wish you could kick me de store out. I shust lost five dollar vot I could have make shust as easy as notings. Shust now I had a customer and I show him a suit vot cost me six dollar and I ask him fifteen dollar for it. He like it first rate and he told me to wrap it up for him, and he shust pay me de fifteen dollar vidout kicking a bit on de price. Oh, I wish somebody would knock me on de head. So hellan me gracious I could shust so easy have got me for dot suit twenty dollar as fifteen." Und since dot times mine broder no more marks to plain figures his suits."

Old Mr. Isaacs Method.

OLD MR. ISAAC ISAACS, THE Harrison Street Clothing dealer, was showing a new salesman through the stock, telling him the best way to catch a customer on the side walk and pull him in, and giving him a general course of instruction in his ways and methods of doing business. The young man finally said, "But Mr. Isaac, I don't see anything but the cost mark on these goods. How about the price?" Upon which Mr. Isaacs replied, "Well, you must get all you can for dem. Ve don't put some brices on de goods because some customers vill pay better profits as oder vons. You vill find dot some people know somedings about goods and a great many know not'g about it. Und some customers siust pay de price vot you ask dem and some oder make you come down a good deal. You must get a good big profit all de time ven you can but somedimes ven you cannot help it you could dake a little less or give de customer a sheep pair of suspenders in mit de suit. Und you must remember dot we gives clergymen und school-teachers und de clerks in de oder stores a 'special discount' so you must price de goods up a little to all dose people so dot ve can take off de discount without losing any of de profit. Dot is de reason vy I do not mark de price on de goods." Mike
