Straitened Accommodations.

Without knowing the reasons which may exist to make it necessary, the observer of the passenger trains on the R. & D. Railroad finds that while the train carries generally from three to five sleepers, there is but one first-class day passenger coach and one second-class coach, which are to carry all the passengers who do not choose to take a sleeper. The consequence is that there is generally much crowding so that it is impossible with a first-class ticket to procure a first-class ride, and nothing less than a dogged determination to beat down all opposing obstacles and ride at all events could suffice to induce passengers on some occasions to undertake a trip. In cold weather the evil would be less, but with the intense heat of the past two weeks the crowding has been an infliction of peculiar magnitude. We simply undertake to voice the complaints we hear, being sure, however, that one first-class coach will not accommodate in first-class style the heavy travel on the road named. That the crowding in and battling for seats at the various stations on the route should prove detrimental to health and comfort can hardly need to be suggested to the intelligence of those who are concerned.

Camp Meeting.

Mr. Editor:—Will you permit me to say through your excellent paper to all concerned:

Our camp meeting at Muir's Chapel for the current year (1890) will commence the 21st, (Friday before the fourth Sunday in August.) We are looking to the occasion as one of much interest. We extend a cordial invitation to all who may wish to enjoy an old time camp meeting to come and bring others with you. Brethren of the ministry who can favor us with their presence on that occasion, both from our own and adjoining districts are earnestly requested to do so. Our third quarterly meeting for the current year will be held in conjunction with the camp. All conducted by and under the supervision of Rev. S. D. Adams P. E. Let all concerned join the community in prayer to God for his blessings on the occasion. "Come over and help us."

G. W. CALLAHAN, P. C.

Y. M. C. A.

The men's meeting at 3:30 p. m. will be conducted by Mr. Chas. Wharton, a recent graduate of Davidson. Good music. All men are cordially invited to attend.

Centenary Church.

The revival services at Centenary church continue, and quite an interest is maintained. The congregations are large and serious.

The Teacher Drowned.

A New York State man was drowned as a result of cramps, while teaching his young son how to swim. The boy was rescued.

LOST—Somewhere between Randleman and Thomasville, the following books: Methodist Protestant Discipline; Tributes of Praise, hymn book; Oxford Teachers Bible. Any information respecting the above will be thankfully received.

J. N. GARRETT,

Address: Yadkin College. 1 w.

Rare Chance.

We will offer special bargains in Toilet sets and Lamps Monday, Aug. 4th.

Respectfully,

W. F. BOGART,
Receiver of Chichester Bros.

One of the Candidates.

Hon. A. H. A. Williams, the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, spent to-day in the city on his way to Stokes. Outside of politics Capt. Williams is known as a very clever man, and has a certain friendly manner toward all men without distinction—a manner which is natural because it has been with him always, and which never reminds one of the electioneering trick. His hand shake is the same old shake, without any extras, and he very properly omits the gushing inquiry about the wife and children at home. Probably he is the most quiet and unassuming candidate that has been on the boards in over a quarter of a century. However, the Captain knows a thing or two that will set his competitor to hustling, and there will be a lively time all around the district.

A New Stock Company.

GIBSONVILLE, N. C., Aug. 1, 90.

EDITOR WORKMAN:

Dear Sir:—The citizens of Gibsonville and community met to-day at Gibsonville and organized a Stock Co. with B. Davidson President and J. A. Davidson Sec. and Treas., with a capital stock of ten thousand dollars for the purpose of erecting a Patent Roller Flouring Mill at this place. Work will be commenced at once.

J. A. D.

The Railroad Shops.

The question as to removing the consolidated shops of the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company to Charlotte, is practically settled, at last. Charlotte gets the shops.

The deed for the Presbyterian Orphanage tract, over which there has been a hitch, is being signed by the proper parties to-day, preparatory to the final transfer of the tract to the Richmond & Danville Company. The land is located between the Concord public road and the Richmond & Danville tracks, just northeast of the city, and with the adjacent land purchased will make a beautiful and decidedly eligible site for the great shops of this company.

This means the greatest stroke of business ever known in Charlotte's history. It will bring 8,000 people here in a lump, and among them there will be a monthly pay roll of $35,000. Chicago may have the World's Exposition, but Charlotte will take the Richmond & Danville shops in preference every time. Charlotte can well afford to throw up her hat and shout for joy.—Char. News.

The Chimes Last Night.

The Winston Opera Company about thirty-five strong, came down last night as per bills and rendered the "Chimes of Normandy" in Benbow Hall. Fully half of the performers were girls, some of whom were quite good looking and were quite well dressed and had good voices; the same might be said of the male performers, except, of course, none of them were pretty.

The exercises lasted about two hours and a half—too long for a hot summer's night. The Hall was not near full.

We have not learned the receipts, but know they can't be much, if any, in excess of the disbursements.

Dr. Black for the Oxford Asylum.

The Twin-City Daily is striking pretty close to the head of the nail, if it doesn't hit it square, when it suggests the name of Rev. W. S. Black, D. D., of Raleigh, as the successor to Dr. B. F. Dixon in the superintendency of the Orphan Asylum at Oxford.

Delayed Telegram.

The Western Union Telegraph Co. was sued in the Federal Court in Chicago for $25,000. The plaintiff was the wife of a traveling man who had telegraphed that he would be at home at a certain time, but he did not come at the stated time and his wife went into hysterics. She telegraphed to him to know why he did not come. The message was delayed and he did not get it till the next day during which time his wife suffered great agony. Judge Gresham heard the evidence and instructed the jury that while the Company was responsible for the delay, the lady's suffering began before she sent the telegram and she could only recover the price paid for tolls. A verdict for 25 cts was returned.

Why Not?

A prominent citizen shook hands very cordially with THE WORKMAN reporter this morning and said: "I am glad to see that THE WORKMAN is doing well." "Yes, THE WORKMAN is still moving on as in the past, and there is no reason why it should not." The fact is, when the city prospers THE WORKMAN prospers. The two are as nearly parallel as possible. When you go to simple blowing, THE WORKMAN is not there.

A Town Marshal's Peril.

RUTHERFORDTON, N. C., Aug. 1.—While our town marshal was attempting to arrest Greely McDowell, a negro of desperate character, he came very near being killed. McDowell resisted, and attempted to cut the marshal with a razor. McDowell was shot seriously by the marshal, but the wound is not regarded as fatal.

For a short while it looked as if there would be a race war, but all is quiet now, although McDowell and his friends swear that he will kill the marshal on sight.

The marshal in the fight emptied his revolver, and had to run for his life, followed by at least twenty negroes. Some of them are now in jail. Only three negroes were injured severely. Razors and rocks were the only weapons used by the negroes.

[A later telegram says there is no excitement, and nothing serious is apprehended.]—Char. Chronicle.

A Help to Us.

When the Twin-City Daily announces that chickens in large quantities are being shipped from up the line of the Wilkesboro road to Winston, we can begin to see why it is that chickens are becoming cheaper and more abundant in our market. "Hand down another pullet."

Thought to be Sinking.

The News from Mrs. William Hoskins, of Summerfield, who has been so long ill, is more discouraging. The doctors regard her case as hopeless. We gather these facts from an interview with Prof. Frank Blair, and a letter to Mr. C. P. Vanstory from his wife, who is with the patient.

Nine Thousand Acres Under Water.

CAIRO, Egypt, August 1.—Nine thousand acres of rice and cotton land, in the province of Gerbieh have been covered with an inflow of salt water and the growing crops thereon have been destroyed.

New Tobacco.

The Henderson Gold Leaf says that new tobacco is coming in to that market more freely.

THE Democratic Congressional Convention in Salisbury yesterday nominated Hon. John S. Henderson for the first ballot. He received 176 against 123 for Hon. A. Leazer.
