LOST HER PURSE.

A lady who spent sometime in the waiting room at the depot this morning, about the time she rose up to start made the announcement that she had mislaid her purse containing her checks and other valuables. There was a gentleman with her who seemed suitably concerned, but the lady herself was but little excited over her loss; much less than is usual in such cases. She seemed quite much of a philosopher.

It would be interesting to see a list of the persons who have within the period of a year lost their purses, especially had we photographs of their faces showing the expression of the various countenances under the sense of loss. It is not long since that our reporter, soon after a number of ladies had vacated the reception room, saw a gentleman holding in his hand a purse which some lady had in her hurry left on one of the seats. He did not know the owner, but hastened out to the platform inquiring about the matter.

This is one of the cases in which fashion plays a disastrous part—It is not fashionable for ladies to have pockets in their dresses; therefore they hold their purses in their hands—if they have purses—and subject themselves to various inconveniences, and in many cases to the loss of their money. The most that can be said for this fashion is that it is THE FASHION. It ought to be abolished among all people who travel, at least but house-keepers all have need of pockets for their keys, instead of leaving them lying around, or using a basket, which could never equal a pocket.

We have what are called strong-minded women for this, that and the other thing—We want a strong-minded woman to set the pocket fashion for ladies' dresses.

Jubilant Over the Crop.

A gentleman writing to the editor of this paper from Halifax county says that the people are jubilant over the splendid crops now being gathered. He says he never saw better crops than those that are now being harvested there, and lands that were never before known to yield more than half a bale of cotton per acre, will yield this season over a bale per acre. Peanuts, corn, tobacco, and in fact all crops are finer than he has ever seen. This report is occasion of much joy, and well may the people be jubilant.

BULLETS AND BLOOD.

BERMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 2.—A feud which has been brewing for some time near Crosswell, Tyler county, broke out in earnest yesterday. Two prominent families are involved, and many lives will probably be lost before it is ended. Fonzo and Powell Hancock and George Norgher have been gunning for each other for some time. Yesterday morning Fonzo fired two shots at Norgher but missed him. Later in the day Powell Hancock went to Norgher's house and the two men opened fire on each other. At the fourth shot Hancock fell dead. His brother and friends are now hunting Norgher with the intention of shooting him on sight. His friends have also rallied around Norgher, and as the principals are prominent men in their neighborhood and have many friends, a bloody fight is expected.

CURTAIN LECTURES IN COURT.

Quite a scene occurred in Court during a suit for limited divorce in New York last Saturday, before Judge Roger A. Pryor. The woman, a Mrs. Bolland, asked for a separation from her husband on the ground of his neglect and cruelty, which charge he met with the statement that he was unable to get sufficient sleep, owing to his wife's continual scolding. Added to this was the charge that the woman drank a good deal of whiskey and behaved like a maniac. Judge Pryor dismissed the action.

THE ELECTION.

Very great interest is manifested today over the election, which is general in the country. Both of the two great parties will do their best today, but from present indications there will be a number of surprises; it will be surprising if there are not.

TO VOTE HIS FIRST TIME.

Mr. Victor M. Hanner, who connected himself recently with the DAILY WORKMAN office, has gone to Ore Hill today to cast his first vote, he having just reached his majority.

Revival at Mount Airy.

It is learned from a gentleman just from Mount Airy that there is a decided revival going on in both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of that town, and that the meetings are of much promise.

GONE TO VOTE.

Capt. James W. Dook was an earnest passenger on the Salem Branch this morning, and said he was going to his precinct, Friendship, to cast a vote to save his country again.

MAKE EVERYTHING.

While speaking of the various new industries springing up in our sister town High Point, the Enterprise adds:

If we keep on we will make everything used by man; we build our houses, make our cotton goods, mattresses, spokes and handles, canned goods, the chairs we sit on, the mattresses we lie on, the tobacco we chew and smoke, the bedsteads, wardrobes, bureaus, etc., we use in our houses, the stoves we warm by, the tables we write on, and other things too numerous to mention. Keep the ball rolling and let us see a $100,000 cotton factory and a large wagon and buggy factory.

The Christian Worker.

This is the name of a neat and handsome, well edited weekly paper, published at the town of Rand emanating and edited by Rev. Walter P. Brooks. The first number is calculated to make a good impression. The paper is well printed by Mr. W. C. Phillips, of New Salem. It is a 6 column sheet and the subscription price is $1.00 a year.

Unable to Work.

The editor has been absent from his office for some days—Friday, Saturday and yesterday, and only came down to-day because it seemed unavoidable. The trouble has not been serious, but has been sufficient to detain him at home. He hopes to be able to do full duty in a few days.

La Grange Spectator.

This is a neat, clean and newsy weekly paper, four pages and 7 columns to the page—an enlargement, which we trust that the times and the volume of business in that section will justify. Messrs. Paris and Shaw, the editors and proprietors, have our very best wishes for their success.

The Sabbath Day in Charlotte.

The people of Charlotte have just held a large and enthusiastic meeting for the purpose of protesting against opening the Columbian Exposition on Sunday, and a number of addresses were made by prominent citizens, such as the Mayor of the city, lawyers and clergymen. A clear and able petition was presented and discussed.

One of the speakers, Rev. Mr. Todd of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, said, "it seemed very inconsistent to him to be petitioning people a thousand miles away on the observance of the Sabbath, when right here in our midst the drug stores were open on Sunday selling cigars as well as medicines." After Mr. Todd's address the meeting was closed. This from the Charlotte Chronicle.

Disensions Among Labor Union Men.

Boston, Nov. 9.—At a meeting of the Central Labor Union yesterday much excitement was created by Delegate Crowley, of the Operative Tailors' Union, who charged that two labor leaders of Boston had obtained large sums of money from clothing manufacturers for starting an agitation against the Boston tenement house system. Crowley declined to give the names, but said while he had no doubt of the guilt of the men he would not give their names.

Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, speaking before a company of railroad men, gave the following pointed testimony: "Twenty-five years ago I knew every man, woman, and child in Peekskill. And it has been a study with me to mark boys who started out in every grade of life with myself, to see what has become of them. I was up last fall and began to count them over, and it was an instructive exhibit. Some of them became clerks, merchants, manufacturers, lawyers, doctors. It is remarkable that every one of those that drank is dead; not one living of my age barring a few that were taken off by sickness, every one who proved a wreck and wrecked his family did it from rum, and no other cause."
