TIGHT REINING.

It has been a cause for sincere congratulation to all who are interested in the prevention of cruelty to animals that the fashion which so long prevailed of reining up tightly the heads of horses attached to carriages of driving cars, is now passing away in all the larger communities of this country, and it is only a question of time for the same desirable condition of things to be introduced into this city, where unfortunately the opposite still obtains only too generally.

It would be difficult to imagine a more exquisite form of torture for a brute animal than that produced by the over-check or Jackson strap, which keeps the horse's head in a continuously strained position, for which there is no relief even in the lateral movements, in which a horse so treated is always seen to indulge when brought to a stand-still. Such an instrument of inflicting pain upon helpless beasts should be positively prohibited by law as opposed to every instinct of mercy and kindness.

Not only is tight reining to be condemned as an act of serious cruelty but it is also open to objection from the point of view of mere appearance. It undoubtedly renders the arched neck, so imposing in a handsome horse left to entire freedom of bearing, an impossibility, substituting in its stead a stiffness which is both unnatural and ungraceful.

It is a pleasure to observe that many among our wealthiest and most fashionable citizens are setting the fashion in opposition to the use of the tight rein bridle and the over-check.—Richmond Times.

SHE SOON FOLLOWED.

Mr Will Rankin, who came in this morning from Benaja, announced the fact that little Hazel, the only child of Capt Alec Rankin, had breathed her last at about 1:10 a m of this date. Had she lived until Jan 10th 1891, she would have completed her 3rd year. Her mother, Mrs Bell Reese Rankin, died on the 14th of last Dec. and little Hazel did not tarry long behind her. She has gone to be with her mother where there is no more sin, and where

"Sickness and sorrow, pain and death
Are felt and feared no more."

The funeral will be preached in the M E Church, South, at Jamestown, tomorrow at 11 o'clock, the burial to be at Deep River, at 1 o'clock.

RANDELMAN ITEMS.

Our Randleman correspondent sends us the following fresh items.

Rev W. P Brooks has raised nearly $1,000 to build a tabernacle at Randleman.

The firm of Hayes and Adrich, Randleman, have assigned.

The merchants at Randleman and New Salem speak of forming a combine to run on the cash system.

The religious feeling, set in motion by the Fife meeting, does not seem to abate, but rather increase

It is said the Randolph Herald is to be revived.

New Salem Academy, Presided over by Prof. Jno W Wilborn, doing right well at present.

WC PHILLIPS.

LOOK SHARP.

To the long list of recent accidents in handling that docile animal and friend of man, the horse, must now be added the fact, that Hon C C Clark, of New Bern was thrown from his buggy on Thanks giving Day, and injured seriously.

WHERE OUR TURKEY CAME FROM.

The editor was in some doubt for a time as to who sent him his Thanksgiving Turkey. He suspected Dr. A. Y Linville, of Salem, but was not entirely certain. The next day, however, a note came from Dr Linville, stating that the turkey had been sent for the editor's Thanksgiving dinner, and—but this is the unlucky part—asking that a particular friend of his in this city should be invited to partake of the dinner. When the note reached us the turkey had already been caught. The note was mailed at Salem Nov. 26th, and reached here Nov. 27th, at 9 o'clock p. m. The plans were laid right, but the Post Office department failed. It was one of the finest turkeys seen at the editor's home.

QUAKER STOCK.

Mr. Phenix, traveling agent of the Manufacturers Record, who passed through here this morning, inquired if any one here knew of Aaron Gardner, who went from this county to Indiana over fifty years ago, adding—"He was my grandfather". The WORKMAN reporter informed Mr. Phenix that he knew Sylvanus (Venus) Gardner, who was a very old man in 1838, near which date he died, and the conclusion was that Aaron and Sylvanus were probably brothers. Mr Phenix is anxious to get as much information about his grandfathers "folks" as possible, and we ask Dr. Nerens Mendenhall to get up what genealogical facts may be in his register. Mr. Phenix will call again.

MARCHED INTO CAMP.

Policeman Weatherly was seen this morning, on South Elm Street, having in custody and marching close to his side a black boy, apparently seventeen years of age, who was alleged to have struck a man in South Greensboro, yesterday. There was an appearance of social equality as the two marched along together, but it was more apparent than real, as when the two reached the lock up, the unfortunate offender was put in prison to await trial, while Mr. Weatherly would be hunting around for other game.

RELICS OF THE OLDEN TIME.

Mr. Thos. E. Cook, of Friendship, this county, has quite a fancy for the things which have come down from antiquity. He has a shovel and tongs, made by his grand-father, Isaac Cook something like a hundred years ago. The shovel has been worn off and restored, but the tongs are as good as ever. Mr. Cook says they perform most admirably—never pinch your fingers, and will take up and hold the smallest bodies with ease to the operator.

Mr. Cook also has some of the plows that were in vogue when he was a boy, and he has had them laid up, that his sons may be able to appreciate the advantage in the modern implements of husbandry. This is a good idea.

DEATH OF MRS PARRISH.

Mr Nancy Parrish, a daughter of the late Elijah Chilcutt, a widow of about 75 years of age, died at her home near Fair Grove church, of which she had been a life-long member, on Monday last, and on yesterday her funeral, conducted by her pastor, Rev R H Wills, took place at Fair Grove.

OPOSSUM SUPPLY.

A cage of 16 opossums was shipped by express to Winston this morning. They were from some point to the South of Greensboro, and were marked to D S Reid.

THE TWO GIRL RUNAWAYS.

Announcement was made some time ago that two young girls from Winston, Misses Wellons and Crumpler, had absconded and gone North, and their whereabouts was a mystery—Last night they came through here on their way home, in charge of Mr. Pfohl, a detective, who reports that he found the girls in Covington, Ky. The detective says that in following the trail he found that they had invariably put up at first class hotels, and had in no particular compromised their character, as some had intimated. They had gone to New York and other places in the north, thence to Covington, where they were overtaken. One of the girls possessed two or three hundred dollars in money, and this supplied the two with the "sinews of war." They had an experience, no doubt, and if not wiser than when they went away, they alone are to blame.

NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH.

A catholic church was dedicated at Winston, on Sunday last, by Bishop Haid, assisted by Rev. F. Francis of this city. The church is a neat one, and the Twin City Daily says the funds for its erection were contributed by a few zealous Catholics and friends.

NEW ORGANIZATION.

The employes of the Crown Cotton Mills and others in the vicinity have organized a Laboring Men's Christian Association, which they hope to make useful. It was gotten up by unconverted men, who are anxious to make a success of the movement. Their meetings are to be on Friday nights at 7:30 o'clock. They ought to have help.

OUR FAVORABLE CLIMATE.

Friend Alfred Coffin, who went from this county to Indiana to live, has come to Guilford College, where he will spend sixty days with a view of escaping the rigors of the Indiana winter.

NEW IMPROVEMENT Co.

The Granite City Land and Improvement Co. was organized at Mt Airy one week ago. All the officers were elected save that of President.

WANTS A STREET SPRINKLER.

The Twin City Daily has been wishing most earnestly for a street sprinkler, and from the looks of the clouds it is likely that the wish will be gratified in a reasonable time.

MOUNT PLEASANT MARRIAGE.

Mr Samuel Amick and Miss Mary Ephland, near Mount Pleasant, Guilford county, were married on the 30th November, A G Amick, J P officiating; all of Guilford.

AN EPIDEMIC.

It looks very much as if there was an epidemic of running away among horses when we read accounts of such things in the newspapers of the country. Such things often happen in the large cities.

W. C. T. U.

There will be an important meeting of the local W. C. T. U., Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at headquarters. Members are urged to be present and prompt.

Headache, indigestion, and all disorders of the Liver, Stomach and Liver B23 for pleasurable cures.
