I am Here marking down the prices and rearranging the entire stock meet me Here and you will be face to face with this Section's Biggest Bargain Event

To The Public

My business here is to sell this stock in the shortest possible time. To do this I am going to give you what I have given to thousands of other people; namely BARGAINS. I'll make your pocketbook dance with joy when you meet these massed bargains face to face. My prices are below anything you ever dared anticipate. Dependable quality merchandise at prices lower than factory cost today. I mean exactly what I say. You cannot afford to miss it, for it will be the biggest BARGAIN FEAST of your lifetime. Cold-blooded price cutting is my greatest delight.

C. W. THIEL,
The Man in Charge.

The Merchant Says

—You all know us. You know that in the years we have been in the business we have played a square game with you. You are the people who have patronized us, and in selling this entire stock, we still intend to play that square game with you, our friends and customers.

We know that to close out this entire stock it will be necessary to sell this merchandise far below any and every merchant in this section of North Carolina. We know we have got to take a loss—but our loss will be a gift to you people who have stood by us when we needed you, and we are going to cut loose. We are going to put this stock out at prices so low that you will remember these bargains long after the goods are worn out by hard wear.

The bargain is down. We are out in the open with the statement that we are going to move this stock as if on rollers.
