LONG'S DAIRY

Why Chiropractic Relieves Illness

A Chiropractic adjustment does not endeavor to give relief of a temporary nature. It starts in at the base of the trouble—the spine—and by adjustment, scientifically applied, releases nerve pressure, thus allowing the afflicted parts to function normally and cure themselves. As long as the nerve pressure is present, just so long will the affected part be unhealthy, because the cause of the trouble has not been removed. Let me give you a thorough examination. I will tell you truthfully just what I can do to aid your body in curing itself.

The Fine Orchard
Of Mr. Bolling Hall

THE HALL ORCHARD AT SAUNOOK—2,200 YOUNG TREES OF SELECT VARIETIES.

Very few of the travellers on the Murphy branch of the Southern Railroad know or ever are led to suspect that when the train stops at Saunook that it stops at the gate of one of the most interesting of the younger apple orchards in Haywood county. Such, however, is the fact, but there is nothing in sight to catch the traveller's eye and proclaim it to the world. In due time, no doubt, all that will be attended to.

Bolling Hall who is the owner of the orchard needs no introduction to the readers of the Mountaineer. For years his name has been a familiar one to practically all residents of the county who take any interest in commercial fruit growing. No one has been more active than he in all efforts to promote the interests of the fruit growing industry in the county.

Fifty-five acres are included in the boundary owned by Mr. Hall up at Saunook. Of these fifty-five acres forty-five are planted with apple trees.

Mr. Hall began the planting some 10 or 12 years ago and now has 2,200 trees growing on this tract of land. The average age of the greater number of these trees, Mr. Hall says, is nine years. The youngest trees on the farm are 100 Golden Delicious planted near the gate at Saunook this spring. In due time the golden fruit in the autumn time will arrest the eye of many a traveller on the Murphy Branch.

Mr. Hall has a few Golden Delicious trees of bearing age and the apples these trees have borne have uniformly proven of such high quality as to convince him that the soil and other conditions up there are just right to produce apples of the highest grade of that highly prized variety.

The remainder of the 2,200 apple trees in Mr. Hall's orchard are distributed among varieties approximately as follows: 500 Rome Beauty, 500 Red Wine Sap, 500 Staymen's Wine Sap, 250 Delicious, 100 Newtown Pippin and the remainder among a dozen or more varieties for specimen and trial purposes.

Also around on the farm are found a few cherry, peach and pear trees of several different varieties.

Also an acre of raspberries about equally divided between the St. Regis and the Cuthbert varieties. The former Mr. Hall says, ripens about two weeks earlier than the latter, but the Cuthbert is the heavier producer. The St. Regis is interesting as well as valuable because of its production of a light crop in the fall.

A considerable number of certain varieties of apple trees were found bearing unsatisfactory fruit. Mr. Hall, assisted by John Rhinehart of the Saunook neighborhood a month or more ago top-worked those trees. Together they set 1800 scions, 1700 of which are Rome Beauty. They set them by what is known as the Coghurn method. That is instead of splitting the stock the opening is made by using a thin saw. This method appears to be proving far more satisfactory than the old practice of splitting. The reasons for it seem quite obvious.

Mr. Hall reports that he has found less than a half dozen of the 1800 scions set had failed to make a good start growing. The failures, he observed were due to some accident or injury from insects eating into the buds, mostly to the latter. Such good results may be taken as evidence that Mr. Hall and Mr. Rhinehart are expert grafters of apple trees. It is to be hoped they will never be proven expert grafters in another sense, the sense in regard to which we hear so much complaint.

A representative of the Mountaineer recently paid a visit to this orchard and was very cordially received and shown around by Mr. Hall. One thing observed is that though well up on the mountain side there are very few rough steep spots on this tract of land and is much easier to work over than many other orchard sites not far distant.

Also another thing observed was the pruning and training of the trees. It is easy to see that Mr. Hall exercises restraint in pruning. He, as many another orchardist, has learned the advantage of early begun and intelligently directed pruning and training.

Taken all in all Mr. Hall's orchard at Saunook is well worth a visit from any fruit grower, interested in observing good orchard methods and management.

DELLWOOD NEWS.

The land sale of the Manse McCracken property was a great success. Dinner was served on the ground and the Waynesville band made things snappy by playing all day. Miss Effie Howell drew the free lot. The other 37 lots brought good prices from enthusiastic bidders, often re-selling at a profit. John Swift of Waynesville, Will Owen, Frank

Campbell, Albert Howell, Will Smith, Bob Gibson, Bob Grasty, Glenn Cagle and many other good people were the purchasers, most of whom expect to build cosy bungalows. Thirty-seven new homes will be quite an addition to Dellwood, but you can't keep a good town down.

The pie supper for the Methodist parsonage proved a joyous and profitable occasion. The pie made by the Rev. Mr. Crist bringing quite a fancy price, being "some pie." Miss Fannie Campbell was highest bidder.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell now of Canton visited Dellwood Sunday. Henry Cambell and children of Asheville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell.

The Baptist Missionary Society met at Mrs. Amos Moody's Saturday. Mrs. Dave Platt made a most interesting talk on the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and Mrs. Lee Setzer spoke of the history of the Seminary before it was moved to Louisville. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

THE LESSON OF LIFE.

I have just been learning the lesson of life,
The sad, sad lesson of loving,
And all of its power for pleasure or pain
Been slowly and sadly proving;
And all that is left of the bright, bright dream,
With its thousand brilliant phases,
Is a handful of dust in a coffin hid—
A coffin under the daises,
The beautiful, beautiful daises,
The snowy, snowy daises.
And thus forever throughout the world
Is love a sorrow proving;
There's many a sad, sad thing in life
But the saddest of all is loving.
Love often divides far greater than death,

Stern fortune the high wall raises,
But better far than two hearts estranged
Is a low grave starred with daises,
The beautiful, beautiful daises,
The snowy, snowy daises.
And so I am glad that we lived as we did,
Through the summer of love together,
And that one of us tired and laid down to rest
Ere the coming of winter weather—
For the sadness of love is love's growing cold,
And 'tis one of love's surest phases,
So I bless my God with a breaking heart
For that grave enstarred with daises,
The beautiful, beautiful daises,
The snowy, snowy daises.

Building Time Is The Right Time
To Consult Hyatt & Company

IT PAYS TO PLAN

No matter how small the building you may be intending to erect, will save you money in the end to have a complete plan before you start. It is essential, too, that you know the exact cost in order that it be the means of saving you many dollars in whatever you buy and also aid you in choosing the best materials for the purpose which you desire. Certain kinds of Lumber are best for outdoor use, other kinds are best for indoors. Brick and cement both have their use, but they cannot be used interchangeably for all purposes. We are ever ready to advise.

GOOD LATHING IS IMPORTANT

Lath are put on the walls to hold the plaster and if they are to hold it properly and furnish a smooth base upon which to spread the plaster they must be selected with care.— See us.

THE LUMBER TO BUY

Why bother with poor Lumber when you can get good Lumber from us at about the same price? The time saved in working it up more than makes up the difference.

ONE ROOF IS ENOUGH

Reroofing a building is not only expensive, but it is a mussy job. Our Ready-to-Lay Roofing will last for years, so the first cost is really the last.

REPAIR AND PAINT

Winter with its alternate freezing and thawing hunts out the weak spots in buildings. Spring is the time to repair the mbefore more damage is done. Let us furnish the materials
