SUCCESS.

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men, and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction.—Elizabeth A. Stanley.

McDowell-Elmore Wedding

(From Last Week)

The outstanding social event of the summer season was the marriage of Miss Isabella Wadley McDowell to Mr. Kelley Lee Elmore of Lowell, which was solemnized at the Methodist church at eight o'clock last evening, Rev. J. T. Mangum, pastor of the church, officiating using the impressive ring ceremony.

The wedding vows were spoken before an improvised altar of evergreens and clematis. The chancel and choir loft were decorated with baskets of gladioli and hydrangeas and lighted by candelabra placed on white pedestals. Prior to the ceremony Mrs. W. Lee Matney played Schubert's Serenade, and Berceuse from Josselyn Mrs. James W. Reed sang "All for You" by D'Hardelot and Mrs. A. B. Hartsfield of West Palm Beach, "My World" by Geehl. At the first strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the ushers, Mr. Ernest Withers and Mr. Roy Francis, entered and took their places in the chancel.

Then came the bridesmaids, Miss Edna Elmore, sister of the groom, and Miss Vera Ward. They wore charming dresses of delicate pink French georgette with silver accessories and carried arm bouquets of gladioli and asters tied with green tulle.

The groomsmen, Mr. Charles Bundy, of Monroe and Mr. Robert James of Wilmington, entered and were followed by Miss Anna Gordon McDowell, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Gordon Starkey of Canton, who wore georgette in deeper shade of pink. They also carried bouquets of gladioli.

Mr. Hugh Rhyne of Dallas and Mr. Elbert Ivey of Hickory, groomsmen, were followed by the dame of honor, Mrs. Arthur Mackie of Jersey City. She wore her wedding gown of ivory crepe back satin with trimmings of Chantilly lace and seed pearls. Her bouquet was of deep coral gladioli tied with silver ribbon.

Miss Josselyn McDowell, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a handsome imported French "Mirror" dress of delicate coral crepe Romaine beaded in crystal and trimmed with tiny mirrors. She carried a sheaf of pink gladioli.

Little Miss Louise Gordon Duff of Beaumont, Texas, wearing a dainty frock of dawn pink crepe de chine with knife plaited panels and trimmings of French rose-buds and lace, carried the ring in the heart of a rose.

The groom with his best man, Mr. Cecil Coonwell, of Gastonia, entered from the vestry. Immediately preceding the bride were two lovely little flower girls who scattered rose petals from graceful baskets. They made a pretty picture in their crepe de chine dresses of roseate hue.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, Dr. Charles H. McDowell, by whom she was given in marriage. She was lovely in her bridal gown, an imported French model of white chiffon georgette with exquisitely wrought design of frosted crystal beads. Her veil was of snowy chiffon banded in real lace and arranged from a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her ornament was a platinum and diamond bar pin. The bridal gift of the groom was a platinum watch. During the ceremony "To a Wild Rose" was softly played and following the prayer "O Perfect Love" was sung by Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Hartsfield.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McDowell in East Waynesville.

Receiving on the porch were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Withers, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Francis, in the hall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quinlan, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reed, Dr. and Mrs. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore and the bridal party received the guests in the living room. In the library where the gifts were displayed, Mrs. Clinton Terry Duff, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert G. Stone, Mrs. Rufus L. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Garrison and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Garrett formed a second receiving line. Mrs. Harry Rotha and Mrs. Lowry Hardin presided in the dining room and were assisted by Misses Isabel Ferguson, Elizabeth Quinlan, Alice Harrold and Mary Stringfield.

The bride's table was very attractive with its decoration of clematis and lighted candles. The center of attraction was the three-tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom.

The punch table was placed on the porch and was presided over by Misses Janet Quinlan, Lois Harrold, Sug Willard Linsley and Mildred Crawford.

Mrs. Elmore, who is the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Harper McDowell, is a charming, vivacious brunette and is one of the popular young women of Waynesville. She was valedictorian of her class 1917 of the high school here and was graduated with high honors in 1921 from the North Carolina College for Women. Since that time has been teaching Spanish and French in the high schools of Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Statesville.

Mr. Elmore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elmore of Lowell, and is connected with the research department of Duke University from which institution he was graduated in class 1922.

On her maternal side the bride is the great-grand-niece of William Wadley who built the Georgia Central Railroad and who was its president for many years. Her grandfather was Herbert E. Joselyn, one of a distinguished New England family who are noted for their literary and artistic ability. A cousin, Arthur Josselyn, of Boston and Providence, is a musician and composer of note.

On her paternal side she is descended from Gen. Lenoir of North Carolina, an officer of Revolutionary fame and General Charles McDowell of Quaker Meadows, who was the highest ranking officer of North Carolina troops at the battle of King's Mountain. She is the great-grand-niece of Anna Ballard Gordon, whose father, Major Charles Gordon, was the uncle of Governor and Senator John B. Gordon of Georgia.

The wedding is the culmination of a romance which began at Harvard Summer school which they both attended in 1923.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore left late in the evening for a honeymoon trip to New York, Washington, Boston, and other northern points.

For traveling Mrs. Elmore wore an imported gown of black flat crepe with panel of dull gold chiffon brocaded in pencil blue velvet; with this she wore a black vogue hat and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore will be at home to their friends after September fifth, at 602 Buchanan Avenue, Durham.

ROBESON-SNEED.

From Freedom (Pa.) Press.

A pretty home wedding of note in the valley took place at "Restview," West End, Freedom, the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Snead at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, August 12th, when their daughter, Miss Marian Lenoire Snead, became the bride of Carl Norwood Robeson of Pittsburgh, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Robeson of Waynesville, N. C.

Rev. R. A. Griffiths, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Freedom, read the ceremony, before an altar of pink roses, ferns and palms. Mrs. Fred C. Held of Pittsburgh, well known pianist and an aunt of the bride played the wedding march. Donald Snead of Beaver, a brother of the bride, sang a tenor solo, "O Promise Me."

The bride had as her maid of honor Miss Hilda Byer of Buffalo, N. Y., who was a classmate at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh and her flower girl was little Miss Patty Snead, a niece of the bride. Larry Kitcher of Pittsburgh, a classmate of Mr. Robeson, served as best man. The father of the bride gave her in marriage. The bridal costume was of white satin, beautifully embroidered in tiny pearls. Her veil of white tulle was caught by a band of pearls to form cap style. She carried a bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley showered with forget me-nots. Miss Beyer wore a gown of yellow georgette with picture hat to match, her flowers were yellow tea roses and delphiniums. Little Miss Patty wore a frock of pink silk, and white net and carried a basket of pink roses. Mrs. Held wore dark blue georgette, and Mrs. Snead, the mother of the bride, dark blue crepe.

A reception for 40 relatives of the bride and groom was held in the home immediately after the ceremony. A buffet supper was served. The home was attractive in its decorations of ferns palms, laces and candles.

The bride is a charming and popular member of the younger set of the Valley town, being a musician of note. She attended Carnegie Tech. School of Design, during 1922-23. Graduated in the department of music and art of Beaver College 1924, is a member of the Iota Delta sorority. For the past year she has been special teacher of music and art in the

Mr. Robeson attended Emory University (Ga.) is a graduate of Carnegie Tech, class of 1921, college of Arts, a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Tau Sigma Delta, honorary fraternity. He is an illustrator, having located during the past year in Pittsburgh with an office in the Century building. Mr. and Mrs. Robeson will be at home after September 1st on Madison street, Rochester, Pa.

MRS. JOLLEY GIVES BRIDGE.

Mrs. Hugh Jolley entertained at bridge Monday afternoon in compliment to her sisters, Mrs. George Mebane of Asheville and Mrs. Fred Carey, of Hartford, Conn.

Six tables were arranged in the hall and living room of the Moody home where Mrs. Jolley is visiting. Gold and white predominated in the house decorations of dahlias, marigolds and zinnias. The guests of honor received hand embroidered pillow cases. The high score prize, linen handkerchiefs, went to Mrs. Coyn and the consolation, a Madeira tray cover, to Mrs. Clarence Miller. Mrs. Jolley served a salad and an ice course.

Those playing were Mesdames Carey, Mebane, Withers, Rotha, Joe Graves, Coyn, Henry Morris, Gerald West of Marietta, Ga., Covington, Reeves, R. Arnold, Roy Francis, Ben Sleeper of Waco, Walter Coble of Orlando, de Neergaard, Rufus Siler, W. H. Clark, Burwell of Henderson, Miller, Misses Ella Smathers, Campbell, Josephine Thomas, Evelyn Lee, New. Ten guests were Mrs. J. W. Reed, Mrs. J. R. Thomas and Mrs. Cleveland Platt

BRIDGE DINNER

Last Saturday evening Mrs. Fred Carey gave a bridge dinner for a dozen of her closest friends. A lovely four course dinner was served up for bridge. Mrs. Robert Coyn, who held high score among the ladies, received a bridge set and Mrs. Walter Dungan top scorer of the men was a cigarette case. Mrs. Carey's guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Dungan, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Izenhour, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Siler, Mr. and Mrs. Coyn, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jolley, Mrs. Gerald West and Mrs. George Mebane.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR GUEST.

Last Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gaddy gave a birthday party for their guest, Miss Irene Gaddy of Alken, to which about forty young people were invited. Cream cake and candies were served.

"A LITTLE BIT OF BROADWAY."

The presentation of "A Little Bit of Broadway" on last Friday night was enthusiastically received by a large audience. Everyone who witnessed the entertainment was lavish with his praise both for the local and visiting talent. The services of the Gordon Hotel Orchestra were given complimentary to the Woman's Club.

The Misses-Burkheimer are experts in teaching and training children in this art. They cannot be praised too highly for the splendid results obtained especially in such a short time as shown "In a Little Bit of Broadway." Nothing like it, or as good, has been seen in Waynesville in a long time. The costumes were unusually good; the acting splendid; the singing excellent; the dancing and drills very artistically rendered. The whole entertainment from beginning to end was a scene of action, humor and suspense and kept the audience enraptured from first until last.

Although very little was realized in a financial way, the Woman's Club receiving $80.00 and the Misses ex the same, it is hoped that Waynesville will again have the pleasure of a visit from the Misses Burkheimer at an early date.
