CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY.

Misses Virginia Sherrill and Mary Nell Miller entertained a number of their young friends at the home of Mrs. Carey Sherrill on North Main last Thursday afternoon from four to six in celebration of their twelfth birthdays.

The centerpiece of the table was a white birthday cake with twelve pink candles in rosebud holders. Late in the afternoon an ice course was served.

The young hostesses were the recipients of many lovely gifts. About twenty-five of their friends were invited to the party.

BARBER REUNION.

This Letter and the Will of Dr. Luke Barber Was the Opening Feature of the Barber Reunion.

The Mocksville Enterprise, Aug. 26, 1925.

Phillip Calvert, Esq.

Concerning Dr. Luke Barber.

"If Mr. Hatton had a grant of 1000 acres of land at Chaptico, that cannot now be recalled, as I understand he had there. I pray take order that Mr. Luke Barber also have 1300 acres formerly desired by him there, and whereas he now brings (as he tells me) 14 or 15 servants at least which wants but few of 20 persons requisite for a manor of 1000 acres, I have promised him that he shall have as much time for the bringing in thither of so many more persons as to make them 20 in all as Capt. Lilyham hath to bring in his 20 persons thither by my warrant for granting of 1000 acres to him, and that in the meantime, Mr. Barber shall have 1000 acres granted to him there and erected into a manor (as Capt. Tilgham hath) in consideration of his said 20 persons, part thereof are now carried and the rest to be hereafter carried by Mr. Barber, as and which I pray tell the Governor from me, I would have done accordingly and so I rest.

Your most affectionate brother,
 C. Baltimore.

London the 22nd of Aug. 1658.

There is a note in Bozman's history of Maryland, and also in the Maryland Archives, saying that the Manor was erected on the Wicomico River near Capico, and called "Mitcham Hill."

Dr. Barber was evidently a man of considerable ability. He was a personal friend of Lord Baltimore. He seemed to have much influence with Cromwell and was probably "a surgeon in his army and a physician in his household". Dr. Barber is mentioned in "Medical Annals" and is frequently mentioned in Bozman's history of Maryland. He was Deputy Lieut. in 1657 (Archives of Md. pp. 331-23 was made Lieut. Gov. of the Colony in 1656 (Dr. Allen's Maryland State Papers) "Dr. Luke Barber was commissioned by Gov. Stone to carry a proclamation to the people of Ann Arundell," "A zealous friend of Lord Baltimore." "Was particularly well known to the Lord Protector himself." "A member of the Governor's council" (Bozman's history, Vol. 2, p. 521.) We have abstracts of the wills establishing the facts, the line of descent from Dr. Luke Barber, the emigrant of 1656. He was a distinguished member of Lord Baltimore's colony—see copy of Lord Baltimore's letter directing the grant of 1300 acres of land to Dr. Luke Barber, London, England, Aug. 22nd, 1658.

Your most affectionate brother,
 E. Baltimore.

The abstracts of these wills are taken from Maryland calendar of wills dated July 31st, 1664—Probated Jan. 4th, 1674.—We have the wills of seven generations in succession i. e. Dr. Luke Barber, Edward 1st, Edward 2nd, Luke 2nd, Elias, William, Jacob Franklin Barber, my fathers, we are indebted to Rev. Robert Bruce Owens of Charlotte, N. C., for this Barber history. He too is a lineal descendant of Dr. Luke Barber. For years past he dived down and dug deep to get this correct history.

Lina Barber Clement
 (Mrs. B. C. Clement, Cr.)

Rev. Robert Bruce Owens, rector of the church of the Holy Comforter, and Mrs. Merryman Davis, both of Charlotte, are lineal descendants of the two brothers who were emigrated to Rowan county from St. Mary's county, Maryland, in 1794. Barber Junction, near the home of one of the original settlers, is named after a descendant, W. P. Barber, who still owns the old home place of Jonathan Barber and land around the Junction.

The ancestors of Elias and Jonathan Barber came originally from Yorkshire, England, with Lord Baltimore's colony in 1655, the original emigrant being Dr. Luke Barber, once lieutenant governor of Maryland and whose nanor was called Mitcham Hills. The Rowan county Barbers have multiplied, usually raising large families, until their descendants are numbered by the thousands.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given, that an application for pardon will be made to the Governor for the pardon of Ed Palmer, convicted in the Superior Court of Haywood county at July Term, 1924, for an assault with a deadly weapon, and other charges. All persons opposing said pardon are requested to forward their protests to the Governor. This Sept. 8th, 1925.

 Atty. Gen. Ed Palmer.
