This Pretty Matron Had Headache and Backache, and Her Condition Was Serious.

PE-RU-NA CURED.

MRS. M. BRICKNER.

99 Eleventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
"A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headaches, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that the diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Dog Announces Crossings.

A blind man and a spaniel dog leading him with the aid of chain furnished a curious sight on Chestnut street the other day. Pedestrians looked on in amazement and many followed the blind man and his friend to see if anything curious would happen when they reached a street crossing. Strange enough, the dog barked when the curbstone was reached and in that way informed the blind man that he should be careful and step down.—Philadelphia Press.

The Sensation in Her Knees.

The magazine short story is too of ten pointless. This is not the case with a tale called "Hickory Dock," by Eleanor A. Hallowell, appearing in the June Lippincott. It is a love-story not unconnected with a clock, as the title indicates, and it passes the reader through some very charming emotions to a happy climax.

BABY CAME NEAR DYING

From an Awful Skin Horror—Scatched Till Blood Ran—Wasted to a Skeleton—Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

"When three months old my boy broke out with an itching, watery rash all over his body, and he would scratch till the blood ran. We tried nearly everything, but he grew worse, wasting to a skeleton, and we feared he would die. He slept only when in our arms. The first application of Cuticura soothed him so that he slept in his cradle for the first time in many weeks. One set of Cuticura made a complete and permanent cure. (Signed) Mrs. M. C. BARON ROTHSCHILD DEAD

Passions of One of the World's Most Famous Financiers

WAS A FOUNDER OF CHARITIES

Eminent Financier Who Financed the Billion Dollar Indemnity France Paid to Germany and Who Was the Leading Spirit of the Rothschilds in Their Relations With European Governments Succumbs to Acute Bronchitis, Aged 78.

Paris, By Cable.—Baron Alphonse de Rothschild, head of the French branch of the banking house bearing the name of Rothschild and governor of the Bank of France, died at 4:30 Saturday morning from acute bronchitis aggravated by gout. The eminent financier has been sinking slowly for many days, but there was no apprehension that his death was imminent.

He passed away peacefully surrounded by his family. The announcement of the baron's death caused widespread regret, for besides his position in the financial world, Baron Alphonse was known for his lavish charities, one of the latest being the gift of $2,000,000 for the erection of workmen's homes.

The deceased who was born in 1827, will be succeeded as the head of the Paris banking house by Baron Lambert de Rothschild, of Brussels, whose business capacity has earned him a world-wide reputation.

The burial of Baron Alphonse will be most simple, according to the strict rule of the Rothschild family, including a plain coffin without mourning tributes. The funeral, the date of which has not been fixed, will be the occasion of a notable tribute of respect.

A member of a Franco-American banking house said: "Baron Alphonse was the leading spirit of the Rothschilds in their relation with practically all the governments of Europe. Besides the colossal task of financing the indemnity which France paid to Germany after the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71, he carried on relations with other governments. In Italy these included both government and Vatican finances. The house has also had considerable dealings with American securities through the Belmonts, J. Pierpont Morgan and John W. Gates, including Louisville & Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line transactions, and also has extensive interests in mines in California."

Baron Alphonse leaves two children, Baron Edouard and Baroness Beatrix. He has two surviving brothers, Baron Gustav and Baron Edmond.

Speech by Judge Parker.

Chicago, Special.—Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, addressed the Illinois State Bar Association at the Chicago Beach Hotel on "The Lawyer in Public Affairs."

Judge Parker was greeted by hearty applause as he arose to speak. After returning thanks for the cordiality of his reception, he said in part:

In studying, however casually, or with whatever care, the modern development of the law, and the scope of the men who follow it as a profession, it is impossible to escape from a knowledge of the close relation which the latter bear, almost as a direct result of their professional life, to our politics. It is seen all along the line of public effort whether in village, town, city, county, State or nation. Its existence, therefore, cannot be overlooked nor can its importance as a feature in the history and development of the law, or of politics be exaggerated. It is not a new tendency, having manifested itself even in our earliest days when, owing to the simplicity of conditions, the need for the lawyer and the recognition of his place in our social fabric became only slowly apparent. Yet, it is a tendency which has grown with the growth of the country and with the enlarged facilities for the study of politics and also with the added dignity of the legal profession itself.

In the earlier days in the history of the thirteen colonies, the questions discussed were those relating to rights, then popularly denominated natural, most of which, in their practical assertion, have since become legal, or recognized as a part of our institutions. It was almost a necessity that the few members of the bar whose services were then called for should become at once the assertors of these rights before the courts. It was even still more imperative that they should come to the front in the discussion of them in the forum, in those bodies where hearings must be held, and also in the respective assemblies of the people. This was in the declining days of a theocratic age when every profession other than that of the clergyman had to struggle for a position. He argued further that no truly great lawyer ever has been a demagogue.

More Chicago Riots.

Chicago, Special.—Rioting broke out afresh in the teamsters' strike. Although nobody was seriously hurt, there were a number of vicious fights in the lumber yards during which the police were compelled to use clubs, and in one instance, revolvers, to disperse the crowds.

Four Killed in Collision.

Augusta, Ga., Special.—Two were killed, one fatally injured, two probably fatally and three slightly injured in a collision Thursday night between a passenger trolley car and a Louisville & Nashville coal car on the Augusta & Aiken Railway, in a stretch of woods some miles from Augusta, on the South Carolina side of the river. The dead: J. E. Holdman, motorman; Felix Boddie, employe of railway, who was riding with the motorman.

THE MODERN FARMER.

How He Lives as Compared With Fifty Years Ago.

THE farming life of to-day, as contrasted with that of fifty years ago, is a paradise of comfort and convenience. The lonely loghouse, remote from market and devoid of advantages that a half cycle of time has made possible, would scarcely appeal to the present day farmer.

The twentieth century soil tiller has practically all the modern comforts. His mail is delivered daily. He has telephonic connection with the buying and selling world, affording the best opportunities for marketing to advantage. His home is of recent architecture, constructed of wood, brick or stone, and well furnished. He has modern plumbing and modern heating, and with the advent of acetylene gas, he has modern lighting. At night his home is as attractively illuminated as that of his city brother, for it is a suggestive fact that "acetylene for country homes" has so appealed to the farmer that of the 80,000 users of acetylene gas in the United States the farmer is one of the largest of all classes. Ever seeking the best, he has not hesitated in availing himself of this new light.

The continued growth and progress of this great country, ever a cause of wonderment, has no greater exemplification than evolution on the farm. Already the farmer is becoming the most envied of men—the freest, the healthiest, the happiest!

A True Snake Story.

"The affair happened on Saturday night," says the Bulwag Chronicle "in a room on the outskirts of Rayton. Four card players were intent on a game of whist and the window was open to allow of some fresh air. Suddenly, out of the darkness, five feet of black mamba hurled itself through the open window into the room. For a moment every one was paralyzed, and then one of the occupants seized hold of the most handy weapon and flung it at the intruder. It happened to be a water bag and the snake received a cold douche, which was evidently not to its liking, for it vanished just as suddenly as it had come, by the same route. A search of the premises discovered the creature in an adjoining room, but it again made its escape, and, as the police would say, is 'still at large.'"

Trousers and Jacket in Wood.

The president of a large wholesale company in Van Buren street has recently received from a customer, who lives in Akron, Ohio, a curio consisting of a natural growth of maples so fashioned as to resemble a pair of Mexican trousers and part of a close fitting jacket. The "trousers" are about long enough for a man six feet tall.

The Ohio customer has a farm near his home city. While exploring the woods a few weeks ago he discovered a tree whose peculiarity startled him. Soon afterward he had the tree felled and, cutting out the unique section, sent it by freight to the Chicago firm.—Chicago News.

Picked Up Swarm of Bees.

BOOK OF BOOKS.

Over 30,000,000 Published.

An Oakland lady who has a taste for good literature, tells what a happy time she had on "The Road to Wellville." She says:

"I drank coffee freely for eight years before I began to perceive any evil effects from it. Then I noticed that I was becoming very nervous, and that my stomach was gradually losing the power to properly assimilate my food. In time I got so weak that I dreaded to leave the house—for no reason whatever but because of the miserable condition of my nerves and stomach. I attributed the trouble to anything in the world but coffee, of course. I dosed myself with medicines, which in the end would leave me in a worse condition than at first. I was most wretched and discouraged—not 30 years old and feeling that life was a failure!"

"I had given up all hope of ever enjoying myself like other people, till one day I read the little book, 'The Road to Wellville.' It opened my eyes, and taught me a lesson I shall never forget and cannot value too highly. I immediately quit the use of the old kind of coffee and began to drink Postum Food Coffee. I noticed the beginning of an improvement in the whole tone of my system, after only two days use of the new drink, and in a very short time realized that I could go about like other people without the least return of the nervous dread that formerly gave me so much trouble. In fact, my nervousness disappeared entirely and has never returned, although it is now a year that I have been drinking Postum Food Coffee. And my stomach is now like iron—nothing can upset it!"

"Last week, during the big Conclave in San Francisco, I was on the go day and night without the slightest fatigue; and as I stood in the immense crowd watching the great parade that lasted for hours, I thought to myself, 'This strength is what Postum Food Coffee has given me!' Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason. The little book, 'The Road to Wellville,' may be found in every pkg.

Just Discrimination in Railway Rates.

All railroad men qualified to speak on the subject in a responsible way are likely to agree with President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern Railway, when he says: "There is no division of opinion as to the desirability of stopping all secret or unjustly discriminatory devices and practices of whatsoever character."

Mr. Spencer, in speaking of "unjustly discriminatory" rates and devices, makes a distinction which is at once apparent to common sense. There may be discrimination in freight rates which is just, reasonable and imperatively required by the complex commercial and geographical conditions with which expert rate makers have to deal. To abolish such open and honest discrimination might paralyze the industries of cities, States and whole sections of our national territory.

This distinction between just and unjust discrimination is clearly recognized in the conclusions of the International Railway Congress, published yesterday:

"Tariffs should be based on commercial principles, taking into account the special conditions which bear upon the commercial value of the services rendered. With the reservation that rates shall be charged without arbitrary discrimination to shippers alike under like conditions, the making of rates should as far as possible have all the elasticity necessary to permit the development of the traffic and to produce the greatest results to the public and to the railroads themselves."

The present proposal is, as Mr. Walker D. Hines, of Louisville, showed in his remarkable testimony the other day before the Senate Committee at Washington, to crystallize flexible and justly discriminatory rates into fixed Government rates which cannot be changed except by the intervention of some Government tribunal, and by this very process to increase "the temptation to depart from the published rate and the lawful rate in order to meet some overpowering and urgent commercial condition."—New York Sun.

Are the Packers Receiving Fair Play?

When the Garfield report on the business methods of the packers appeared, after eight months' investigation, it was severely criticized and roundly denounced. After three months of publicity it is significant that those who attempted to discredit it have failed to controvert the figures contained in that exhaustive document. The public is beginning to notice this omission, and the feeling is rapidly growing that the sensational charges out of which the "Beef Investigation" arose were without foundation. If the official statements of the report are susceptible of contradiction, a good many people are now asking why the facts and figures are not furnished to contradict them.

The truth seems to be that most of the charges contain unfounded sensational assertions. A flagrant example of this appeared in a recent article in an Eastern magazine, to the effect that "forty Iowa banks were forced to close their doors in 1903-4 by the Beef Trust's manipulation of cattle prices." Chief Clerk Cox, of the banking department of the Iowa State Auditor's office, has tabulated the list of banks given in the magazine article and has publicly denounced the statement as utterly untrue. He gives separately the reasons for each failure mentioned and officially states that they have been caused by unwise speculations and by reckless banking methods. It may be well to suspend judgment upon the packers until the charges against them are proved.

EVERY WALK IN LIFE.

A. A. Boyce, a farmer living three and a half miles from Trenton, Mo., says: "A severe cold settled in my kidneys and developed so quickly that I was obliged to lay off work on account of the aching in my back and sides. For a time I was unable to walk at all, and every makeshift I tried and all the medicine I took had not the slightest effect. My back continued to grow weaker until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and I must say I was more than surprised and gratified to notice the backache disappearing gradually until it finally stopped." At 70 Years of Age a Cadet.

It is not often that a man of seventy years of age goes to school. It is more rare yet to find one enlisted as a cadet, drilling an hour each day and taking a lively interest in his military duties.

The latter, however, is not strange when the fact is remembered that this same cadet, William Standifer of Hinds county, Miss., is a veteran of the civil war, was a gallant soldier in the Confederate army and bears scars to attest his bravery in many an engagement during four long years.

Now, in the sunset of his life, he again wears the Confederate gray, and steps as lightly forward to the stirring music of "Dixie" as any sixteen-year-old cadet in the battalion of 400 at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Mississippi at Starkville.

Tampa Officer Shot.

Tampa, Fla., Special.—Sam J. Carter, captain of police, was shot and dangerously wounded by P. W. Knapp, a sewing machine agent. The shooting occurred on the steps of the Hillsborough High School, where Carter was talking with Knapp's stepdaughter. According to Carter and the girl, Knapp fired without saying a word. Knapp says he followed his stepdaughter to see whom she was going to meet, and that when Carter saw him he fired, he (Knapp) firing in return.

Father Was Laid Up.

Arthur Hill and Joseph Schmitt "The Wizard of Oz" company, were to drop in at a small shooting party in Providence last week, where he spent an hour peering through the eye and winning innumerable prizes. The place was presided over by a pretty girl and a decrepit old man whom she called "Father." Arthur Hill does not indulge in the pernicious smoking habit, he has a back all the cigars he won for his erring aim and said to the girl: "The next day Hill and Schmitt were strolling past the same place and they noticed that the girl was duty alone, but the old man was sitting there." "I guess father smoked them," marked Hill, laconically.

Negotiator Among the Prisoners. Tokio, By Cable.—Rear Admiral bogatoff, former commander of the fourth division of the Pacific fleet, recently commander of the information squadron, composed of scouts of the merchantmen, with 2,000 other prisoners, is among the prisoners captured by the Japanese. Vice Admiral Jestsensky appears to have escaped. The battle began Saturday morning and the Japanese are still in possession of the Russians.

Backache, "The Blues"

Both Symptoms of Organic Derangement. Women—Thousands of Sufferers Find Relief.

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break," or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts?" These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention. Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some uterine derangement. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the ablest specialists agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for woman's ills known to medicine.

The following letters from Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Cotrely are among the many thousands which Mrs. Pinkham has received this year from those whom she has relieved. Surely such testimony is convincing. Mrs. J. G. Holmes, of Larimore, North Dakota, writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I have suffered everything with backache and womb trouble—I let the trouble run until my system was in such a condition that I was unable to be about, and then it was I commenced to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If I had only known how much suffering I would have saved, I should have taken it months sooner—for a few weeks' treatment made me well and strong. My backaches and headaches are all gone and I suffer no pain at my menstrual periods, whereas before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered intense pain."

Mrs. Emma Cotrely, 109 East 13th Street, New York City, writes:
Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Trouble.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it. Her advice and medicine have restored to health more than one hundred thousand women.
