

Night Sweats & Cough.

E. W. Walton, Condr. S. P. Ry., 711 Van Ness St., San Antonio, Tex., writes: "During the summer and fall of 1902, my annoyance from catarrh reached that stage where it was actual misery and developed alarming symptoms, such as a very deep-seated cough, night sweats, and pains in the head and chest. I experimented with several so-called remedies before I finally decided to take a thorough course of Peruna."

"Two of my friends had gone so far as to inform me that the thing for me to do was to resign my position and seek a higher, more congenial climate. Every one thought I had consumption and I was not expected to live very long."

"Having procured some Peruna, I decided to give it a thorough test and applied myself assiduously to the task of taking it, as per instructions, in the meantime."

"The effects were soon apparent, all alarming symptoms disappeared and my general health became fully as good as it had ever been in my life."

"I have resorted to the use of Peruna on two or three occasions since that time to cure myself of bad colds."

"THE PALE GIRL"

Did Not Know Coffee Was the Cause.

In cold weather some people think a cup of hot coffee good to help keep warm. So it is—for a short time but the drug—caffeine—acts on the heart to weaken the circulation and the reaction is to cause more chilliness.

There is a hot wholesome drink which a Dak. girl found after a time, makes the blood warm and the heart strong.

She says:

"Having lived for five years in N. Dak., I have used considerable coffee owing to the cold climate. As a result I had a dull headache regularly, suffered from indigestion, and had no 'life' in me."

"I was known as the 'pale girl' and people thought I was just weakly. After a time I had heart trouble and became very nervous, never knew what it was to be real well. Took medicine but it never seemed to do any good."

"Since being married my husband and I both have thought coffee was harming us and we would quit, only to begin again, although we felt it was the same as poison to us."

"Then we got some Postum. Well, the effect was really wonderful. My complexion is clear now, headache gone, and I have a great deal of energy I had never known while drinkin' coffee."

"I haven't been troubled with indigestion since using Postum, am not nervous, and need no medicine. I was have a little girl and boy who both love Postum and thrive on it and Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

STOCK GAMBLING RUINS HIM

Louis Lippman, Bank Employee, Caught in Buffalo.

Little of Stealings Left—Theft of Only a Small Amount Charged—Firm's Loss May Reach $300,000.

New York City.—"The stocks were my downfall. They went wrong. I manipulated the books to show that the accounts balanced, but before I could recover my loss I found that I was trapped and had to get away."

This statement was flashed over the wire from Buffalo with the announcement that Louis Lippman, a trusted bookkeeper of the big banking firm of Knauth, Nachod & Kuhne, of No. 15 William street, had been arrested in that city.

Finding himself in the toils of the police he told of his downfall. While the technical charge on which he was locked up was the larceny of $151.13 on April 6 last, it was said that he obtained between $200,000 and $300,000 from his employers by clever manipulation of his books.

Lippman is a well educated German of thirty-three years. He came to this country five years ago and entered the employ of the banking firm. He spoke good English and bore scars of a dozen or more duels in his native land. In a short time he worked his way into the trust of his employers. He was neat in appearance, always willing to accommodate his friends with a loan and called a "good fellow."

Three weeks ago an error in his accounts was detected. He disappeared, and the Pinkertons were notified. They traced him to Albany, to Buffalo, to Toronto and then back to Buffalo, where they found him living under the name of Meltzer.

"I had too many friends," Lippman declared after he was arrested. Detective Cassassa, of Police Headquarters, left for Buffalo to bring the prisoner back to this city. Only a few dollars of the fortune he is accused of stealing were found on him by his captors.

GRAVES NOTIFIED.

Independence Party's Candidate Centre of Rally in Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga.—Two thousand persons listened to the formal notification of John Temple Graves as nominee of the Independence party for Vice-President of the United States at the Casino Theatre. Presidential Nominee Higgen, William Randolph Hearst and a score of others prominent in the party were on the platform. Mr. Graves was given hearty cheering.

Clarence J. Shearn, of New York, took occasion to criticize Joseph M. Brown, Democratic nominee for Governor of Georgia, with a resulting fifty seconds' cheering. The mention of Hearst's name in all the speeches caused repeated cheering, as did that of Higgen's. The climax came with the mention of Colonel Graves. While the band played "Dixie" the 2000 persons cheered until Graves stopped them by raising his hand for quiet.

From Terrible Eczema—Baby's Head A Mass of Itching Rash and Sores—Disease Cured by Cuticura.

"Our little girl was two months old when she got a rash on her face and within five days her face and head were all one sore. We used different remedies but it got worse instead of better and we thought she would turn blind and that her ears would fall off. She suffered terribly, and would scratch until the blood came. This went on until she was five months old, then I had her under our family doctor's care, but she continued to grow worse. He said it was eczema. When she was seven months old I started to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months our baby was a different girl. You could not see a sign of a sore and she was as fat as a new-born baby. She has not had a sign of the eczema since. Mrs. H. F. Budke, LeSueur, Minn., Apr. 15 and May 2, 1907."

BORAX IN THE DAIRY.

A Matter of Profitable Interest to the Farmer and Dairyman.

The problem of keeping sweet all the utensils used in connection with milk and cream selling, and butter-making, has been a serious one with the farmer.

He has come to realize fully that the slightest taint or hint of staleness left in a can, tin or churn may ruin a whole output; that the taint which is left in the form of bacteria which grow and multiply in milk or butter, producing disastrous results.

The farmer has learned that hot water won't rase away the greasy residue in dairy utensils.

He has learned that soap leaves a residue of its own which is, if anything, worse than the milk or cream residue, and it is little wonder that there has been a constant clamor for a dairy cleanser and sweetener that will meet modern requirements.

A few of the largest creamery establishments have called experts into consultation on this problem and have with this scientific aid hit upon a product of nature which exactly fills the bill—borax.

Scientists have long known borax as a cleanser, a sweetener and an antiseptic destroyer of bacteria and germ growths. Destroys all that is harmful and promotes and preserves freshness, sweetness and purity, relieving the dairyman and dairy housewife of drudgery and of needless work and worry.

Its cheapness and value should give it first place in the necessities of every dairy.

The cow's udder is kept in a clean, healthy and smooth condition by washing it with borax and water, a tablespoonful of borax to two quarts of water.

This prevents roughness and soreness or cracking teats, which make milking time a dread to the cow and a worry to the milker.

The modern cleanser of all dairy utensils consists of—one tablespoonful of borax to every quart of water needed. Remember—a tablespoonful equals four teaspoonfuls.

Be sure that you get pure borax. To be sure, you must get "20 Mule Team Borax."
