does. Eighteen others then step up and buy tickets. The 16-year old is then sold a ticket and given four one-dollar bills in change. He hurries inside to join two friends of his own age who didn't have to wait for change.

Inside the tent only one light bulb burns over Sugar's four foot by eight foot stage but even the dim light isn't able to hide the fact that Sugar is a little past the glamour-girl age. Evident are the wrinkles starting to appear on her face and the buldge in her mid-section.

The teenagers, who give away their age with their white London Fog jackets and raincoats, their Weejun loafers and their Madras belts and wallets, crowd next to the stage where they won't miss anything.

Sugar's show lasts 20 minutes during which absolutely nothing is left to the imagination. Before their grand finale, which features Sugar and her sidekick prancing simultaneously in the nude, patrons are asked to make voluntary contributions in appreciation of the girl's immodesty.

Next door to Sugar is an equally immoral and dirty attraction headlining Topaz and her All-Girl Revue. The show is the same filthy display of female flesh as that offered by Sugar. Teenagers, some in high school jackets, are in attendance here too.

The Atlantic State Shows was booked for a one-week stand in Warsaw by the Warsaw American Legion Post No. 127 which is sponsoring a three-day Veteran's Day observance there Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The American Legion is paid a percentage of the carnival's receipts.

At the carnival Tuesday night no members of the American Legion in uniform were on hand to see that the carnival was made to uphold the moral decency codes of today's society. They will receive a percentage of money paid by underage youngsters who viewed immoral girlie shows.

There are many carnivals operating in the country today who do not depend on this type of show to earn their living. There are carnivals who offer clean, wholesome family entertainment and are the type of show that organizations held in as high esteem as the American Legion should contract for their fund-raising projects.

Smith Negro Released After Fight, Shooting

Released from county jail yesterday under $500 bond was Joseph Jones, 50, who Sunday beat and shot his brother Macon Jones, 48.

According to the sheriff's department the fight and shooting took place late Sunday afternoon at the home of Joseph Jones in Smith township. The elder Jones was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill and originally was held on $2,500 bond. The bond was lowered and Jones released when his brother was discharged from a Kingston hospital Tuesday.

In an account of the affray told officers by Jones, he and Macon were fighting in a bedroom of the house and Joseph managed to reach into a dresser drawer for a pistol he kept there and shot Macon one time in the abdomen. Brother Joseph had attacked his brother with a poker and inflicted three deep gashes on his head. Joseph said that both he and his brother had been drinking.

Macon was taken to the hospital in Kingston by some neighbors. Sheriff's officials here learned of the fracas when they were notified by Kingston police. Deputy Rodney Thigpen was the investigating officer.
