

Officials Urged Make Early Application For All-Risk Crop Insurance

Secretary Urges Early Application for All-Risk Crop Insurance. Farmers in counties where the U. S. Department of Agriculture's All-Risk Federal Crop Insurance is available were urged today by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to make early application for this service for 1963 crops. All-Risk Federal Crop Insurance is a basic service, protecting farmers against loss of production costs due to unavoidable losses, and it has been made available in more counties and on more crops for 1963.

Present policyholders and other eligible farmers who apply soon will be sure of having this all-risk protection of their 1963 production costs. FCIC officials said. However, funds for administering the service are limited, so FCIC may have to stop accepting applications earlier than in previous years.

In addition to this possibility, officials explained, the State Director of FCIC are under continuing instructions to stop the insurance sign-up immediately in any area where adverse crop prospects develop. This is a necessary fund-raising of sound insurance operations, officials said. Federal Crop Insurance offers a self-help tool to be kept in effect like other insurances, so that the assistance will be available when needed, they explained, "but we cannot make it available after the house is on fire."

FCIC officials suggested that Beaufort County, North Carolina offer a convincing example of the need for crop insurance protection that can develop in any county. Due to conditions that drowned the tobacco crop in Beaufort and other North Carolina counties during June and early July, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has paid to date in Beaufort County 340 claims totaling $21,200.

"This amount," FCIC officials said, "which represents not profit but the investment of past profits - working capital - would have been lost to Beaufort County if its farmers had not been wise enough to protect their crop investments with Federal Crop Insurance. This near million dollars will keep the county's economy alive and give the growers there a chance to start again in 1963."

"By using this self-help service," Secretary Freeman said, "eligible farmers in the 1,000 counties where Federal Crop Insurance is available can protect their own crop production investments and at the same time help maintain the economic strength of their communities. Again, I urge utmost participation in this valuable program."

Health and Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

Christmas is a happy time for American families, a time for families to get together and enjoy each other. And to exchange gifts.

Already Santa's helpers (mothers and dads and grandparents and aunts and uncles) are visiting the toys shops in anticipation of making it a big Christmas for the small fry.

The toys this season are infinite in variety and ingenuity. Most of them are completely safe for the small children. But some of them may have inherent built-in dangers to the health and safety of the youngsters.

Here are some shopping hints that may help you insure that Christmas in your household is unmarred by a preventable accident or illness originating from toys or decorations.

Avoid toys made of lead or colored with lead based paints. Small children sometimes chew off the lead paint and swallow it, and serious illness could result.

Be careful about small toys that can be swallowed. Flammable toys and toys with rough or sharp edges.

Babby's toys should be too large to put in the mouth, washable, lightweight and non-brittle.

Electric toys can be a special hazard. Look for the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) label on the cord and the toy itself.

Missile-throwing toys, from slingshots to air rifles, are dangerous, particularly to the eyes. Toy archery sets also are hazardous. If your child receives a toy that propels BB shot or arrows, by all means establish ground rules for safe use, and see that they are enforced.

Air rifles are illegal in many localities and a check of local laws is advisable before making the purchase. Never forget that BB shot ricochet easily from a hard surface.

Christmas tree ornaments, particularly strings of small lights, are another potential holiday hazard. Children will sometimes chew up and even swallow a small bulb, with obvious results. Tree lights of flimsy wiring, or old strands that have been reused for years, sometimes can be fire hazards.

Glass tree ornaments often shatter easily and sprinkle shivers around the room. Handle ornaments and lights with care and keep the extras and the discarded bulbs out of reach of the toys.

BIBLE FACTS OF INTEREST

BY: Ella V. Fridge
God's Postman

One of the most practical implications of the great doctrine of the incarnation is contact and community contact between God and the Community of man. To make that contact, God in "the fullness of Time - sent forth His son" (Galatians 4:4) "and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men" (Philippians 2:7). For generations ever since there has been the written Word, "that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through His name." (John 20:31)

It is a contact that comes from the introduction to the knowledge of the love of God in Christ Jesus by word of missionary, preacher, layman, or directly from the written Word itself, the Bible.

This calls for witnesses - God's postmen who have been conquered by the message. All over America people will be receiving the Good News of Christmas because someone remembered a lonely patient in the hospital, the forgotten aged in old peoples homes, the misunderstood delinquent in correctional institutions, the disillusioned prisoner in his cell, the disenfranchised migrant in his field camp or the sightless whose fingers leap with joy as they read the Braille Story of the birth of Jesus. All this becomes possible when you become one of God's postmen, like Mr. Joseph Campana.

Mr. Campana personally delivers a copy of the Christmas Portion to each home on his route. "I deliver my letters-but this is the most important letter ever written," "It is God's message to men." (Taken from Bible Society Record.)

Changes In Your Social Security

By: Ed Deese, Field Representative Duplin County

Most people realize the importance of their social security account number card. It is the key to the benefits which are paid to retired or disabled workers and their dependents, and to survivors of deceased workers. To receive credit for his work, wages must be reported in the worker's name along with the account number which appears on his social security card. Improper reporting could result in the loss of valuable social security credits.

Students, housewives and others who plan to make extra money by working during the pre-Christmas rush, are urged to make sure that they have a social security card before they start to work.

Work for any business firm as a sales person, cashier, or in any other position is covered by social security, and the employer must have a social security number for each employee to report these wages.

No matter how little a person may work-even one day-he should be sure to have his social security card to show his employer. Wages paid may not seem significant now, but they will eventually accumulate to a substantial amount. Remember, benefits paid are based directly on your earnings under social security.

Students, and others, who have never had a social security number should apply for one without delay at the Social Security District Office. Married women should check their social security cards to make sure that their married name is shown. If the card is still in the maiden name, an application should be made to have it changed.

Any person who cannot locate his or her card, should apply for a new one right away. Many employers will not put a worker on the job until he has the worker's social security number.

The competition for Christmas jobs is always hectic, and having your card available will make finding money-producing Christmas employment easier.

Anyone who has any questions concerning social security account number cards, is advised to contact the District Office at 311 East Walnut Street in Goldsboro. Office hours are 8:45 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., and the telephone number is 735-15-
