The practicing Attorney in Raleigh since 1951 has been active in Civic and Community activities in Raleigh. He is a member of the firm of Broughton and Broughton in Raleigh. The lifelong Democrat has served on Precinct Committees; was a Delegate at Large 1960 Democratic Convention; Chairman, Democratic Party from 1964-1966.

He is married to the former Mary Ann Cooper of Henderson and they have three children, Harriet, age 16, J. Melville Broughton III, age 11, and James Wesley Cooper Broughton, age 1 month.

Statement of J. Melville Broughton, Jr. at news conference held December 4, 1967 Raleigh, North Carolina.

I am a candidate for Governor of North Carolina subject to the Democratic Primary on May 4, 1968.

This decision has been reached after much thought and prayer and with an acute awareness of the responsibility that goes with this office.

In making a decision of this importance, one has much to consider. The first consideration involves a self-analysis and an answer to the question: "Do I believe that I have the experience, ability and understanding to become the Chief Executive of a large and growing State and am I prepared mentally, physically and spiritually to give all that is within me to the requirements of this office?"

In all humility, I am confident that I do possess the qualifications necessary to the discharge of the duties of this office and that I am prepared in every way for the demands that go with it.

As a member of a family long active in Governmental and political affairs in the State of North Carolina, I have been privileged to develop some knowledge and understanding of these matters. I am particularly proud of the record of service of my late father to the State of North Carolina. However, I do not come before the people of North Carolina today seeking the office of Governor because of the name I bear or the family from which I come. I come before the people of North Carolina in the strong belief that my past experiences and training in many areas have given me a depth of understanding of the needs of our State and steps that must be taken to continue North Carolina on the road to greater and sounder progress.

It has been my privilege to have served as a prosecuting attorney of the City of Raleigh for several years. I have long been active in the Mental Health work of the State of North Carolina and by appointment of Governor William B. Umstead began in 1953 four years of service as a member of what is now known as the North Carolina Board of Mental Health. In 1953, I joined Governor Umstead and many other citizens in a successful bond campaign that provided $100,000,000 for a much needed expansion of all our Mental Health facilities. In 1957 by appointment of Governor Luther H. Hodges, I became Chairman of the North Carolina State Highway Commission and served in that capacity until the early part of 1961. This experience took me in all sections of the State and broadened my knowledge of all aspects of the operation of State Government. In the fall of 1964 up to the recommendation of Governor Dan Moore, I became Chairman of the Democratic Party of North Carolina and through this experience, which continued until my resignation in May, 1966, I again had an opportunity to further my knowledge and understanding of our State.

These experiences, as well as those received in law and business, and many others which time will not permit me to mention today have all gone into the development of a greater awareness and concern of all that we consider to be North Carolina.

In declaring my candidacy, I do so not as a candidate of any individual or group, and I have no t and will not make any commitments other than a commitment to all the people of our State that I will serve them faithfully and that I will at all times seek to merit their trust.

To those many friends throughout the State who have encouraged me in this decision and to all the people of our State, I pledge that beginning now, I will conduct a vigorous and intensive campaign in all sections and in all the one hundred counties of North Carolina.

It is my sincere hope that the campaign which lies ahead will be conducted at all times by all participants on the very highest plane and that when the campaign is concluded in November of 1968, North Carolina will be a better State because of such and that all those seeking elective office at all levels will have contributed to a stronger Government and stimulated deeper thought on the part of all citizens.

This is neither the time or occasion to discuss the various issues that I consider are before our State at this moment of Her history, but let me emphasize that it will be my purpose to speak positively to these issues and to offer constructive solutions to them. The people of North Carolina desire, expect and are entitled to have candidates for public office, particularly the office of Governor, to demonstrate an understanding of the needs and desires of the people and to frankly discuss them.

The people of North Carolina by heritage and tradition are proud and independent. I have full confidence in the judgment of the people of North Carolina in making a wise determination as to what the Government of the State should be and how it should be directed.

It is not sufficient to simply say that we live in a time of uncertainty and a time of unrest. This State and this Nation were begun under such circumstances; but, throughout our history, our people have responded to leadership which challenged them and leadership which spoke, not to their fears but to their hopes and aspirations.

I seek the support of all North Carolinians in this undertaking and begin this campaign confident of victory and pledging my best efforts at all times.

The accident occurred about 7 p.m. as Williford was returning to Kenansville. Just past the "little" bridge of Goshen, the buck bounced out of the corn field and hit the car before Mr. Williford had time to stop. "I saw his horn in the roadside ditch but he was headed across the road, and with two leaps, that was it."

Mr. Williford said he was traveling between 50 and 60 miles per hour. The impact knocked the buck 75 ft, killing him instantly.

The front end of the car sustained extensive damages which were estimated near $1,000. Mr. Williford was uninjured.

The Wildlife Commission officials directed Mr. Williford to turn the carcass of the deer over to the prison department.

Unofficial reports said that this is the 5th deer killed in similar situations in Duplin County this fall.

bow to which was attached a nose tip veil. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jean Stephens of Warsaw and Mrs. Betsy Bradley, Jr. of Raleigh. Their dresses were identical to the one worn by the Matron of Honor. Flower girl was Miss Dena Hill, cousin of the bride of Raleigh. Ring Bearer was Master Michael Bradley of Raleigh. Mr. Danny Hill, brother of the bride of Raleigh, Mr. Jack Stephens of Warsaw and Mr. Tim Bradley of Raleigh were ushers. Best man was Mr. Tony Hill, uncle of the bride, of Raleigh.
