Marsha's Prescription Smile

A narrow mind and a wide mouth make a dangerous combination.

Learn to pause--or nothing worthwhile can reach up with you.

A four-hour workday would bring many changes in our lives. For example, we'd have to re-schedule the coffee breaks.

Don't stay home--come to Brewer Drug Co. in Pink Hill for refreshments at our fountain. We make the best fresh lemonade and orangeade, this side of everywhere.

Your Friendly Air Conditioner Would Like To Talk To You.

"I'm not just your air conditioner you know. I'm your friend. I want to make you comfortable. And if you'll let me, I'll even save you some money this summer on your electric bill."
"But we have to have some kind of understanding. Okay?"
"Now, one of the most important things we want to avoid is that old off-in-the-morning, on-in-the-evening thing. It's absolutely murder on me."
"And no matter how hard you push me, I'm probably not going to get the inside temperature more than 15 or 20 degrees lower than the outside. So please just set my thermostat on the highest comfortable setting. Then leave me alone. Please."
"Naturally, if you're going away for a couple of days or longer, turn me off."

"And another thing. When's the last time you changed my filters?"
"Do you realize what a strain it is to work with dirty or clogged filters? Just try it sometime."
"Be sure that your insulation and weather stripping are adequate, because I can't cool the whole world you know."
"Oh, yes. Please keep the drapes closed on windows exposed to direct sunlight. And there's no use cooling any place that nobody's using. So close the doors on unoccupied rooms."
"Now, about some of your other appliances. Heaven knows there's not a jealous bolt in my body, but things like the dishwasher, range, washing machine and clothes dryer generate a lot of heat. So if you'll use them during the cooler hours of the day, I won't have to work so hard."

"Even a single light bulb gives off a little heat. So when you don't need them, turn off the lights!"
"When the weather really gets hot, every little bit helps. So if you'll take care of me, I'll take care of you."
"And now, here's a brief message from my sponsor."
This good advice was brought to you by Carolina Power and Light in our continuing effort to discourage the wasteful use of electricity.
We also want to help you get all of the comfort and convenience you expect from your appliances for the least amount of money.
At Carolina Power and Light, we want to sell you all the electricity you need. But we don't want to sell you more than you need.
