

Whaley-Mobley Exchange Vows

Miss Ginger Robin Whaley and Lynn Mobley exchanged their wedding vows in a beautiful candlelight ceremony Sunday June 13, 1982, at four o'clock in the Beaulville Baptist Church. Reverend Chris Singleton, of Beaulville officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. M.R. "Monk" Whaley of Beaulville are the parents of the bride. The groom's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mobley of Chinquapin.

Depicting a garden setting, the altar was flanked with live ferns and Areca palms. A brass arch and two brass spiral candelabrum entwined with greenery, held burning tapers. The candelabras were accentuated with pink carnations, pink glads, Forever Yours roses and baby's breath. On either sides of the altar was an arrangement of pink carnations, glads, pink and white daisies and baby's breath in cupid urns. Pink and white daisies and ivy enhanced the double kneeling bench.

Mrs. Mary P. Thigpen of Beaulville presented a program of pre-nuptial music. Deborah Ledbetter, cousin of the bride of South Carolina sang Let It Be Me, Endless Love, and The Wedding Prayer. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father wore a formal length gown of white organza over peau de soie designed with a modified Queen Ann neckline outlined in silk Venice lace beaded with pearls. The fitted bodice was overlaid in French Chantilly lace. The waistline was encircled with scalloped chantilly lace cuffs. The full circular skirt was enhanced with a flound edged in scalloped chantilly lace that extended to the chapel length train and up to the waistline.

The bride wore a four-tiered formal length gown of white French chantilly lace sleeves featured scalloped chantilly lace cuffs. Her head dress and bouquet were identical to the bride's.

Gina Whaley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pink gown of lustrous polyester knit featuring a draped front and back neckline with a cape effect, gathering at the shoulders with venise lace trim. The slightly raised waistline was attached to a softly pleated skirt. She carried a nosegay of silk American Beauty roses, pink carnations and baby's breath with streamers.

Bridesmaids were Danita Sheppard of Pink Hill, cousin of the bride; Emily Whaley, sister-in-law of the bride; Joyce Lanier of Beaulville; and Gail Ramson of Vermont. They were attired identically to the honor attendant. They carried a nosegay of silk pink carnations and baby's breath with streamers. The attendants wore pink carnations with baby's breath in their hair.

Courtney Ledbetter, cousin of the bride was flower girl. Her dress was made of pink voile. The fitted bodice featured a round yoke tipped with lace and satin ribbon. The short puffed sleeves repeated the lace and ribbon motif. The double layered full skirt was complimented at the hem by wide ruffles which gave an apron effect. She carried a white wicker basket with pink carnations, pink asters, and baby's breath. She also wore a pink carnation with baby's breath in her hair.

Jason Ledbetter, cousin of the bride was ring bearer. He wore a white suit and a boutonniere of an American Beauty rose. Jason carried the rings on a satin pillow edged in lace.

The groom, wearing a grey tuxedo with a American Beauty rose and baby's breath chose his uncle, Dean Eubanks as his best man. Ushers were Glenn Mobley of Chinquapin, brother of the groom; Kenney Whaley, brother of the bride; Ellis Lanier, of Beaulville; and Tommy Ramson of Vermont. They wore grey tuxedos.

Mrs. Whaley chose for her daughter's wedding a mauve formal gown with matching cape. She wore a corsage of two white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Mobley chose a street length floral dress of pink and white. She wore a corsage of two white cymbidium orchids. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Fannie Guy wore a formal gown of pink, accented with a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hill of Beaulville, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ramson of Vermont, Mrs. Jan Eubanks of Beaulville, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Parker of Wilmington.

The bride is a graduate of East Duplin High School and is employed with Whaley's Super Market in Beaulville.

The groom is a graduate of East Duplin High School and is employed with Nash Johnson and Sons in Rose Hill.

For a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va. the bride wore a red dress with attached cape.

The couple will reside in Beaulville.

Reception
Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained the wedding guests with a reception in the church fellowship hall. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Guy. The reception table was covered with a satin cloth overlaid with white lace draped and accented with pink bows. Centering the table was a four-lite silver candelabra with an arrangement of pink carnations, white daisies, pink snaps and baby's breath. The three-tiered wedding cake separated by Grecian columns was edged with cascades of pink roses, draped garlands and string-work. It's clear splashing fountain was surrounded by ivy. The cake was made by Mrs. Mary Raynor and was served by Mrs. Linwood Edwards, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Jan Eubanks, aunt of the groom poured punch. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Louise Brown, Mrs. Lillian Grady, Mrs. Betty Ann Jones, Mrs. Dolly Bostic, Mrs. Shirley Parker, Mrs. Tynia Sumner, Mrs. Rosa Lee Rhodes, Mrs. Joyce Whaley and Mrs. Avis Smith.

Two wedding portraits along with a baby picture of the bride were displayed on a table covered with a white cloth overlaid with white lace draped and accented with pink bows and ivy. Guests were entertained with lovely music on the piano by Mrs. Gaye S. Kennedy. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rhodes, cousins of the bride.

Along the Way

The modern person could be considered lazy, with a flip of a switch or a press of a button, he or she has light, heat, water, and conversation. Conversation, once the only long distance call was to the back field to announce lunch and between neighbors in the mountain hollows--today we can talk to anyone, anywhere, through the use of a telephone. The telephone is one of the modern world's most taken for granted instruments. Today, telephone cables are being used for not only conversation but the transmission of computer data such as photographs. Phones were making their way into the American home during the early 1930's. The town of Rose Hill had their first dial telephone system installed during 1935 and until that time the citizens had been without telephone service. The town had used the operator system of phone service but it ended several years earlier leaving the town with no telephone service until 1935. Today telephones are almost as necessary in our homes, offices, and businesses, as the food Americans eat. Imagine writing letters instead of calling friends, relatives, and business associates--would the U.S. Postal Service survive? Another historical event in 1935--driver's license were one dollar. November 1, 1935 North Carolina driver's license cost one dollar, before that date the licenses were free! During 1935, the North Carolina State Highway Patrol began the task of registering all automobile drivers. All drivers 16 years of age were to take the license exam and receive a driver's license with their name, address and license number. It took the Department of Motor Vehicles almost 40 more years before they put the driver's picture on the license--and we all know their cameras are broken by the photo on out licenses!
