

Heath-Kennedy United In Marriage

Shelia Gaye Kennedy and Terry Wade Heath were united in marriage Saturday, December 18 at Sandy Plain Free Will Baptist Church. The Rev. Gene Turner officiated the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her brother, Jerry L. Kennedy of Pink Hill. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kennedy of Pink Hill. She is also the granddaughter of J.R. (Rommie) Mercer of Beulaville and the late Margie Mercer, and the late Ashley and Laura Kennedy.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Heath of Pink Hill. He is the grandson of Walter and Ina Heath of Pink Hill and Matthew and Annie Lee.

The bride wore a white formal gown of silk organza which was fashioned with a see-through neckline and sheer bishop sleeves bordered with alencon lace. Matching lace formed a waist band and the border of the gown. A chapel-length train of lace ruffles flowed down in the back. Her headpiece, a capulet of matching lace, was attached to a lace-bordered mantilla of silk illusion and flowed into a semi-cathedral-length train. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with pink and burgundy pompons spread throughout the bouquet and accented with white stream-

Ms. Dianne Hunter of Wallace, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a formal gown of burgundy crepe satin. The puffed elbow-length sleeves were attached to a v-neck bodice accented with a double ruffle on each side. The flowing full skirt was attached to a fitted natural waistline and featured a gathered satin belt. She carried a white mum with a burgundy streamer. To complete her attire, she wore an accent of babies'-breath in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Ms. Dianne Kennedy of Pink Hill and Ms. Teresa Kennedy of Beulaville, sisters-in-law of the bride. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor except their dresses were of dusty rose. They carried white mums with pink streamers.

James Heath attended his son as best man. The ushers were Mike Kennedy, brother of the bride; Tim Green, brother-in-law of the groom; and Milton Hunter, brother-in-law of the bride.

Kim Hunter, niece of the bride, was the flowergirl. She was attired in a burgundy gown styled like that of the matron of honor. She carried a white basket with pink, white and burgundy flowers and tied with a burgundy streamer.

Christy Lynn Kennedy, niece of the bride, was the miniature bride. She wore a white satin gown similar to that of the bride and carried a bouquet like that of the bride.

Scott Greene, nephew of the groom, served as ring-bearer. He wore a grey suit like that of the groom and carried the ring on a white satin pillow with pink streamers.

Suzy Sumner read a benediction poem in honor of the bride and groom.

Marie Turner of Goldsboro served as pianist and soloist. Sherry Jones of Trenton, as a special request of the groom, played "Distant Bells." Vocal selections included "When You Created Love" and "The Wedding Prayer." Ms. Rene Greene, sister of the groom, presided at the register.

The former Ms. Kennedy is a senior at East Duplin High School.

The groom is a graduate from South Lenoir High School and attended Heritage Bible College in Dunn. He is presently serving as pastor at Stone's Chapel Pentecostal Free Will Baptist Church in Trenton. He is also employed at Texti in Kinston.

Courtesies

On Nov. 19, the bride and groom were honored with a floating miscellaneous shower by the bride's mother at her home.

A rehearsal party was given for the wedding party and families by the bride and groom's parents.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside at Beulaville, Route 1.
