"Serving Pink Hill, Deep Run, Albertson, Beulaville, And Their Surrounding Areas"

VOL. 5 NO. 2

KENANSVILLE, NC 28349

JANUARY 13, 1983

BUILDING PROJECT BECOMES A REALITY - Pink Hill Town Clerk Carol Sykes and David Vance, public works supervisor, are completing a renovation project to the interior of the town hall. The new facelift includes new paneling, celotex, etc. The two are to be commended for a job well done. (Photo by Lynda Stroud)

Medical Facility Update

To date some $23,600 has been collected and over 750 families have been reached in an all-out effort to secure a medical facility for the town of Pink Hill.

Your support is still needed. There are individuals and families who still have not been contacted. If you are willing to make a donation to this important project, please come by or call Pink Hill Town Hall. It is also requested that the workers turn in all money at once.

BF Grady Parent Volunteers

The volunteer community resource committee, composed of Janice Kornegay, Cha., Rachel Hatch, Sec., Vivian Martin, Rose Jones, Debbie Wheeler and Jeff Landen, developed its purpose as follows: to define the primary needs of the staff at B.F. Grady and discover the volunteer resources available to help meet these needs. A questionnaire was composed and sent to each staff member. The results showed an immediate need for clerical aid for elementary and junior high teachers. Volunteers were instructed by Debbie Wheeler and Elaine Walker in the use of duplicating and other machines. Volunteers come each day of the week and aid the teachers in this way.

Dr. Austin Carter met with the committee on Sept. 20 and shared many ideas. Carter said, "Gov. James B. Hunt has declared 1982-83 the Year of the Public School." Gov. Hunt will appoint a committee to identify schools of excellence in the state this year. This committee will be looking at the many things public schools are doing in the way of improving attendance, strengthening the curriculum, reducing the number of dropouts, utilizing people in the community, etc. Dr. Carter felt that as a possible School of Excellence, the school is already doing many recognizable things. They need only be documented or publicized.

The committee reported to the staff on the progress of its work. Dr. Carter suggested that each teacher look at their needs, survey parents, and ask parents to help with these needs.

Many volunteers are at work at B.F. Grady each day. Each is asked to sign in and

SENIOR CITIZENS OFFICERS CLUB MEETING

Attention, Senior Citizen Club officers. On Tuesday, Jan. 18 at 10 a.m., a meeting will be held at the Duplin County Senior Center, Services for the Aged Building, located on Seminary Street in Kenansville.

The program will consist of "Club Project Ideas for 1983," by speaker Mrs. Judy Wallace, agricultural extension home economics agent for Duplin County. Other interested senior citizens are invited to attend.

CARD OF THANKS

My thanks to members and friends of Grove Church for being so very good to me during my recent stay in Guardian Care. Everyone has been lovely. With the encouragement that one gets at Guardian Care, one must walk even if poorly. Also, thanks to the people at Forsythe Hospital who did my surgery and started me on the road to recovery.

Wild Game Cooking School

You are invited to attend a Wild Game Cooking School that will soon be held in Duplin County. According to Judy H. Wallace, home economics extension agent with the Agricultural Extension Service, this event will be held Monday night, Jan. 17 at 7 p.m. at the Agricultural Extension office in Kenansville.

The school will be conducted by Rickey Hamilton of Cary and Bill Faust of Warsaw. Both of these men have great interest in the cooking of game dishes using venison, squirrel, rabbit, quail, duck, dove, etc. Rickey is a forest resource specialist with the AES of N.C. State University in Raleigh, and Bill, a well known citizen of Duplin County, operates Bland's Barbeque in Warsaw and is known in several states for his interest in cooking game.

A 50-cent registration fee will be collected at the door to cover supplies used in the cooking school. If you have some wild game that you would like to donate to this school, please call Judy Wallace at 296-1996. Any donation will be greatly appreciated.

Survey Of Average Price Per Kilowatt Hour For Residential Customers In 28 Cities For 12 Months Ending June 30, 1982

Like the cost of just about everything else, the price you're paying for electricity has gone up for the past few years.

But it could've been worse. In fact, as you can see by the chart, CP&L ranked less than a penny over the lowest price per kilowatt hour.

What's more, in 3 out of 4 towns, you'd pay more.

And, with your help, we'll keep on conserving energy and looking for more efficient ways to operate so we can stay close to the bottom of the list.

That way, both of us will get more out of our energy dollars.
