Tips On Planting Trees

With the Duplin County area tree day coming up, a lesson on tree-planting may be helpful. Phil Denlinger, Duplin County assistant agricultural extension agent, suggests that by following seven simple steps you shouldn't have any trouble with the survival of your trees.

1. Location of your tree should be the first thing you should consider. Although these trees look small now, you must remember that they are trees, so you should give them plenty of room to grow.

2. Digging your hole is the next step. This may sound easy, but you must remember to dig it large enough to accommodate all of the roots without cramping them up.

3. Add soil amendments to the soil that you just dug out. This is especially important to help your trees get a good healthy start. Add a good compost such as peat moss. Be sure this material is sufficiently broken down. By all means avoid fresh pine bark, pine needles or wood shavings. Another amendment you would want to add is a little bit of fertilizer. Approximately two tablespoons of 10-10-10 per tree is plenty.

4. Place the tree in the hole and refill with soil making sure there are now air pockets. When you get it 3/4 filled, water thoroughly. Add the rest of the soil and tamp it in.

5. Now is where your pine bark or pine needles are important. Place 3 - 4 inches of either on top of the soil to help keep the roots from drying out.

6. With the dogwoods and the oaks, you may want to lightly prune the tops. The reason for this is because, when the trees were dug and transferred, some of the roots were lost or damaged. Pruning will offset this unbalance.

7. Finally, you may want to stake your tree to start it growing straight. When tying it to the stake be sure not to tie it too tight. You don't want to choke it off or damage the bark in any way.

If you follow this and keep them watered this summer, you should have a beautiful tree for years to come. Good luck and enjoy your trees.

Albertson Water System Receives Grant

The Albertson Water System has received a grant of $313,137 from the Clean Water Bond Act of 1977. The Duplin County Board of Commissioners have accepted the grant.

Bob Pittman of Rivers & Associates has applied to FmHA for grants for additional funding with all promises looking hopeful.

In the Albertson Township there are 300 sign-ups and another potential 100 who have not decided or been contacted. For more information, contact Ann Herring at 568-3989.
