FRANK STYERS of Pink Hill Cable TV, Inc., makes adjustments to the satellite receiver that will be used to provide cable television service to the town of Pink Hill. Construction crews are now stringing the cable around Pink Hill. Officials of the company anticipate that viewers will have service within two weeks. Pink Hill residents are reminded to contact any representative of the cable company at 302 Broadway Street in Pink Hill, or phone 568-4543 if interested in cable television. Anyone in Pink Hill can have the service for the cost of one soft drink per day, according to Styers.

Board Of Education To Plan Budget

The Duplin County Board of Education began putting its 1983-84 budget together in a special meeting March 8 in the school headquarters building in Kenansville. It also continued a review that began Tuesday night of long-range facilities plan.

The board will conduct regular business at 7:30 p.m. March 15 and continue budget deliberations. That meeting also will be held in the school headquarters building.

Craig Phillips, N.C. superintendent of public instruction, will tour county school facilities March 16, starting with an 8 a.m. breakfast at North Duplin Elementary School near Calypso. He will visit the Warsaw, Kenansville and East Duplin schools and be the guest at a reception about 3:30 p.m. at the Wallace-Rose Hill High School.

Phillips will take part in a regional school superintendents' meeting at 7:30 at school system headquarters.

The board plans to approve its budget proposal in a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. March 29. It will present its budget proposal to the county board of commissioners April 5.

The board was informed by Herb McKim of Ballard, McKim and Sawyer, Wilmington architects, that replacement of the Kenansville Elementary School roof will start this week. The work will be done at no cost to the school system because of the failure of the roof on the two-year-old building.

Sandy Plain Senior Citizens
The Sandy Plain Senior Citizens met March 12 at the educational building of the church with 62 members present. Paul Jarrett gave the thanks. After the meal Mrs. Eunice Bostic held a brief business session. She reported that the building and property site that had been given to Sandy Plain Senior Citizens by Cagle Houston has been sold to a son of Gardner Houston. The committee is now looking for another site. Melba Sumner and Grace Sumner did the singing entertainment with the group participating. The message of the evening was brought by Rev. Rashie Kennedy. Nathan Futreal led the group in prayer. The April meeting will be in charge of Mae Blizzard and Lura, new members from the Hargetts Crossroads area.

REVIVAL

Revival services will be held at Maranatha Pentecostal Free Will Baptist Church, Beulaville, beginning on Monday, March 21 and last through Sunday, March 27. Services nightly will be at 7:30 and Sunday at 7 p.m.

Rev. Elbert Hollowell of Goldsboro will be the evangelist. Rev. Hollowell is the pastor of Northeast PFWB Church, Wallace, and has pastored Watha, Emmanuel, Oak Heights and St. Matthews churches. He attended William Carter Bible College, Goldsboro, and worked in the PFWB Laity department for three years. He is well known to Duplin County for his years as director of Crusader Youth Camp in Dunn.

Pastor Harold Turner and the congregation invite everyone to attend. The church is located three miles east of Beulaville on NC 24. For more information, contact Rev. Turner at 298-5222.
