Duplin County NCAE-PACE Holds Reception For Hardison And Murphy

Duplin County NCAE-PACE hosted a reception for Senator Harold Hardison and Representative Wendell Murphy at The General Store in Kenansville on Sunday afternoon. An overflow crowd of over 90 teachers and other educators attended. Senator Hardison and Representative Murphy discussed the current budget situation facing the N.C. General Assembly. Senator Hardison indicated that sufficient revenues were not available to fund all of the budget needs. He said that the legislature faced some difficult choices in the next few weeks in regard to both budget cuts and tax increases.

The teachers who attended raised questions about a number of educational issues. Particularly, concern was expressed over lifting the freeze on salaries for teachers and other state employees. Opposition to current proposals for merit pay raises and differential pay for teachers in certain fields was also expressed. County Commissioner Bill Costin addressed the group concerning the county budget. Commissioner Costin indicated that Duplin County faced a serious problem regarding the availability of funds to finance all of the requests from county agencies.

Linda Beck, chairperson of the Duplin County Political Action Committee for Education (PACE), said, "I was very pleased with the turnout we had at this reception. This indicates that the teachers in our county are concerned about the issues before the N.C. Legislature. I encourage all citizens to contact Senator Hardison and Representative Murphy to express their feelings about educational issues."

Duplin Hospital Auxiliary Meets

Mrs. Marjorie Overman of Wallace told the Duplin General Hospital Auxiliary last Wednesday morning of the organization of the Duplin General Hospital Foundation. This organization has been formed to tell the people of Duplin County of the need of the county to support Duplin General Hospital in every way.

As everyone knows, the hospital has been having financial problems and the county commissioners are trying to decide at this time what steps to take.

Mrs. Overman enthusiastically explained about the Foundation and its efforts to help. She said that many people throughout the county had agreed to serve on the steering committee of the Foundation. She said that they have been before the county commissioners and the hospital board to find out the needs and explain their program. "For instance," she said, "my husband and I are planning to redecorate the nursery and make it more attractive for the mothers." Many things of this type are needed. Mrs. Overman also told of their plans, which are in the making, of raising funds for the hospital.

Other items discussed at the meeting included the organization of Candy Strippers. At a meeting last week, about 13 girls attended and Mrs. Ann Houston, supervisor of nurses at the hospital, explained the program to them and what they would be expected to do.
