Beulaville Traffic Problems Unsolved

After some town citizens turned out to express dissatisfaction with traffic recommendations from the North Carolina Department of Transportation during the August 1 meeting of the town board, Beulaville Commissioners voted to request a re-evaluation of traffic problems on Smith, Lee and Railroad Streets.

Reviewing suggestions from DOT, Beulaville Commissioners had proposed the removal of parking on the north and south sides of Highway 24 from a point 25 feet west of Railroad Street to a point 25 feet east of Railroad Street and converting Smith and Lee Streets into one-way lanes.

"If the streets are made one way that may prevent some accidents but that may cause some, too," Willie White of Sandlin's Department Store said. "One-way streets could inconvenience more people than they would be worth."

"I don't want to upset any of my customers," Bobby Miller of Miller Hardware said. "But something needs to be done. What is best for the people traveling the streets should be considered, and no matter what the decision is, some will be upset."

"I don't believe one-way streets will run anyone out of Beulaville, when it's done with the safety of the town citizens in mind," Cecil Lanier, a Beulaville auto businessman said. "I don't want it on my conscience to know we had a chance to change it (traffic problems) and did not. Especially if there is a terrible accident and someone is hurt bad."

"There is a real traffic problem and had the Department of Transportation not seen the need for changes they would not have made any recommendations," Lanier added.

Commissioner Rabon Maready stated the streets of Lee and Smith should be one-way. Maready said he had purposely travelled both streets a great deal since the Department of Transportation recommendations came before the Board in April and felt the safest solution to traffic problems on Lee and Smith would be one-way lanes. In a motion by Maready, the Board approved the recommendation to have the DOT re-evaluate traffic problems along Highway 24 in Beulaville. Commissioner Elvis Sumner voted against the motion.

Bids on a town computer system were opened by the Board. Computer Store of Jacksonville submitted a bid of $12,846.95; Specialized Data Systems of Greenville, $16,885; Northwestern Systems, Ltd. of Steamboat Springs, Co., $12,138; and IBM/Ormsby Associated of Wilmington, $17,543. Bids by Northwest Systems, Ltd. and IBM/Ormsby Associated were not accompanied by cash bid bonds. Budgeted for the purchase of the computer system in the Beulaville 1983-84 budget is $10,000. Listed in the specifications for the computer system are capabilities for billing water, sewer and trash collections fees and accounting incoming collections, tax billing, tax collections, fixed assets, budget preparation, special report generation, budgetary accounting, payroll and accounts payable. The bids on the computer systems for the town of Beulaville are to be evaluated by the Department of Urban Affairs at North Carolina State University.
