

Haunted House To Be At Duplin Fair

By Emily Killete

Do not come alone to the Warsaw Jaycees haunted house in the basement of the old Kenansville Elementary School during the October 3-8 Duplin Agribusiness Fair, said Warsaw Jaycee Ray Rhinehart.

"We have several things in mind for the haunted house," Warsaw Jaycee Ray Rhinehart said. "There will be a swamp with creatures from the mire and the traditional haunted house embalming room and other surprises." According to Rhinehart, the Jaycees are experienced at haunting houses and the old Kenansville Elementary School basement could be the best location the Jaycees have used since they began raising money through haunted house exhibits.

"I could not imagine a county fair without a haunted house exhibit," Rhinehart said. "And the money the Jaycees make offering tours through the haunted basement will go to projects like the tennis court lights at the Warsaw Recreation Park, toys for tots this Christmas, the North Carolina Boys' Home and the burn center. The boys' Home and the burn center are our priority projects for this year."

In past years the Warsaw Jaycees have offered tours of a haunted house almost annually. The exhibits have been during the week of Halloween in various houses in Warsaw. This year, Rhinehart said, Halloween will start a few weeks early in order to work with the Duplin Agribusiness Fair and share the Jaycees and Jaycees haunted house with the entire county.

"We have heard stories that the elementary school basement has been haunted for many years," Rhinehart said. "And, one of our members barely escaped with his life after having entered the school one night last week while the lights were out!"

Tours of the haunted basement will be given nightly October 3-8 from 7 until 10 p.m. Members of the Warsaw Jaycees and Jayceettes will act as tour guides through the haunted basement.

Carolina Log 'N' Demo

Duplin County citizens with an interest in logging will have a unique opportunity on Saturday, Oct. 1, when a series of logging equipment displays, educational booths and live woods demonstrations will be held near Ayden, south of Greenville, off Highway 11.

Phil Denlinger, Duplin extension agent, said the event, called "Carolina Log 'n' Demo," is the second biennial show held in Eastern North Carolina.

It is being held for loggers, equipment dealers, timber buyers and others for the entire mid-Atlantic region. We are fortunate that it is here in our state and near us, said Denlinger.

Sponsors of the demonstration are the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service and the N.C. Forestry Association.

Most major manufacturers of timber harvesting equipment will be represented. There will be educational exhibits, static displays and concurrent working demonstrations of the latest harvesting equipment.

Also planned is a pig pick'n' and country band to add to the festivities of the day. The NCSU Forestry Club will be present to demonstrate old-time logging skills.

JAYCEES HAUNTED HOUSE IN DUPLIN FAIR - The Warsaw Jaycees will be offering guided tours through the old haunted Kenansville Elementary school basement during the Oct. 3-8 Duplin Agribusiness Fair. Funds raised from the tours will be used in charity projects such as the Christmas toys for tots, the North Carolina Boys Home and the burn center. Pictured above, the ghosts and goblins begin to arrive and select their haunt in the old Kenansville elementary school basement. Do not come alone!

Army Enlistments

Frances M. Harris, Glenda R. Wood and Alice E. Warrington recently enlisted in the U.S. Army with the assistance of Staff Sgt. William A. Fitzgerald, Army recruiter in Clinton.

All three enlisted in the Army's Delayed Entry Program (DEP). DEP allows qualified applicants to take up to 12 months after enlisting before reporting for active duty.

Warrington is a 1982 graduate of James Kenan High School and studied criminal justice at James Sprunt Technical College. She will report for active duty in the Army in January 1984. At Fort McClellan, Ala. she will attend both basic and military police training. Warrington joined the Army to gain "experience in the criminal justice field, for the experience and challenge, and to get the $20,100 for further college" through the Army College Fund.

Warrington is the daughter of Larry D. and Marie R. Warrington of Kenansville.

Wood, the daughter of Johnny W. and Ann H. Wood of Chinquapin, will graduate from East Duplin High School in June. At Fort Jackson, S.C. she will attend basic training and learn the skills of an administrative specialist. She reports for active duty in June 1984. She joined the Army "for the opportunity to learn a skill, to travel, for the benefits and to put myself through college" with the Army College Fund.

Harris is a senior at Wallace-Rose Hill High School. She's the daughter of Joseph and Judith Whaley of Rose Hill. Next June she will attend basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C. Then she will train at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. to become a computer operator. Harris joined the Army "because it gave me the opportunity to go into a field that I am interested in."

Joins Army

Cathy N. Lanier, a 1980 graduate of East Duplin High School, has accepted a full-time Reserve position with the Army.

Lanier received her training at Fort Lee, Va., and currently serves as assistant platoon sergeant with the 650th Transportation Company in Kinston.

Lanier is the daughter of Charlie N. and Shirley J. Hines of Beulaville. She is a former Medicaid clerk of Duplin General Hospital in Kenansville.
