In Memory of Margaret O. Dail

Our God still sits on the throne on high
Watching below as the days go by
He muses there with a heavy heart
Grieving for those who from life must part
Some of them will be good, some will be bad
But no matter which, to Him it is sad
Let this be one who had done no harm
Who is calm and quiet and has some charm
Let it be one who is sedate and serene
One who has no meanness in all her being
One who has little temper, is not easily upset
One who will be remembered, no one will forget
One who is gentle and loving and kind
One who keeps other people in mind
Let this be one who loves the Lord
Who obeys his teachings with sweet accord
Now He thought and gave a great sigh
I must do it now, the time is night
The angels descended with the speed of a dove
And carried Margaret Dail's spirit to the heaven above.

Johnson-Strickland Exchange Vows

Donna Lynn Strickland and Joseph Ray Johnson were married Sunday, October 2, at three o'clock in the afternoon at the Warsaw United Methodist Church. The Reverend Jimmy Creech officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Durwood Strickland of Warsaw. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilbert Strickland of Erwin.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Bowden Johnson of Warsaw.

A program of traditional wedding music was presented by Jim Aycok of Goldsboro, organist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with a chapel train of chiffon and imported Alencon lace over taffeta. The fitted lace torso bodice featured a V-neckline and cap sleeves. Scalloped lace outlined the neckline. Seed pearls adorned the bodice. The layered chiffon over taffeta skirt extended into a chapel train. The bride chose a mantilla of bridal illusion adorned with lace motifs flowing from an Alencon lace caplet etched with seed pearls for her headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis and gypsophila with English ivy.

Miss Della Strickland served her sister as maid of honor. She carried a bouquet of silk red and lavender anemones with variegated red and white morning glories and English ivy. She wore a red taffeta dress designed with a V-neck in front and back with a collar overlay and cummerbund. The other bridesmaids were Paula Atkins of Raleigh, Mary Best Blanton and Paula Huyett of Wilmington, Ciddie Carver of Cary and Monena Buck of Kinston. They wore gowns matching that of the maid of honor and carried similar bouquets.

The bridegroom chose J.C. Page of Warsaw as his best man. Ray wore a two-tone gray tuxedo with vest, white pleated shirt and bow tie and a red rose boutonniere. Groomsman were Steve Johnson of Greenville, Jeff Landen of Pink Hill, Mack Jones of Mount Olive, William Spencer of Raleigh and Tim Hunter of Lebanon, Tenn. Their attire matched that of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of teal green organza with satin ribbon trim, rounded neck, long sleeves and cummerbund, and she carried a cymbidium orchid-pinned purse. The mother of the groom wore a formal gown of coral organza featuring an empire waistline of inlay pearls and three-quarter cape sleeves. Her matching beaded purse was pinned with an orchid.

Judy Revelle Baran presided at the register. Suzanne Riddick served as acolyte, Marie Riddick and Martha Swann directed the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of James Kenan High School and attended the University of North Carolina at Wilmington. She has been employed by Duplin Publishing Company in Kenansville for the past several years.

The groom is a graduate of James Kenan High School and North Carolina State University. He is employed by Southeastern Electronics in Raleigh.
