

Manufacturing Plant To Open In Warsaw

It was announced by John Gurganus, executive director of the Duplin Development Commission, that Duplin Manufacturing Co., Inc. has leased a manufacturing facility in Warsaw to manufacture children's sportswear. The company will be sewing under their own label and for major department stores throughout the country. The building, which DMC leased, was built for a manufacturing plant on W.L. Hill Avenue and Gum Street in the northern part of Warsaw by a group of civic leaders with the assistance of the Warsaw Development Corp. and local financial institutions to promote employment opportunities in the county.

The firm's principals currently operate facilities in Wayne, Lenoir and Edgecomb counties, and plan to begin the operation in Warsaw within the next couple of weeks. Applications for sewing machine operators, trimmers, inspectors, service personnel and mechanics will be accepted at the plant between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

on Saturday, Oct. 15. The company plans to begin with 50 employees and is optimistic about growth in the Warsaw area. Nick Gambella will be managing the facility. He indicated the availability of the facility and the community were two of many factors which led them to select Warsaw for their new operation.

Horses At The Fair

You missed it if you didn't see the Duplin County horses on exhibit in the livestock tent of the Duplin Agribusiness Fair each night of the fair. Thanks to Horace (Bo) Hanchey Jr., Jack Stephens, Dr. and Mrs. John Moore and Donna Wrenn, there were several breeds exhibited, including quarter horse, a Morgan stud, a thoroughbred quarter horse cross, and a mare with colt.

On Saturday morning an exhibition of the horses was given at Turkey Stadium. Approximately 25-30 spectators were present and their interest was appreciated.

Individuals who took time to bring their horses and exhibit their talents are to be thanked. They were: Jack Stephens of Kenansville riding Bartilli, an 8-year bay quarter horse mare; Jean Stephens of Kenansville, riding Shooky Leo, a 7-year black quarter horse gelding; W.H. (Herman) Raynor of Calypso, riding Heidi, a 6-year sorrel quarter horse mare; Nan Williamson, daughter of Steve and Nancy Williamson of Kenansville, riding Jill, a 8-year blood bay pony horse mare; Donna Wrenn of Kenansville, riding My Buddy Samson, a 9-year dark bay thoroughbred-quarter horse cross gelding; Hugh Hanchey, son of Bo and Barbara Hanchey of Rose Hill, riding Red, a 6-year pinto mare; and Margie Hanchey, daughter of the Hanchey's of Rose Hill, riding Wendy, a 6-year pinto mare.

There was a display of both western tack and attire.

along with English tack and attire. The horses were shown in their natural gaits of either walk, jog, trot and canter, with some examples of reverse (used in western pleasure showing) and some jumping. It should be noted that some of the owners had shown their horses in halter classes, western or English pleasure classes, in shows and in parades. Appreciation is expressed
