

Moore - Hale United

Julia Ruth Hale and J. Michael Moore, both of Warsaw, were united in marriage on Saturday, October 29, at half after two o'clock in the afternoon at James Dinwiddie Chapel, Peace College, Raleigh.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hale Sr. of Roanoke Rapids. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Saul E. Moore of Jones County. The ceremony was officiated by the Reverend George Thomas, Peace College chaplain.

A program of music was rendered by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Moore, organist and great aunt of the groom, and Thomas Rose, soloist, who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Dot Wagoner of Raleigh. The register was attended by Mrs. Deborah McFadyen and Mrs. Dianne Gentry of Raleigh.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown in white organza with beaded Chantilly lace. Lace fashioned the empire-waisted fitted bodice with a high neckline underscored with a sheer yoke embroidered with a lace cameo. Lace extended down the full bishop sleeves cuffed in the same. More lace touched the skirt to form an inverted V with a wide lace flounce that bordered the skirt and the attached cathedral-length lace train. Her double chapel-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a pearl embroidered Chantilly lace-covered cap. Wide lace trim scalloped the illusion. Lace appliques touched the illusion. The bride wore single cultured pearl earrings, a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade, Victorian-style bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, and English ivy atop her prayer book.

Wilma E. Hawley of Smithfield was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Vickie Tart of Dunn, Sharon Hale of Standardsville, Va., sister-in-law of the bride; Melinda Beard of Nags Head, cousin of the bride; Cindy Shackelford of Kinston, sister of the groom; and Kimberly Raynor of Four Oaks, cousin of the groom. They wore floor-length gowns of dusty rose with a matching lace jacket. They carried stylized bouquets of mixed English flowers.

Saul E. Moore served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Jerry Hale of Roanoke Rapids and Jim Hale of Standardsville, Va., brothers of the bride; James Myers of Winston-Salem, Will Grant of Lexington, and Kenneth McCaskill of Sylva, fraternity brothers of the groom. They were attired in charcoal gray tuxedos with black trim.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hale chose a formal-length blue gown with a ruffled neckline. The groom's mother chose a formal-length burgundy gown with a matching sheer overlay from the neckline. Both wore corsages to match their gowns.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the North Carolina State University Alumni Building. Guests were served swedish meatballs, fresh fruit, clam dip with chips, spinach balls, cheese straws and punch. After the couple cut the first slice of the seven-tiered wedding cake, Mrs. Janie Askew of Roanoke Rapids and Mrs. Ruth Jordan of Virginia Beach, Va., aunts of the bride, completed the serving. Punch was poured by Mrs. Betty Lou Noble of Kinston, Mrs. Agnes Raynor of Four Oaks, Mrs. Edna Hale of Roanoke Rapids, and

Mrs. Wanda Westbrook of Greeville, all relatives of the couple.

After a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., the couple plans to reside in Warsaw.

The bride, a graduate of Peace College, is employed as an administrative secretary at Duplin General Hospital in Kenansville.

Whitley Announces Disaster Designations

Congressman Charlie Whitley announced that he has been informed by U.S. Agriculture Secretary John R. Block that five more counties — Duplin, Johnston, Onslow, Pender and Wayne — in the third district have been declared disaster areas making qualified farmers eligible for low interest federal loans.

Block told Whitley that Sampson's County's designation has been deferred pending completion of the USDA assessment of draught losses in that county.

In other counties of the third district, Lee, Bladen, Jones, Harnett and Moore had already been designated disaster areas with at least 30 percent of 1983 crops lost to the summer drought.

The notification of the five disaster designations came after the secretary had informed the congressman that individual farmers with drought losses would be considered for loan eligibility even if their farms were not within the boundaries of a disaster area county.
