SBA Accepting Loan Applications

Larry Cherry, district director for the Small Business Administration (SBA) announced that Economic Injury Disaster loans are available to eligible small business concerns in the counties whose businesses were affected by the impact on farm income as a result of extended drought and high temperature beginning March 1 and continuing through Oct. 10, 1983. The counties named included Duplin.

loans are working capital loans and are made only to provide relief from economic injury caused directly by the disaster and to permit the business to maintain a reasonable working capital position during the period affected by the disaster.

will be based upon the business' actual economic injury.

Economic Injury Disaster Wallace Native Gets Publisher

Wallace native Ritchie D. Watson Jr. has had his study of the evolution of the Cavalier character stereotype in Virginia fiction accepted for publication by the Louisiana State University Press of Baton Rouge.

Watson is an associate professor of English at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va.

The maturity of these loans may not exceed 30 years. The interest rate will be eight percent per annum and the deadline for filing for financial assistance is April 27, 1984.

Spring Street, SW, Suite 822, Atlanta, GA 30303, telephone (404) 221-5854. The office hours for the Atlanta office are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (EDST). Information can be obtained from the Charlotte District Office of SBA at 230 S. Tryon Street, Charlotte, NC 28202.

FmHA Accepting Emergency Loan Applications

Duplin County was declared eligible for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) disaster emergency loans on Oct. 27th. Generally that means that farmers who have lost at least 30 percent of their production due to the drought are eligible for FmHA loans. Proceeds from crop insurance and the PIK program are taken into account when determining eligibility.

to get their applications in as soon as possible after they have completed harvesting. Mills said, "We hope farmers will get their applications in early rather than waiting until near the deadline, which is April 27, 1984. The longer they wait, the more chance there is for long delays in getting their checks. If the applications come in early we can avoid backlogs and speed up the process."

FmHA County Supervisor J.M. Mills Jr. is urging farmers who are interested in receiving an emergency loan

The FmHA office is located in the Agricultural Building in Kenansville. The telephone number is 296-0827. Application packages can be picked up at the county office.

American Education Week At E. E. Smith

American Education Week should, insofar as possible, include something for everyone — students, parents, teachers, community groups and the general public. E.E. Smith has planned several activities to promote the awareness of American Education Week in the school as well as the community.

Parents are encouraged to visit the school this week and especially on Wednesday to have lunch with their children.

AEW publicity consists of the following: Monday - Mrs. Hueston's FHA club will entertain the faculty after school at a teachers meeting with punch and cookies.

Resource people from the community will be visiting classrooms to teach ways in which education is important to future growth.

Tuesday and Thursday the PTO will entertain the faculty with refreshments in the lounge.

Students from the English classes of Mrs. Blalock, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Craft and Mrs. Quinn wrote the logo for AEW on grocery bags from Quinns, Browns and Jackson stores that will be distributed this week in the community by the stores. Art and writing competition among students will be used as a learning lesson on education. Bulletin boards will be fixed on each hall enlightening students of the importance of American Education Week.

Wednesday Ellenberg Florist from Warsaw will present teachers with corsages and boutonnières.

E.E. Smith is proud of its school and is enjoying sharing experiences with the community.

Friday, Mrs. Ruby McGowan, secretary, will entertain the faculty with ham and sausage biscuits and coffee for breakfast.

E.E. Smith is proud of its school and is enjoying sharing experiences with the community.
