

Boy Scouts Celebrate Anniversary

"None of this would be possible without the adult volunteers who give their time so unselfishly. There are more than 1,000 volunteers working with 3,600 youth in the Tuscarora Council's four-county area," said Pete Petras, district executive, of Clinton.

Anniversary Week activities got underway Feb. 5 with Scout Sunday. Various activities for the Week were planned within all four districts, with Scout Sabbath Services to conclude the week on Feb. 11.

"We really want to pay tribute to our volunteers, but we also want to honor the people who support them such as employers and spouses," Petras said. "After all, volunteers do sacrifice time away from home and work to be of service to Scouts and Explorers."

Scouts of America programs in the area with the help of local volunteers for 65 years. "This year's week-long observance is dedicated to the untiring efforts of those volunteers, said Petras.

"We are a volunteer-based organization," said Ed Hardister, council executive. "Since it was organized in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America has dedicated itself to providing an educational program for boys and young adults that build character, trains them in responsible citizenship and develops personal fitness."

For further information, contact Pete Petras, district executive, at 118 Jefferson Street in Clinton or call 592-2603.

Craft Expo '84

The Neuse Area Development Association and the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service will again sponsor "Expo '84," a crafts fair to be held in Morehead City on July 7 and 8.

The screening date for craft items for the exhibition is March 7 and will be held at the AES office in Kinston, according to Mae Spicer, extension home economics agent. Craftsmen from Carteret, Craven, Duplin, Greene, Jones, Lenoir, Onslow, Pamlico and Wayne counties are urged to have their items screened so they may participate in Expo '84.

triplicate for each craft submitted. Three items of each craft are required for this screening.

Duplin County craftsmen may bring their items to the Duplin County Agricultural Extension office in Kenansville by March 1 for transportation to Kinston. Call ahead and make an appointment with the agent so she will be available to assist you with the application.

Craftsmen in the nine-county Neuse Area Development region are urged to be screened for participation in Expo '84.

Contribute To Quinn Fund

The students of Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Lee's class presented $115 to Mrs. Alice Worthington to help cover some of the expense of the Ashley Quinn Benefit "Color Me Beautiful" which was held at The Country Squire last Thursday. These boys and girls wanted to do something for the Quinn family so they made cupcakes, candy, cookies, brownies and cool ade and sold it at recess at West Duplin Academy. This was their way of putting into practice what they had learned in the Bible story of Dorcas and their way of saying we care and we love you. Pictured, left to right: Mrs. Alice Worthington, Sharon Kennedy, Cathy Carter, Allen Tyndall, David Wallace, Michael Casteen, Grey Casteen, Second row, Danny Brock, Chris Henry, Susan Purdee, Sandy Hinson, Becky Kennedy, Melissa Wells, Charles Weaver, Chris Whaley. Third row, Mrs. Tamra Rhodes and Mrs. Catherine Lee.
