Liberty Cart Scouts For Talent At Regional Auditions

Fourteen major outdoor historical drama companies from across the nation, including Kenansville's THE LIBERTY CART, will audition young performers from the southeast at the Institute of Outdoor Drama Auditions in Chapel Hill March 17.

Staff members are looking for 25-30 actors, actresses and technicians for the 1984 season.

THE LIBERTY CART also auditioned performers at the annual Southeastern Theatre Conference in Arlington, Va. March 7-11.

Similar to IOD auditions, they perform a one-minute monologue and sing a one-minute number. Separate dance auditions are held and technicians are hired through a Job Contact Service, provided by both conferences to match THE LIBERTY CART needs with applicants. The people hired join with a local cast of approximately 35 to make the cast and crew one of the largest in the area.

The 1984 LIBERTY CART season will open July 13 and play each Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights thru August 25 at 8:15 p.m.
