

United Daughters Of The Confederacy

The March meeting of The United Daughters of the Confederacy was held at Evergreen Baptist Church with Misses Marion and Mary Kate Allen as hostess. Mrs. Celestial Colwell presided. A report of 15 books read was given.

Mrs. Mary Blackburn presented the program entitled "Submarine Hunley." She recounted that the 25-foot craft, owned by private parties, was built for the profitable business of sinking enemy vessels as prizes. She sailed under orders of Gen. B.G.T. Beauregard, commander of Charleston's defenses.

One night the sub lay at her Charleston berth, the crew below wedged so tightly that no one could pass. Lt. Payne stood forward ready to pull down the hatch when the wake of a passing steamer washed over the deck, swamping the Hunley and sending her to the bottom. Payne wriggled out the open hatch but was the only survivor.

In another trial she lost a second crew of volunteers, with Lt. Payne and two others crawling from the hatch to safety. Beauregard's faith was revived by the arrival of Horace Hunley, himself, who begged to be allowed to try again. One diving test was successful, but on Oct. 15, 1863, Hunley went down to his death with a fresh crew. The Hunley lay with her bow deep in mud at 35 degrees. Hunley had his hand over his head as if trying to raise the hatch against heavy pressure. An unlighted candle was in his left hand. A messenger to Beauregard reported that still another crew had been lost in the experimental coffin.

Though her location is known, she has evaded modern divers and still rests on the bottom of Charleston harbor — by 50 years the first successful submarine, and until World War II, the only American sub to sink an enemy vessel.

Duplin General Hospital Auxiliary To Celebrate Anniversary In April

Duplin General Hospital Auxiliary members will celebrate their fourth anniversary in April. For this momentous occasion, a covered-dish dinner will be held in the parlor of the Kenansville United Methodist Church at noon on April 16th. Prospective members will be entertained and after lunch taken on a tour of the hospital.

The Auxiliary met at the hospital Wednesday morning. Business discussed, other than the Auxiliary anniversary, was the great success of the cart tournament held last week. There were 21 tables in play and the report from the group was that most everyone had a most enjoyable time. Proceeds of $252.50 from the tournament will go towards purchasing new hospital equipment. The Auxiliary hopes to sponsor another tournament in the fall.

An inspirational devotional was given by Mrs. Sallie C. Ingram. Mrs. Carolyn Hall presided at the meeting.

Wins Membership Award

American Legion Auxiliary #379 of Albertson was the winners of the "Enrich America" membership award that was given for the only unit in the state to have the largest membership over goal of last year — 36 members. They were able to sign up 31 new members, making a total of 67 members in their unit this year. Pictured above is National Department Headquarters President Anna Gear of Virginia when she came to the spring conference in Fayetteville to present the $500 award to the Albertson unit. Also shown is Violet Smith, Division III president and membership chairman of the unit, accepting the check on behalf of Unit President and 7th District Vice President Jean Grady. Up to this date her unit is also the highest in Junior membership. She was unable to attend the conference in Fayetteville. The rules are as follows: They must beautify a community project and take slides from start to finish each step of the way and then make a report on each slide taken and have it ready in time for the American Legion Auxiliary national convention so the slides can be shown there. The convention this year will be held in Salt Lake City, Utah. The Auxiliary is now making preparations for the project and getting the community involved.

Attends State Distinguished Service Awards Banquet

From the 88 nominees, including Kenansville resident Louise K. Boney, five North Carolina women were named for distinguished service by the North Carolina Council on the Status of Women, March 23 in Raleigh.

Selected as the top five Distinguished Women of North Carolina were Elizabeth H. Dole of Washington, D.C., formerly of Salisbury; Mrs. Braswell Jones of Rocky Mount; Martha C. McKay of Raleigh; Deborah C. McKeithan of Charlotte and Dr. Ellen B. Winton of Raleigh. The presentation of awards was made by Governor James B. Hunt Jr. of North Carolina.

Mrs. Boney was selected as a nominee for her work as a public school teacher, Red Cross worker, Girl Scout leader and church worker. While a long-time resident of Kenansville, Mrs. Boney has worked in Grove Presbyterian Church for 60 years, Duplin County Red Cross for 45 years, and Girl Scouts for 25 years.

NOTE OF THANKS

I wish to thank you, my friends, whose kind acts and gracious thoughts gave me much support during my recent illness. Your deeds of kindness, whether it was a prayer, a visit, a card, a floral arrangement, a gift or a telephone call meant more to me than words can express. Hermon joins me in extending this sincere "thank you." May God bless each of you.
