Persons who are currently being treated for these diseases will not be tested during this clinic.

Testing at this clinic will be done by nurses from the N.C. Department of Human Resources and local volunteer nurses. Members of the Mount Olive Rescue Squad will be checking blood pressure during the clinic.

Grady-Sanderson Wed

On Sunday, April 8th, at four o'clock in the afternoon, Cynthia Lynn Sanderson and David Allen Grady were united in marriage. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Chris Singleton at the Beulaville Original Free Will Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Brice Sanderson of Beulaville. The groom is the son of Mr. D.V. Grady of Kenansville and Mrs. Faye Coward of Greenville.

A program of special music was performed by Kim Taylor, organist, and Michael Sanderson, flutist. Soloist Joell Thomas sang "You Needed Me," "The Wedding Prayer," and "Looking Through the Eyes of Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted to the altar by her father.

The bride wore a formal gown of white silkened organza and Chantilly lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, natural waistline and sheer yoke with Schiffl embroidery and beads and stand-up collar. The long fitted sleeves ended with calla points over the hand. Tiers of ruffled organza and lace swept into a cathedral train. Her bridal hat, covered with lace and highlighted with pearls, featured a side-rolled brim and finger tip veil with blusher. She carried a bouquet of silk flowers of mauve highlighted in pink.

Melissa Raynor served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Mary Raynor, Tonya Jones, Sheila Groves, Molly Lanier and Janet Howard. The maid of honor wore a formal gown of pink taffeta with a Queen Anne neckline, fitted waist with mauve ribbon and puffed sleeves. She carried three long-stemmed mauve roses. The bridesmaids' gowns were fashioned the same except in mauve taffeta and they carried three pink long-stemmed roses. The flowergirl, Abby Smith, wore a gown fashioned the same except with a square neckline. She carried a white basket of mauve and pink flowers.

The father of the groom served as his son's best man. Groomsmen included Kevin Sanderson, Pat

Bostic, Gordon Howard, David Whitman and James Futreal. They were attired in grey tuxedos, pin-striped pants, white tucked shirts with bowties. The groom chose a tuxedo like that of the groomsmen except with tails and a grey and white ascot. They each wore a pink boutonniere. The ringbearer, Justin Marker, wore a grey tuxedo like those of the groomsmen and carried a white satin and lace ring pillow.

Following the maid of honor was Corrine Spence and Brent Miller attired as miniature bride and groom.

The bride's mother chose a formal gown of lavender polyester with a gathered skirt, sheer overblouse featuring a high ruffled neckline and sheer sleeves. The groom's mother chose a formal gown of suede rose polyester with a V-neck, empire bodice, flared skirt and sheer sleeves. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

The grandmothers all wore street-length dresses and white corsages.

The couple spoke their nuptial vows before the church altar accented with a cathedral and two spiral candelabrams and baskets of ferns. They knelt together on a kneeling bench while "The Wedding Prayer" was being sung. The wedding was under the direction of Elma Gray Bostic of Kenansville. Attending the register were Robin Jones and Ellen Sandlin.

The bride is a graduate of East Duplin High School and is employed by Thomas and Horne and Beulaville Drug. The groom is a graduate of James Kenan High School and is employed by Jackson's IGA. They will make their home at Route 2, Pink Hill.

Reception

A reception was hosted by the bride's parents in the church fellowship hall following the ceremony. Two long tables were beautifully arranged with white lace floor-length tablecloths. Several finger foods, wedding cake and punch were served. They were accented by flower arrangements and lighted

TOUR SWITZERLAND

Want to drive on a rural road, visit a hilltop Swiss farm and see Switzerland's beautiful countryside? Mae H. Spicer, Duplin home economics extension agent reports this opportunity is available in a tour sponsored by the Neuse Area Development home economics committee. Tour dates are Sept. 23 to Oct. 1. Reservations and down payments are now being accepted. The tour cost is $997.

"The tour will be in northeast Switzerland in the upper Toggenburg area," according to Spicer. This is not a tourist area. This is a farming area, one made up of family dairy farms, small cheese factories and little villages tucked here and there. These people make their living off the land just as most Duplin families do. There will be some optional one- or two-day tours available.

If you are interested in more details, contact Mae Spicer at the Duplin Agricultural Extension office at 296-1996.

BEULAVILLE LIBRARY

According to Jeanie Sybrant, Beulaville librarian, the library in Beulaville will be open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1-5 p.m. The library is located between East Duplin Florist and Christian Light-house Bookstore.
