

Healthy Living In Duplin County

Carolina in 1914, the median age of life was 28; today the median is 68. 5) The outbreaks of typhoid fever and related diseases have been reduced drastically due to better protection of our water supplies and proper sewage disposal. 6) Small pox in the United States has been eradicated.

As can be seen, much has been accomplished, but much more is left to do.

Currently the staff of the health department is composed of 11 nurses, six clerks, one aide, three sanitarians, a receptionist, medical consultant, director, administrative assistant, public health educator and a housekeeper.

The nurses are Helen Ballard, Sarah Inez B. Hodges, Ruth Cooper, Cindy Carlton, Beaty Dobson, Mildred LaCoe, Betty Rose, Eileen Whitfield, Bonita Fountain, Lee Brock and Lynn Fussell.

The clerks include Marie Miller, Lula Williams, Jervine Smith, Alice Tuten, Becky Brown and Sue Sutton. The sanitarians are L.H. Sikes, Ronnie Kennedy and Sam Glasgow. The administrative assistant is Gail S. Sikes and the community health aide is Doris Howell. The X-Ray machine operator is Ruth Harper, the health educator, Debra Scott Beasley, housekeeper, Elnora Stanley, receptionist, Joe Ann Cavanaugh, medical consultant, Dr. C.L. Quinn; and the director is Joe L. Costin.

Health Officers and Directors
The health officers and directors include: Dr. C.H. White, 1934-1935; Dr. R.L. Carr, 1935-1939; Dr. H.C. Wysong, 1939-1940; Dr. B.M. Drake, Aug. 1, 1940 - Sept., 1941; Dr. John A.
