In the absence of the president, Anne Jackson, director, called the meeting to order and welcomed those in attendance.

Dr. Austin Carter gave a devotional and asked those present to introduce themselves and indicate the school they represented as well as the grade and program their child or children attend.

Carter and Jackson discussed the programs which are set up to supplement the classroom reading and math programs. They talked with parents concerning test scores used for qualifying students for the assistance. They also discussed how students are scheduled into the classes and methods and materials used to provide assistance. Parents expressed their ideas, talked about the needs of their own children, and wanted to know more about how teachers would meet specific needs.

"Johnny Lingo", a film depicting the influence of peer and environment would be able to attend some of the meetings. The next meeting will be Jan. 27, 1986.

Meeting dates were discussed and parents asked that dates be staggered in order that all members' mental opinion and stimuli on view of self, was shown. The efforts of enforcement on human relations were reflected in the lives of island inhabitants. It was shown to help visualize the need for children to develop a good self-image. Also, it gave suggestions of how parents can help promote this positive self-image.

Parents were asked for suggestions for future PAC programs. Some suggestions were: other films that would help parents learn more about working with their children and demonstrations of the materials used

At Trent River Bassmasters

Danny Herring of Kenansville used Bang-a-Lures and Culprit worms to capture first place at the Trent River in New Bern in the Duplin County Bassmaster November tournament. Herring topped the field by combining a main river pattern along with a feeder creek pattern throughout the day.

Ski Bodzinski of Chinquapin used the Do-Nothing worm technique to take second. Bodzinski found the fish he caught on the main river channel. By concentrating on the channel ledge, the lure could be danced down to the waiting bass.

The 1986 schedule is complete and will be available soon. See a member and join the fun and fish. Use your fishing sticks in '86.

Chinquapin School 1960 Reunion

On Nov. 30, the 1960 Class of Chinquapin High School held their 25th reunion at the Country Squire in Kenansville.

It began with a social hour with everyone getting name tags and they did come in handy as there were many who had not seen each other in 25 years.

The welcome was given by Ann Lee Dail English, who had composed a poem that everyone got a kick out of as it brought back memories.

Following the meal there was a time of catching up as each classmate introduced their companion and told of their accomplishments thus far.

Pictures of kids and grand-kids were passed and enjoyed. Ronald Lanier delivered the closing speech, followed by prayer led by Wendell Sholar.

Fifty-six attended and seemed to enjoy it all. They received a booklet with information about classmates to take home and enjoy later. The committee for the reunion consisted of Brenda Lanier Batts, Ronald Lanier, Mary Linda Raynor Pickett, Janice Maready Hatcher, Jackie Hatcher and Lana Padrick Whaley. Tonight we have gathered to try and remember

The days when we were in school
The girls in oxfords and bobby socks
And the boys who thought they were cool;
The basketball games and the cheering -
Man were they out of sight!

But holding hands on the way to class
Was such a great delight;
The tests and the exams were such horror
The tests and the exams were such horror
All of them we did dread
And if you don't think some would cheat:
Just let Mr. Sills turn his head;
Twenty-five years have flown swiftly by
And many of us have tasted success;
Not one class member has passed away
And in this we are truly blessed;
Even those some pounds have been added
And some of us are real out of shape
The hair on some may be thinning
But in all I think we look great;
The Lord has truly blessed us
Through these 25 years -
And I know there has been much laughter
Also some heartaches and tears
But tonight let's just count our blessings,
Enjoy each friend that's here,
Swap stories and pictures and visit;
Let's get this reunion in high gear!
