Mr. Makepeace's topic will be "The preservation of our ideals." Lubeck and children have gone New York to meet Capt. Lubeck. This is what he has long been hoping for, but on account of German name and lineage, has would not come to him. withstanding the gloomy weather Wednesday afternoon, a genuflection of sunlight and good cheer. The NEWS office by the arrival of P. H. Bailey, cashier of the Bank of Saluda. After leaving some cigars, a lot of job work, and hearty good wishes he went on way to attend the session of North Carolina bankers, at Raleigh. To this man is to love him, and it wonder that the Bank of Saluda such a healthy condition. It did not do otherwise and have such man as P. H. Bailey to look after interests. an adjourned meeting of the Tryon School Board was held at school house Friday afternoon, at which four of the five members were present. After a conference with the members about their work, past and future, it was unanimously voted in view of their faithful attention to duty, and the improvement of school, they be reemployed for another year, on the basis of the contract of the previous year, and of their proper certificates from proper officials. We want all our readers to carefully read the appeal of the Red Cross the first page of this issue for the money with which to buy tobacco for the American soldiers in France. The newspapers of the country have volunteered to raise money for this purpose, and many thousands of cartons of tobacco have been sent the boys by the money thus raised. There are now some Polk county boys "Over There" and more. Can you think of our boys eating American tobacco, and none had at any price? $1.00 will buy one soldier in tobacco for one month. We would like for all our correspondents to take up this matter and solicit money every time you are in a crowd, either church, singing, or other gathering. Send your contributions to the NEWS and we will promptly forward same to headquarters. But don't wait to be asked, and in your money. The Doubleday family have a fine cherry tree—a tree of fine cherries, that is—of which the birds are also fond. But they—the birds—are very timid. An old plantation has been hung in the tree. The end of its rope is attached to a rocking chair on the porch. Knitting and rocking combined keep the bell ringing enough of the time to discourage the birds and enables the proprietors of the tree to market a crop of fruit. The birds can't even take advantage of their early rising habits, for owing to the new time system the rocking chair is in motion early enough to drive the pillagers away. Mr. Kruse has also been obliged to share his fine crop of cherries with these Hunnish aviators who plunder trees of not only what they can eat, but destroy more by pecking and tasting. The other day Mr. Kruse threw a stone at a pillaging scarlet tanager. Instead of flying away, the bird turned at him a look of scorn, as much as to say, "How dare you interfere with my business, you impudent cuss?"

Mr. Scranton and family left, Wednesday, for their home at Harbor Beach, Mich. They are among numerous but not too many "welcome-to-our-city"—"come-again"—semi residents that add to Tryon's attractions. Some miscreant stole several feet of the chain recently put around the grass plat, near the railroad, for the protection of the grass against encroachment of automobiles. It is hoped that the rascal will be found out and properly punished. Richard the Three Times was the way Artemus Ward spoke of the famous King Richard III of England. James Vernon Three Times, was just arrived in Detroit. He came pretty near being a native of Tryon. He's got a pretty good job cut out for him, not only to honor his father and mother, but to do honor to them and his grandfather, James Vernon I. They are now all near Tryonites. Cooper Gap farmers are certainly doing their part in raising of food crops this year. A number of the farmers of that township were in Tryon Tuesday and Wednesday, after a consignment of cans, numbering 59,000. They visited the NEWS office and were instructed in the way in which the NEWS is manufactured every week. It was the good fortune of the editor to make a trip through Cooper Gap not long since, and we were agreeably surprised at the fine food crops that met our gaze on every hand, and many thousands of vegetables and fruits will be canned in that section this year. Mr. Howard J. Carpenter, nephew of Mrs. Richard J. whose visits here to his relatives, have made him known to Tryon people, went to Washington last week to meet his aunt on her way to New York. She missed him and went on. In the meantime his wife became alarmed at his failure to return or communicate with him, went to Washington to find him helpless at the station where he had been a day or two, just recovering consciousness from a paralytic stroke that he had suffered only previous to the arrival of the train that brought his aunt. He was unable to say anything except to ask "Where's Aunt Mary?" and so could give no account of himself. At last reports from Mrs. Carpenter he was much better. Many patrons of the Lanier Library are familiar with his name on account of the readable books he has contributed to that institution. —W. S. S.— REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. B. C. VonKahliden, R. B. Streadwick, Annie McDuffey, Salina Fields, A. J. Cowan, J. H. Parris and J. T. Bridgman, lease to manufacturers Power Co., consideration, $100. Marie D. Swett to Henry Bray, — acres; consideration, $500.00. —W. S. S.— IT LAYS THEM OUT. After a forty year's struggle, the enlightened portion of the Methodist church secured "votes for women" in their organization. It was, of course, promptly vetoed by the Bishops. The less democracy in their church the more Prussianized their control. They also prefer to have it still known as the "Holy Catholic Church," rather than "Christ's Holy Church." For they refused also to have it so changed. A certain percentage of mankind don't want the world to move. When at last it does they throw themselves in front of it like the devotees of juggernaut. It rolls over them like an armored war tank and leaves them behind—well flattened out and unable to ever do it again. E. G. H. —W. S. S.— LANIER LIBRARY FLOURISHES. Speaking of efficiency and prosperity, seldom, if ever, has the Lanier Library been better managed and provided, either by contribution or purchase, with up-to-date, popular and solid books. Miss Purdy and the librarian, Miss Oliver, are now engaged in selecting and buying as much recent "best selling" fiction, biographies and war works as funds permit. Those delinquents who have been vexed with themselves for carelessness in not returning books due, may console themselves with the knowledge that they are helping to provide additional entertainment or education for themselves and others, as the fines are chiefly used in buying new books. The management has also received the thanks and compliments from army officials for the large consignment of books it collected and sent to the boys "in camp" here or at the front. —W. S. S.— MEMORIAL AND FAST DAY. Whereas, the President of the United States, through a resolution adopted by Congress, has issued a proclamation setting aside Thursday, May 30th, 1918, as a special day of fasting and of special worship and prayer, therefore be it Resolved by the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Tryon, that the Mayor of the town be instructed and empowered to call together all of the people of the community to a special song and prayer service to be held at the Congregational Church on May 30th, 1918. A Proclamation. Whereas, the Commissioners of the Town of Tryon have unanimously adopted the above resolution, therefore, I, E. E. Missildine, Mayor of the Town of Tryon, do hereby urge and request that every person in the community, who can possibly do so, attend and take part in the special community service to be held at the Congregational Church on May 30th, 1918, at 8:15 p. m. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Town of Tryon to be affixed. E. E. MISSILDINE, Mayor.

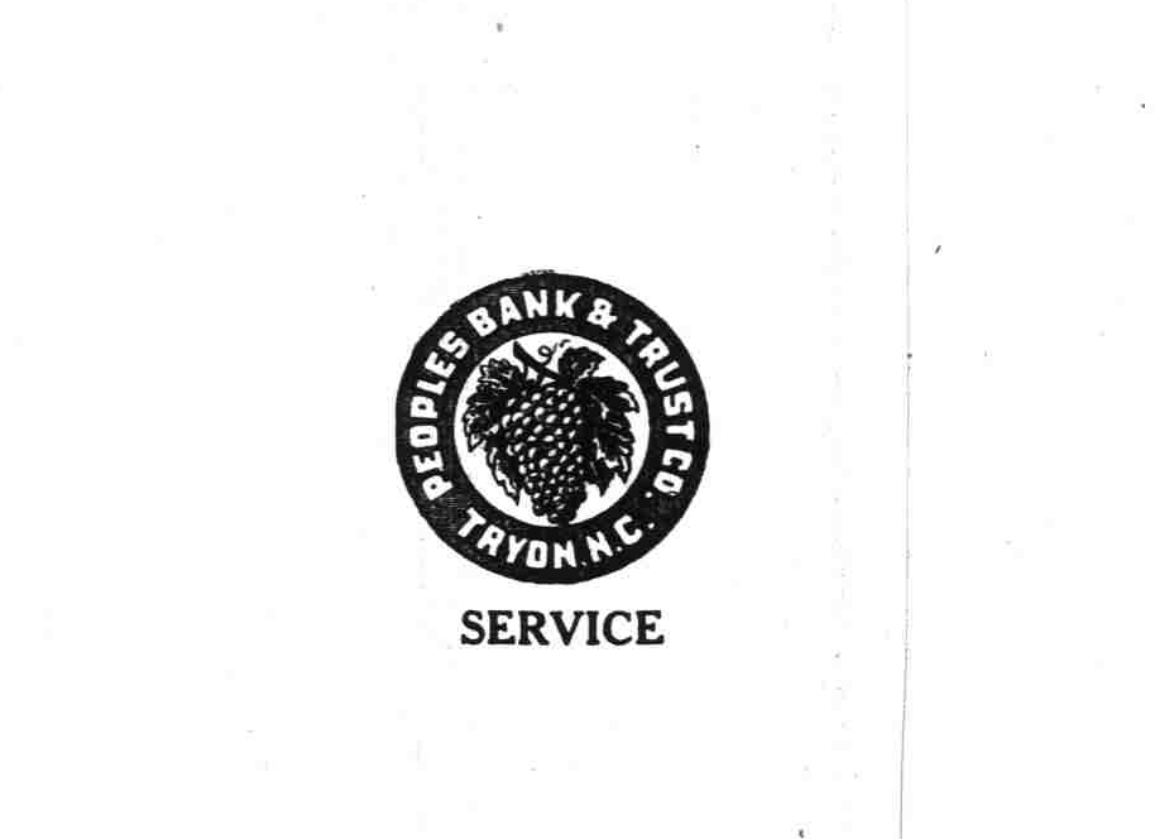

UNION SERVICE. In compliance with the President's proclamation, a union service will be held at the Baptist church at 11 o'clock, Memorial Day. At this hour of national danger it is felt that all religious people should earnestly unite in special prayer for the Divine blessing upon our nation and its soldiers and seamen. —W. S. S.— POLK COUNTY RED CROSS. At the May meeting of the executive committee the resignation of Rev. H. Norwood Bowne from the chairmanship of the Polk County chapter was accepted with regret. The Rev. Marcus L. Taft was elected the new chairman of the chapter. Mr. W. B. Stone also found it necessary to resign his office and Mr. G. H. Holmes was elected secretary in his stead. Mrs. J. T. Camp, of Sandy Plains, was in Tryon, Saturday, on various Red Cross errands. The Lanier Library work rooms in Tryon will be open again as soon as a new supply of cotton is received. more workers are needed. —W. S. S.— TRYON WALKABOUTS AND TALKABOUTS. Tryon has some knitters. One of 'em—perhaps more—can be seen at it while waiting for the mail at the postoffice, at the station, at the drug-gists' while indulging, in spite of Hoover, in an ice cream soda or peach sundae. She says it's the odd minutes. It looks as though it was the even ones, too. She evidently believes that if you take care of the knittings the hours will take care of themselves. She says she believes she could knit a pair of socks every 24 hours. "I don't believe it," said a friend. "It's just as true as if you did believe it," said the knitter. "You'd have no time for anything else." "O, I'd have someone dress me and feed me like a baby, and keep on 'knitting' and I'd learn to knit in my sleep. I could turn out a stocking every night and have time for dreams and nightmares besides." While everyone has great faith in the activities of Tryon women, it is probable that this one exaggerates somewhat. Yet, as Shakespeare's Macbeth tells us, "Sleep knits up the raveled sleeve of care." Why shouldn't it knit up a stocking? At any rate here's a sum to do. If one Tryon woman can knit a pair of socks a day, how many can 50 Tryon women knit? How many regiments could they supply in a year. The proprietors of the NEWS-BEE offer a 24 hours' subscription to this paper to the one who first gets the right answer. A Tryonite was reading about a man whose wife insisted on his shaving twice a day, and agreed if he would to keep him in hot water. Another Tryonite said his wife did that about lots of things anyhow. He'd have to have his hair cut twice a day if she happened to take the notion. Marriage is said to be a lottery. This is why, according to rumor, a Tryonite chose a wife by lot. It was a ten acre one with a good house and some timber on it. He naturally thinks a lot of her. Tryon and Polk county, as well as many other parts of the country, heard much good speaking during the Liberty Loan drive. But one of the shortest was the most effective. It was the speech of the person who said "I'll take $5000 worth of bonds." It had the elements of great oratory. It was brief, to the point, sincere, figurative and impressed all who heard or read about it. A patriotic Tryonite says those who won't give a cent for war stamps, Liberty Bonds or the Red Cross, should pray, "Lord have mercy on us miser-able sinners." Whether it's subscribing to Liberty Loans, War Stamps or Red Cross, "Come across" seems to be Tryon's war cry and slogan. Although an experienced agricultural official says that Tryon—and Polk county—is a grass-growing region, its scarcity makes people doubt him. Perhaps they're the kind of folks that don't let it grow under their feet. ADAM JAY WALKER. —W. S. S.— WANTED Not less than 400 people to attend the Community Service at the Congregational church May 30, at 8:15. For Sale or Exchange—A fine Berkshire boar, one year old. W. B. Kruse, Tryon, N. C.
