

"OLD NORTH STATE" SUPPORTS WAR WELFARE WORK TO LIMIT

North Carolina, as a state, has a record in the World War which will always be the occasion of great and just pride to her future generations. Every call made of the Old North State, for men, money, food, manufactured products, was promptly and generously met. The war record of the boys in the service, and none have better, has been matched by the women and men who at all times stood solidly back of their fighting sons. Her boys were in the thick of the battle and those at home saw to it that the farms, factories, banks, business generally and efforts individually, were all lined up to win the war. Every appeal for funds was met and over. Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and other welfare agencies all received generous support from the people of North Carolina.

War is Over.
The war is won and for the most of us it is over and done with. The boys coming back from France cast off their uniform with a feeling of a job well and completely done. It is over for them. They have done all that was asked or expected of them and better. But there are a few phases of the war in which the home-folks took part, that are not as yet completed. In mind is the United War Work Campaign which was held November of last year. North Carolina pledged a total of $1,208,000. Of this grand total there has only been paid in up to this time the amount of $1,001,000. All of this money was pledged in entire good faith by the citizenship of the state. The war is over but only half of the boys have been sent home from France. Those that remain are impatient and restless and chafing to get back. Put yourself in a foreign country, with strange faces and languages, bound by an iron discipline and with your thoughts turning ever to HOME. How would you feel? The welfare agencies, which co-operated in the United War Work Campaign, are at the present time doing one of the biggest pieces of work in their history.

Helping the Boys.
Large colleges with full staffs of educators are helping the boys improve their time of waiting; scores and scores of trained entertainers are traveling from one end of France to the other, dispensing cheer and sunshine and helping the boys get up their own shows; athletic events are being staged that compare with former Olympic meets; everything possible is being done at this time to make the hours go faster for the boys who today are upholding the power of right to the Germans. The war is won and a good many of the boys who helped win it are still in France ready for any eventuality. We owe them a debt; the money has been pledged and in paying it real true-blue patriotism will be shown.

Need For Funds.
Secretary Josephus Daniels, in approving the budgets of the War Work societies, made an urgent request to the people of the nation to pay in full their pledges. Following is a combined statement of Secretary Newton D. Baker and Secretary Josephus Daniels.

Regarding the budgets which will finance the activities of the seven organizations presented in the campaign from October 1st, last, to December 31, 1918, the secretaries declared reports from overseas confirmed the necessity of "maintaining and, in some of its aspects, augmenting this work."

"In our judgment," the statement continued, "the full sum subscribed in the campaign will be required, if these societies are to do what the American people desire to have them do in serving the soldiers and sailors and the other classes included in the original appeal."

"Moreover, there could, in our judgment, be no wiser use of such funds. The demobilization plans, so far as they have been determined, make it plain the work of the different organizations will be needed for a long time still, and, owing to conditions which necessarily characterize the period of demobilization, this practical welfare work will be even more needed than ever."

Wipe the Slate Clean.
Fifteen out of a hundred counties of the state of North Carolina have already reported every cent collected and in some cases an over-collection is reported.

The county chairmen and treasurers of the counties not paid up have worked as hard and faithfully as those in the counties which have paid the entire subscription; in some cases, perhaps, more so, but if the people of their county have not local pride and personal pride enough to pay their own subscriptions, the county campaign organizations cannot wipe the slate clean for their counties.

Surely there can be no better way of thanksgiving and appreciation that the war is won than to pay up all obligations sustained for the prosecution of the war. Every cent pledged is needed for the work of the welfare agencies. The state of North Carolina can thus make a record in the United War Work Campaign similar to those in former drives. The soldiers have finished their job and finished it well. The home citizenry should have the same satisfaction of feeling that they have done their all.

Cleaning an Umbrella.
To clean an umbrella place a tablespoonful of sugar in a basin, pour over it half a pint of water and stir till dissolved. Then open the umbrella and, starting from the ferrule, sponge each gore down to the point. Leave the umbrella open till dry.

Comets and Stars.
Comets are erratic members of the solar system moving in orbits. Stars may be classified as fixed stars and planets, the planets revolving about the sun, while the position of the fixed stars relative to other heavenly bodies seems unvarying.

Evidently No Lover of Cards.
It is very wonderful to see persons of the best sense passing hours together in shuffling and dividing a pack of cards with no conversation but in different figures. Would not a man what is made up of a few game-words, and no other ideas but those of black or red spots ranged together laugh to hear any one of his species complaining that life is short?—Addison.

A Great Man.
A great man is he who chooses the right in inevitable resolution, who resists the sorest temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully, who is calmest in storms and most fearless under frowns, whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching. I believe this greatness to be most common among the multitude, whose names are never heard.—W. E. Channing.

French Port Regains Trade.
While Havre was still young the seafaring men of Honfleur conquered Newfoundland, founded Quebec and established numerous trading posts in India. Much of the town's commerce was gradually absorbed by Havre. At the outbreak of the great war, however, Honfleur had a prosperous export trade with England in dairy products, fruits and vegetables, and a considerable quantity of lumber was imported direct from the Scandinavian countries.

MICHELIN

12 to 15% Extra Weight

One of the best ways to judge a tire is to weigh it, for mileage depends in a large measure on the quantity of quality materials. Of course weight might be due to many factors that do not improve quality, such as unnecessary wire in the beads, or weight-giving compounds. But once assured that only quality-giving materials are used, then weight is an excellent guide to durability.

In selecting tires, therefore, have your dealer weigh the different makes you are considering. You will find that Michels Universals weigh 12 to 15 per cent more than the average, the percentage varying with the size of the tire.

This extra weight, due to extra quality rubber and fabric—and no one questions Michelin Quality—means that you have a right to expect extra mileage from Michels. Yet Michels cost no more than ordinary tires.
