To Keep Castaways Dry.

Louis O. Anderson has invented a "storm cover" for boats which, when adjusted, covers both boat and rower so completely that waves and rain will roll off it as water rolls off a duck's back. The suit, which includes a headpiece, is made full at its juncture with the rubberized cover, says the Popular Science Monthly, so that the oarsman may try to paddle with one of the oars while sitting in the stern with the tail spread out behind him. His other oar makes a backbone for the cover.

No Problem at All.

A small boy was sent to the local drug store for an empty bottle, and after waiting his turn the assistant spotted him and said: "Well, little man, what can I do for you?" "Oh, I want an empty medicine bottle," the boy replied. "I can't let you have one without something in it," said the assistant. To which the little hopeful shyly answered: "I suppose it is merely red tape, so shove us a cork in."

Additional Tryon News.

Dr. and Mrs. Daniels visited friends in Saluda, Tuesday.

Mrs. B. F. Copeland left, Friday for her home in New Orleans

Mrs. L. B. Jones, of Rock Hill, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Hester

Look for our opening date announcement in next week's News. Rhodes & Streadwick.

Mrs. E. Rhodes and Miss Salie Streadwick returned home from Atlanta, Saturday.

Mrs. M. C. Butler has returned home from a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Lelia Butler, at Greer, S. C.

Mr. Robt. Streadwick suffered a stroke of apoplexy last week, but is getting along nicely at present.

Miss Ruth McFee returned from Knoxville, Tenn., today, where she has been buying a fall stock of millinery.

Mrs. E. B. Cawthray returned home Wednesday after a visit with friends in Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C.

Miss Lucille Orr came down for a visit to her parents from the children's hospital camp at Saluda, Tuesday evening.

Miss Reba Barnard, who was called to her home in Asheville on account of the illness and death of her niece, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Clarence Morgan, who has been in a hospital at Spartanburg for several days, returned home Saturday evening much improved.

Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Taft and children will leave Monday for their future home at Atlanta. The many friends of this excellent family regret to see them leave Tryon.

Mrs. Lorena Farrington and daughter, Mrs. W. L. Webster, after a visit of several weeks with relatives in Tryon, returned to their home in Birmingham, Alabama, Wednesday.

Mrs. J. B. Hester, of Mt. Carmel, S. C., who is spending the summer at the Norman home in Tryon, has as her guests her three sons, who came up from South Carolina to enjoy a short visit with her.

We have employed extra help in our dress making department so that no work will be neglected. Rhodes & Streadwick.

When it comes to the servant girl problem, Tryon is as fashionable as New York or any other place. Cooks fit like ghosts. The stores are also short-handed. The Hun got deep with his work, when cities and hamlets thousands of miles distant feel his power for evil thus keenly.

If throwing paper and other refuse on the street, or dumping boilers, water closet pans and the like on vacant lots ever becomes as bad as spitting on the carpet or throwing old pans and tin cans onto the front yard is now, Tryon will be a more attractive-looking place than it is at present

Already the Northern friends and acquaintances of Tryon residents are writing them making inquiries of the prospects of winter quarters and visits. One of them says even with the thermometer at 90 it makes the cold chills run down her back thinking of the below zero weather in New England and Minnesota next January.

If there'd been many people to see it Wednesday, they could have seen a snake and a half by the side of the road. The other half was inside a king snake which was slowly swallowing it. The swallower seemed about as big as the swallower; reminder a bystander of the little pig, which after swallowing a painful of swill was picked up and carried away in the pail.

A party of fifteen or more Tryon young folks, including nine out of town guests, motored up the valley roads Sunday evening, and sought a rock near the foot of Melrose falls and perched there in the cool evening air long enough to enjoy a delightful picnic supper. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pringle, the Misses Hester, Miss Ruth Smith, the Misses Tolbert, Jean McCloud and Jack Boatwright.

On the first page of this paper is an article by Mr. J. R. Sams. It is written especially for our farmer readers, but there is food for thought in it for every man, woman and child in Polk county. We would like for every reader of this paper to be sure and read it. Not only read it, but think over the suggestions contained therein—especially the last paragraph. There is a whole lot of food for thought as well as good advice contained in these few lines.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

I give a list of names who have been enrolled as charter members of the Soldiers Monument Association. The most of these names were enrolled by themselves, being present at the meeting; other names being added by their friends, and it is hoped that all will be patriotic and loyal enough to have others to enroll their names, as members. Just 25 cents pays the dues for twelve months for adults, 10 cents for children. Send me your name and dues and I will enter your name as a member of the Polk County Soldiers' Monument Association and send you a membership card. It is suggested that each school in the county when open will organize a Sub-Association and adopt plans of its own to cooperate and raise funds for the Monument.

Respectfully,
W. A. CANNON, Sec.

Following are the names of the charter members:

Dr. Dula Has Moved to His Newly Outfitted Office

Dr. Alfred W. Dula has moved into his new office on the corner vacated by Mr. R. L. Gwyn. This building has been outfitted with the latest optical office equipment, including a regular eye hospital dark room for eye examinations, with all the necessary equipment. He has also another room for examinations with the regular daylight. Dr. Dula has installed in this building a full lense-grinding and mounting the lense from the rough. Dr. Dula bears the distinction of being the only eye specialist in North Carolina who owns and operates his own lense-grinding plant, and he claims to have the best equipped office in the state. Dr. Dula is still attending to some mail orders through his Charlotte office, but it is his intention to do most of it through his Lenoir office as soon as his son, Frederick, returns from taking his course in lense-grinding.—Lenoir News, June 14th, 1918.—Adv.

Carved in Algerian Rocks.

A huge buffalo with enormous horns is conspicuous in prehistoric rock drawings lately found in Algeria. The African elephant is also a striking feature, and other animals include the lion, leopard, gazelle and domestic goats and sheep.—San Francisco Argonaut.

To Remove Varnish Stains.

To remove varnish stains, first wet the spots with alcohol two or three times, then rub with a clean cloth. If the color is injured, sponge afterward with chloroform to restore it, unless the color is blue, in which case vinegar should be used instead.

Now You'll Take Better.

Because flashlight powders are not swift enough for the most rapid photography an electrical device has been invented which lights the powder and then snaps the camera shutter when the burning powder is at its greatest brilliancy.

First American Balloon Ascension.

January 9 is the anniversary of the first balloon ascension in this country. It was made in Philadelphia in 1783, and it is interesting in view of the rapid strides in aeronautics made in the past few years. Even twenty-five years ago the idea of a dirigible airship was largely a dream.

CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.
Departemnt of State.
To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Tryon Paper Box Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the town of Tryon, County of Polk, State of North Carolina (C. W. Ballenger being the agent therein and in charge thereof), has whom process may be served, and complied with the requirements of Chapter 21, Revisal of 1905, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the signing of this Certificate of Dissolution.

Now, Therefore, I, J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 10th day of June, 1919, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 10th day of June, A. D., 1919.
J. BRYAN GRIMES,
Secretary of State.
