

TRYON

Mr. G. R. Little, of Saluda, was in Tryon a few hours on Tuesday last.

Mr. E. B. Cawthray made a business trip to Hickory, N. C., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lane Allen, of Kentucky, are making a visit to our little city. They are stopping at Oak Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Bingham, and son, who have been coming to Tryon for many years, are spending six weeks at Pine Crest Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McFee, of Asheville, with their two little daughters, spent Sunday in Tryon, guests of Mr. McFee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McFee.

A petition for a night telephone operator is being circulated. More than one instance of a failure to get into communication with a doctor, when much and suddenly needed has occurred.

Mrs. W. H. Richardson, of Cincinnati, Ohio, with her two children and governess, are visiting Tryon for the second winter, and stopping at Pine Crest Inn. Mr. Richardson will join them here this week.

Mrs. C. S. Corwin came down from Hendersonville to Crestwood for a few days on business. Though not strong, she is much better, being able to walk without assistance and to work without let up.

Mrs. George and her niece, Mrs. Gardner, of Ypsilanti, Mich. are at Mrs. Hove's in the Valley. These ladies, who have been great travelers are charmed with the valley and the beauty of the country in general.

Mrs. H. P. Holden, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Holden. In spite of the dark days she recognizes much of Tryon attractiveness that fascinated her on her first visit, four or five years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Knoop, of Chicago, who spent a part of the spring of 1918 in Tryon, arrived at Pine Crest Inn this week. They will soon be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Farley, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the latter being a sister of Mr. Knoop.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford T. Capps, of Detroit, Mich., will take possession of the Jones house on East Hill on the first of March. Since they were here before, their eldest daughter has married and gone to live in Boston and their only son has returned safely from overseas.

One doesn't often think of Frost and Egypt in any close connection, but when his first name isn't Jack, he tells what he knows about Egypt, as he did at the auditorium the other night, they according to report, including the one in the Bee, very well together.

Mrs. S. A. White and daughters, the Misses Edna, Maude and Barbara White, of Kalamazoo, Mich., arrived in Tryon last week, and will remain until April. They are stopping at Pine Crest Inn and will be joined this week by their friend, Mrs. F. R. Olmstead, also of Kalamazoo.

Mr. John Washburn has been advised by his Asheville physician to go back to his college at Williams-town long enough to pack up his belongings before coming back to the wholesome air of Tryon; promising him if he does a complete recovery from the flu and a new hold on life.

Mr. C. W. Morgan returned home from Chase City, where he was called by the serious illness of his brother, Roy. He left his brother much improved and with good chances for his sister, Mrs. P. G. Morris, who remained there to help care for the family, every member of which was sick.

Major Sharp, having donned a trench coat and beaten his sword into a plow share, is to be found, no matter what the temperature on his land, abolishing stumps, planting in their places peach and apple and other fruit trees and generally making his mountain side into a fine and valuable property.

Before the middle of March the Lightners and Dr. Green will occupy their Tryon home, to which they turn whenever life is vexed with flu or chilled by unkind winds, and which, to the children at least, represents all that is worth while in life from lizards and chickens to cabin building and horseback riding.

The Valhalla Tea House is the sunniest spot imaginable, always warm and cozy, where you can drink your tea coffee or chocolate with whipped cream, and eat a sandwich or so, a cake. May be you want to bring out your friends for a lunch or supper party; if you want anything extra, let us know a day in advance.

The Lanier Club will present two of the faculty of Converse College on Saturday in a concert at the Library. Miss Florence Sumner, who played for the Club before the war, when she and Mr. Henry Hudson gave a memorable entertainment, and Mr. Harold Blaine Bryson, who besides singing in a delightful manner plays the cello, with Miss Sumner's accompaniment. Music hungry Tryon will be glad of this opportunity.

A dog in the neighborhood mountains, that had bitten several other dogs was recently killed and his head sent to Raleigh. A test proved that he was mad. Mavor Bacon has ordered all dogs to be rigidly confined for 30 days. The old notion that dogs went rabid only in that part of the summer called dog days, for that reason has been pretty well exploded. They seem to go so whenever they dog-gone please.

Tryon has a pretty fair lot of elderly people who are trying to look younger than they are. "You write pretty well for a kid" said one of 'em to another. "Well, yes, for a kid" said the second. "Your second childhood you refer to." "You're far beyond that you old Noah's Ark stow-away" retorted No. Two. "It's evident you never saw yourself as others see you," said the first as they parted, more in anger than sorrow, forgetting that children of any age "should never let their angry passions rise."

"THE PEOPLES AT TRYON IS MY BANK"

Greater changes are coming in the next ten years than we have witnessed in the last ten years. The world, is passing through the present reconstruction stage, is going to take on new and better aspects. The experiences which we have gained will not leave us where they found us. Let our position be established firmly on a strong rock. Let it be built on that Golden Rule which Jesus gave in his sermon on the Mount. A system so built will endure.

"Public opinion is going to force practical Christianity into the counting-room and into big and little business."

The prospect of the installation within a few weeks, of the Green River electric equipment will remind Tryon of its struggle to improve its poor water service and its finally securing plenty of the purest water in the world—like the baking powder, 99 per cent pure. When it comes to water there is small difference in the sound of poor and pure, but actually an immense difference. When it comes to electric service, the same might be said of night and light.

A LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Speed made a summer land of her home for a group of women friends on Tuesday, the house decorated with precocious peach blossoms and other spring beauties from her grounds and the table with delicious food, served exquisitely with a good game following.

WHAT MAKES A BANK?

Well, our answer to that question is the men behind the bank, the men interested in its management, the men who stand for business integrity and square dealing.

The officers of our bank are accommodating and willing to extend you every courtesy. Our directors are not figure-heads, they actually direct the affairs of the bank and know how its business is conducted. Our stockholders are among the solid men of the community.
