B. F. Copeland Passes.

The editor of the News received a telegram from Bay St Louis, Miss., announcing the death of his brother-in-law B. F. Copeland former editor of this paper. Mr. Copeland had been a sufferer from Brights disease for a number of years and this with other complications was the cause of his death.

Benjamin Franklin Copeland, was a man loved by his friends for the many good qualities he possessed. He was a devoted father and husband, loyal to his friends, often giving his last dollar to help a friend in need. We can find no better words to express the esteem in which he was held by his friends than to say of him that those who knew him best loved him most.

The body was taken to his old home at Marion Illinois and buried beside those of his son, father and mother.

He leaves a wife and one son to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

Apple Show.

I wish to call the attention of the people of Polk Co., to the Western North Carolina Apple Show at Asheville, Oct. 27-29. As chairman for the county, I desire to impress on every citizen the importance of the show in an apple way also as a means of advertising to the world its opportunities for fruit growing, stock raising, and general farming. Each county will have space for a booth to advertise its advantages, the best things grown in the county, lands for sale, etc. It will take some work to get the full benefit from this chance to advertise and suggestions are in order as to how we shall handle this opportunity. One thing many of us can do is to talk it and go and see the show when it comes off. Let us get up auto parties and go for one day at least. It is planned to have the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture leading horticulturists and those interested in developing our country or county present. We must not forget our local fairs but this opportunity must be used to thoroughly advertise our county I ask every citizen to give his support by suggestion, attendance and by sending good specimens of apples or other fruits for exhibit HENRY P. CORWITH.
