Our Public School.

Our good "Old North State" has indeed showered blessings upon the people of Tryon and Polk county in general this summer. The dental clinic was completed here last week, and already Miss Dunn of the State Health Department is here making engagements for the clinic to remove tonsils and adenoids. In connection with her, she says that the engagement here will probably not extend over two days, that a number of trained nurses will be here; the best specialists both to perform and administer the anaesthetic; and that the most careful attention will be given to the patients. It is almost beyond our highest dreams to expect so much to be done for us, without any effort or expense to those who need it.

Let me as the head of the school urge that all those between 6 and 12 who need treatment be at the School Building, August 31, and there let those splendid Doctors and nurses put our children in a condition to do better work in the school as well as be healthier. By having our children examined and treated if necessary, the state will see that we appreciate what is being done for us and will be even more ready to help us again.

Try to see Miss Dunn this week, or sometime before Aug., 31. She will make appointments for you. Anybody will help you to get in touch with her.

If there are any other boys and girls who were not in this school last year I'd be very glad to have them meet me, so that I can classify them before school begins. I hereby announce that I shall be at the School Building on Friday, Sept. 2, for the purpose of classifying all new pupils. I shall ask all the teachers who are in town at that time to assist me.

You can help the school wonderfully to cooperate in these requests. Make your preparations to be present at the opening. We, the teachers want to meet you and know you.

In the Literary Digest of Aug. 13, there was an excellent article in which suggestions were given as to the course of study. In this the author, stated that music is essential in school work. The school board and I have already been trying to get music in our school. I think every girl and boy ought to know the notes, their value and have the power of controlling his or her voice. How can we do this work without a piano? It is a pleasure to know that Mesdames Holden, Doubleday and Poppe, and others are devising means by which we can have an instrument at the opening. Won't it be fine if everybody puts forth his most earnest efforts for these parallel sides of school life? It will be a fine idea for every boy and girl in town as well as in school to give something if only a small amount toward the installation of the piano. Then the pupils will feel that the piano is ours, and therefore will have a personal interest in its up-keep.

Fisher—McElhenny

On Sunday last Miss Emily Fisher was united in matrimony to Mr. L. C. McElhenny, Rev. Mr. Ball officiating.

Mrs. McElhenny is the youngest daughter, of James C. Fisher, and was born and reared in Tryon, where she has many friends who wish her a long, happy and prosperous married life.

Her husband is unknown to us but we will say for him he has been very fortunate in winning a young lady like Miss Emily for a bride.

They expect to make their home in Spartanburg.

"Next Week at The Strand"

Will be shown four unusual pictures. Tuesday brings the long heralded Mack Sennett five reel joy maker, Married Life. Thursday's feature is The Hoodlum, with Mary Pickford and on Friday comes the famous stage comedy Twin Beds. Saturday, charming Marguerite Clark in her latest and best picture from her own studio Scrambled Wives. It is seldom that any theatre can provide four such wonderful features in a week, and we trust that Tryon will show its appreciation of Managers Early's efforts, by packing the Strand each evening.

F. P. Bacon was in Hendersonville Wednesday looking after business matters.

Earth Still Growing.
In the early days of its history the earth grew rapidly by the addition of meteoric matter. It is still growing in the same manner, though scarcely to an appreciable extent, for the mass of meteoric matter added yearly is reckoned to be only 20,000 tons.

Saffron Once Royal Color.
In Ireland saffron early became a royal color and, for a long period after such exclusiveness was taken away in Erin, the yellow saffron-dyed shirt remained a mark of social distinction in the Hebrides. In art saffron was much employed in medieval illuminated manuscripts. In combination with tin foil as a substitute for gold, and, of course, at all periods the coloring of many textiles was done with little crocus stigmas.

Redwoods in Italy.
California redwoods are commonly found planted in every section of Italy, and they seem to develop speedily under the conditions of the Italian climate, says the American Forestry Magazine. In Bologna recently a redwood tree over four feet in diameter was cut, which had been planted only about 80 years ago. Sections of this tree are now exhibited in the Museum of the Royal Forestry college Florence.
