PIEDMONT EXPOSITION.

Spartanburg is in the midst of preparations for the second annual Piedmont Exposition, which will be held under a mammoth tent on the Billy Sunday Tabernacle site, April 6 to 14.

Last spring many visitors from Tryon and surrounding territory attended the exposition at Spartanburg, and this year the assurance is given that it will be bigger and better in every way. The tent in which it will be held will cover 40,000 square feet of space, surpassing in size the giant circus tents.

The fashion show and the automobile show will be among the principal features this year as they were last year. Made-in-the-Piedmont products will be featured, which includes Tryon and surrounding country.

Visiting parties to the second annual Piedmont Exposition will find a warm welcome at the Chamber of Commerce, as usual. They will be invited to make the building of the Chamber of Commerce their headquarters and resting place while in the city.
