

Asphyxiating Rats.
 You can asphyxiate rats that infest the garage by giving them carbon monoxide gas from the engine exhaust, advises a federal bulletin. Attach a rubber hose to the exhaust pipe and put the end into the hole. The gas will kill the rats.

Liles Bargain Jubilee

Now In Progress

We are calling this a "Bargain Jubilee" because it has been several years since we have sold as good merchandise for the prices we are asking during this sale. Our buyers spent last week in New York and secured many special purchases at much under value. In addition to that, we have cut the prices deep on all Summer goods in the house. That is why we are calling this a "Bargain Jubilee" and you will surely find the bargains here when you come.

Wash Dresses at Jubilee Prices

You have probably never bought Wash Dresses for so little money as we are selling them now. Our buyers spent last week in New York buying early Fall goods, and while there they found several of our best makers had small lots of their best selling styles in Wash Dresses left. We bought them very cheap and pass them on to you, with a small profit added. They were so much cheaper in price than those we had in stock that we found it necessary to mark down every Wash Dress in the house from 25 to 50 per cent to get as good values as the new Dresses we bought last week in New York. Come early. You can now buy two or three Wash Dresses for the price of one Dress ten days ago.
