Simplicity in Coat Styles;
Fashions for the Juniors

THERE seems to be a disposition on the part of well dressed women to demand that the excellence of their fall coats be evident more in precise and beautiful tailoring than in elaborate trimming, and new models in garments of this variety attain a fine degree of that elegant simplicity which is always in good taste and is, at the same time, almost universally becoming. The vogue of the straight lines, at least, may be used with good effect whether the wearer is slim or stout, short or tall. The element of individuality, always a desirable fea-reached that stage in life where she is neither a little girl nor yet a young lady always presents some difficulty. There is no little tragedy, for the young person herself in being forced to wear clothes that she feels she has outgrown and on the other hand it is certainly unwise to permit her to dress as a grownup. Consequently, the styles advanced for her special benefit are in the nature of a compromise and for the current season the compromise is a peculiarly happy one.

"This is true because "grown-up"

Camel's hair, in a new pattern, is used for making the coat shown here. The long stripes of brown and tan make it an ideal pattern for short or stout women, since their effect is to lend height to the figure. The long kimono sleeve is set low at the shoulder and is made knuckle length. Brown fox exactly matching the dark stripe of the material is used for the collar.

Fur-fabric coats are promised in greater variety than ever before, as the season progresses, and that they will be even more popular than usual is a safe forecast in view of advancing prices for fur and fur trimmed coats.

frocks, coats and suits follow very simple lines and junior garments patterned after them naturally avoid the sophisticated appearance of elaborate flounces, drapes, frills and furbelows. The little frock pictured, for instance, is of navy crepe de chine made in a simple slipover pattern which hangs in perfectly straight lines to the knee. The low waistline is defined with rows of shirred tucking, which is also used on the short sleeves. The only other ornamentation is a touch of embroidery done in bright shades of yellow and green.

Junior coats for fall and winter wear are practically miniature editions of those worn by mothers and elder sisters. The same warm colors in delightfully soft sport wools, the

The beautiful new metal brocades and oriental patterns in silk weaves, that have appeared in the past few weeks, have been immediately used in linings for fur coats and they are so rich and luxurious that it is often difficult to say whether the coat or its lining is the more attractive.

The heavier twills, camel's hair and fine pile fabrics are leading favorites among coatings. They are usually lined with plain crepe de chine, and nothing could serve this purpose better.

The problem of outfitting a younger member of the family who has same fur trimmings and the same sort of sleeves and fastenings are used on coats for every feminine age from six to sixty. There are, of course, variations in style which classify the coats for the extremely young but these are touches that are in keeping with the age of the wearer and do not change the mode.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Every mother possesses information of vital importance to her young daughter, and the responsibility for her future is largely in her hands.

When a school girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she suffers the consequences of wet feet, pain, headaches, fainting spells, loss of sleep and appetite, and is irritable, her mother should have a thought for her physical condition and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has proved a reliable aid to nature for just such conditions in so many cases.

This Mother Writes:
 Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now she is a healthy,
