KNOWS GARDUI BENEFITED HER

Mississippi Lady Suffered Severe Pain in Her Back and Side and Was Troubled With Sick Headache.

Brookhaven, Miss.—Mrs. Annie Russell, of this city, says that she was suffering such severe pain in her back, she felt unable to straighten up. "I would take sick headache," she says, "but it lasted more than a week. My head would ache, and my side would hurt and be so sore to the touch," continues Mrs. Russell. "I was never in such a terrible feeling one day when she feels she has stood about a week. I was up and down... I could be... I would like a neighbor to take care of me, but I felt like another person. I spent wouldn't be helped!"

"I noticed a change in my side got better. I went to bed and ate, slept and felt better. After (taking) Gardui I didn't have any more pain in my side. I know it was Gardui. I didn't take anything else. I have taken it two or three times since when I felt run-down."

... suffer from womanly ailments, Gardui is a persistent trial. It will help you. At druggists.

PLAITINGS FEATURED IN DRESS; VARIED TYPES IN NEGLIGEEES

THE present season has produced many things in frock styles but nothing more attractive than those smart, straight-line models which use lace, georgette or other material of contrasting color for their trimming. This may be in the form of deep lace berthas, collars, cuffs, ruffles or any one of a myriad different styles of trimming, but no matter how used, it identifies itself as the last word by being plaited.

Plaiting contributes the larger part of the attractiveness of the frock pl-

tured here. It is of gray crepe de chine with plaited collar and cuffs of white georgette, and the plaited effect is developed in the clever fashioning of the skirt. Here the deep plaited ruffles are placed to give a checkerboard effect.

In both sleeve length and skirt this model shows characteristic influences of the later styles. The sleeve is made wrist length so that the cuff falls well over the hand and in the skirt the tendency toward circular flounces is adapted to the straight-line mode.

Generally speaking, in coats, suits and dresses, sleeves are longer and follow flowing lines; that is, they fit snugly at the shoulder and flare at the wrist. The Chinese influence is seen in the mandarin sleeve, used on fur and cloth coats.

Negligees reflect the coming of winter with less emphasis than any other of our clothes, but do not ignore it. Some of them seem to anticmatee, and together they make a cheerful breakfast costume.

The most popular of all negligees just now is the lounging robe of cotton corduroy. It offers the lure of comfort for chilly mornings, along with fascinating colors and a silky sheen, and can safely invite comparison in the matter of good looks. It comes in American beauty and bright red, rose, henna, bright blues and orchid.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 4
WORLD-WIDE PROHIBITION—WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Ps. 101:1-8; Prov. 23:29-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I will set no wicked thing before my eyes."—Ps. 101:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Taking Care of Our Bodies.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Effects of Alcohol.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Progress of Prohibition at Home and Abroad.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Fight Against Lawlessness.

I. Principles of a Righteous Life (Ps. 101:1-8).

This is a psalm of David the king, and therefore shows the conduct of a ruler. It is divided into two sections—the first, verses 1-4, refers to personal conduct, and the second, 5-8, to the government of others. This part of the lesson can only refer to the destruction of the saloon in the sense that all evil is to be uprooted and destroyed.

1. Personal Conduct (vv. 1-4). (1) Kindness and judgment (v. 1); (2) wise behavior (v. 2); (3) all malice put away (v. 3); all wickedness put aside (v. 4).

2. Government of Others (vv. 5-8). Only as one's right in his own heart and life is he fit to rule others. As a righteous man he will be against (1) the slanderer (v. 5). He will not tolerate such in his presence. (2) The worker of deceit (v. 7). The deceitful man and the liar are to be removed from his sight. (3) All workers of iniquity (v. 8). It is the duty of rulers to see that all workers of wickedness of all kinds be cut off. The manufacturer and seller of liquor should be regarded as notorious workers of iniquity. Those who blight manhood for sordid gain are grossly wicked.

II. The Awful Ruin Wrought by Strong Drink (Prov. 23:29-35).

1. Woes of Those Who Indulge in Wine (vv. 2, 30). (1) The awful pain which causes one to cry out, "Oh!" Many, indeed, are the pains which men suffer because of strong drink. Bodily ills innumerable can be traced to its evil influence. (2) The bitter remorse, which causes one to cry out, "Alas!" Many are the expressions of bitter regret which daily come from the lips of the drunkard. (3) Contentions—strife and quarreling. Much of the fighting among men is directly caused by their passions being inflamed by strong drink. The drunken man is always ready to take offense, as well as to give it. (4) Babblings and complainings. The winebibber complains of everything—ill luck, loss of friends, of fate and of God. He sees everything wrong but himself. (5) Wounds without cause. These are wounds from fights in which a sober man would not have engaged, and from accidents which are purely the result of intoxication. (6) Redness of eyes. This has reference to the blood-shot eye of the tippler which dims his vision. All these woes come upon those who tarry long at wine.

III. The Drunkard's Bitter End (vv. 32-35).

1. Acute Miseries. "It biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." Strong drink, like the poison of a serpent, permeates the whole system and ends in the most fatal consequences.

2. Perversion of the Moral Sense. This excitement causes the eyes to behold strange things. This denotes the fantastic images produced on the brain of the drunkard. Even when delirium tremens does not result, there are awful fancies which are beyond the possibility of realization. Then does his heart utter perverse things. His moral sense being perverted, his utterances partake of the same. He tells lies; his words cannot be relied upon.

3. He Is Insensible to Danger (v. 34). He is foolhardy, even as one who would lie in the top of a ship's mast, where there is the greatest danger of falling off.

4. He Is Insensible to Pain (v. 35). The drunkard is utterly ignorant of what happens to him while under the influence of strong drink. Many bruises and wounds the drunkard has which he cannot account for.

5. His Abject Bondage (v. 35). After all his sufferings, sorrow and disappointments, he goes on as a bond slave in the ways of sin.

6. Hell at Last. No drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of heaven (I Cor. 6:10).

CHEVROLET

Every Farm Needs Two

EVERY farm needs two automobiles, one of which should be a closed model Chevrolet.

The open touring car is best for general farm use, carrying passengers or perhaps miscellaneous bulky produce or merchandise, but for cold or rainy weather, and for church or social use the family needs a closed car, either a 2-passenger Utility Coupé as illustrated, or the 5-passenger Sedan. The extra large rear compartment is a feature of the Coupé.

These closed cars are very finely made, furnished, upholstered and trimmed. The windows are of plate glass and can be lowered, providing as much air as an open car, yet affording full protection against wind, rain, snow or cold when raised.

With a second car on a farm, one is always available for those at home when the other car is out.

The low prices of Chevrolet make the ownership of two cars feasible for most farm families.
