

SLIPS - SLIPS
WE ALL MAKE 'EM

cup is one that cheers, it is certain to happen that the lips do not. Why careless people should leave the castoff garments of a nude banana on the sidewalk yet remains to be seen, and they remain to be slipped on when they are not seen. Going to bed is a slippery performance. We first slip out of our clothes. Next a prayer slips from our lips, or perhaps it slips our minds. Then we slip into bed and slip off to sleep with our heads on the pillow slips.

An Old Species of Mammal... It happened in the Adirondacks. "What," demanded the amateur hunter of his guide, "what is the name of the species I just shot?" "Well, sir," returned the guide suavely, "I've just been investigating and he says his name is Smith."

Bedtime Biology.
 The patter of little feet was heard from the head of the stairs. Mrs. Kinderby raised her hand, warning the members of her bridge club to be silent. "Hush!" she said softly. "The children are going to deliver their goodnight message. It always gives me a feeling of reverence to hear them. Listen!" There was a moment of tense silence, then: "Mamma," came the message in a shrill whisper Willie found a bedbug." —Ithaca Journal.

Civica Fruits.
 Minneapolis will never have anything on St. Paul. A fellow from over there came over here the other day just to look around and find fault. He approached a fruit stand, picked up a large watermelon and asked with a sneer: "Is this the largest apple you have in St. Paul?" "Hey!" bellowed the owner of the fruit stand. "Put that grape down!" —Chevy Circle.

Is Too Busy.
 Early in the Harding administration, an Italian, having applied for citizenship was being examined in the naturalization court. "Who is the President of the Unit. States?" "Mr. Hard." "Who is Vice-President?" "Mr. Cool." "If the president should die then who would be president?" "Mr. Cool." "Could you be President?" "No." "Why?" "Mister, you 'scuse please. I vera busy worka da mine." —Our Dumb Animals.

NOTED BANKER FRAMES RULES

BOILED DOWN TO FEW words, a recent speech by Otto H. Kahn, the banker, before the Harvard Business School Club, of New York, leaves the following ten interesting principles; for success in life and business:
 1. Guard carefully against the habit of doing anything merely for the sake of getting through.
 2. Remember that the most serviceable of all assets is reputation.
 3. Think your imagination from time to time.
 4. Go for a ride on the horse of success.
 5. Be ready, be fully prepared, but be patient, bide your time, know how to wait.
 6. Consider as one of the essential requisites of your diet a supply of the milk of human kindness.
 7. Work hard, don't be an eight hour a day man, but don't permit yourself to become a machine.

8. Take an interest and a due share in public affairs.
 9. Meet your fellowmen with confidence unless you have reason to suspect.
 10. Take heed to remember, those of you who by eminent success may rise yourselves beyond your peers that it behooves you to do all you can to, make your position as little "jarring" as possible to that immense majority whom fate has not singled out for its favors.

A Study in Heredity.
 "I'm going to call my baby Charles," said the author; "after Charles Lamb, you know. He is such a dear little lamb."
 "Oh! I'd call him William Dean," said the friend. "He Howells so much." —Wisconsin Octopus.
