

Hendersonville Men To Interview Governor of S. C.

Hendersonville, N. C., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—A committee composed of President Stanley H. Wright and Past President C. P. Rogers of the Hendersonville Chamber of Commerce will go to Columbia Friday night for a conference with Governor McLeod of South Carolina, in which he will be asked to endorse the proposed Carolina booster trip to California and return, and also to take part in the entertainment planned for the boosters in Hendersonville on June 20, when the tour will start, it has been announced.

A committee from Hendersonville, headed by Mr. Rogers and J. E. Stubbs, secretary of the local body, called on Governor McLeod of North Carolina several days ago, gaining his endorsement of the tour and also his consent to be present in Hendersonville on the starting day. It is planned to have both executives deliver addresses, and "What the Governor of North Carolina will say to the Governor of South Carolina" is expected to add much to the enjoyment of the first day of the trip.

Letters of endorsement have been received from approximately half of the Chambers of Commerce of the two states, and every mail adds to the grand total. With this assurance that the tour will have the co-operation of all the civic bodies, the second step in getting it actively under way is being worked out by those in charge.

An executive committee composed of the various trade bodies is expected to be appointed within the next few days to work out the complete itinerary, including the stopovers and the length of time to be spent in each city. A study of the route shows the impracticability of spending but a few minutes in a majority of the cities, as the tour will consume but 25 days. It is estimated that more than 150 cities will have made stopovers to satisfy the demands to entertain the boosters.

As soon as the complete itinerary is mapped out, letters of notification will be mailed to the various trade bodies along the route as to how long the boosters will be in their cities and the hour of arrival. Each chamber will be urged, however, to not plan any banquets or similar entertainments, as all meals are provided for in the expense of the trip.

The announcement that a band would probably be carried on the trip has resulted in inquiries from a number of bands of the states, including the famous University of North Carolina band. One city has offered to furnish its band and pay part of the expense, while a number of others have agreed to go for expenses.

The tour will be made under the supervision of the Reeves Tours De Luxe, a touring organization which features the western trip. This concern will have charge of all details of the journey, assuring the comfort of the boosters.

No member of the Carolina booster tour to the Pacific coast this summer will be left either in Juarez or Tia Quana, Mexico, even should they wander ever so much from the straight and narrow.

This was assured when a certain railroad official, who is to accompany the party, declared that he always made it a point when accompanying a touring party, to be the last to leave Mexico, assuring that no one is left behind. "Of course the Mexican tequila and aguardiente has nothing to do with it," a Reeves Tours representative asked him. No answer was necessary.

Fortnightly Notes

A great New York success of a few seasons ago will shortly be read under the direction of Mr. Harold Crandall.

Two Ibsen plays are under contemplation. It is hoped that Mrs. Vernor can be persuaded to appear as Nora in "A Doll's House," and there is a possibility that "Peer Gyn" may be presented.

It is likely that a bill of two one-act plays may shortly be put on. It is hoped that Mrs. Hebbard may be seen in a favorite part of hers with which she charmed London audiences. Mr. Crandall, Sr., has a short play up his sleeve, which cannot but make a hit with the right cast.

The following letter has been received. It says in part: "As a sincere admirer of the Fortnightly readings and one who has not missed one in the four years they have been running, I trust that in some future performance a part may be found in which Miss Pratt may realize for us the promise she gave in her remarkable interpretation of Marie in 'Deburau.' It seems to the writer that with a role commensurate with her striking ability, we should have a performance of superior merit."

The play to be read Wednesday, February 24, is "Outward Bound," a striking drama quite unlike anything else which the Fortnightly has heretofore done, and a play unique on any stage. Circumstances have caused Mrs. Dennison to relinquish directing it, and it will be coached by Mrs. Peattie. A fine cast has been secured and rehearsals are now in progress. When produced in London and New York it created a profound impression. Mr. William Harris, the New York producer, has graciously given his permission to have it read in Tryon.

SCHOOLS

DR. H. N. SNYDER

To Make Address at Tryon School Commencement.

The school authorities and graduating class of the Tryon High School were delighted to receive a letter from Dr. H. N. Snyder, president of Wake Forest College, accepting an invitation to make the graduation address at the Tryon High School May 27th.

The Tryon High School will probably graduate ten students this year. This is the largest class that has ever finished the eleventh grade at this school.

The school authorities are very much pleased with the excellent work, spirit and co-operation of the senior class. Below are the names of these fine students:

- Julia Averill.
- William Burnett.
- Elizabeth Doubleday, president of the class.
- Edward Hardy.
- Caroline Jervey.
- Mary Lockhart.
- Harvey Morgan.
- Dan Rion.
- Mary Swann.
- Priscilla Screven.

Tryon School Needs Playground Equipment.

One great need of our school is more playground equipment. The P. T. A. was kind enough to give the little fellows a nice wave slide at the beginning of the school year. It is indeed a pleasure to see the little first and second graders having the time of their young life playing on the slide.

We should by all means have a Giant Stride, Horizontal Ladder and a good set of See-Saws and Swings.

Why We Need the Equipment.

1. Health—By spontaneous outdoor exercise.
2. Initiative—By forcing the child to make his own decisions.
3. Purity of Mind—By keeping the child active in wholesome surroundings.
4. Co-operation—By teaching the child to give and take assistance, thus showing him the value of concerted action.
5. Ambition—By teaching the child that leadership is the result of successful endeavor.
6. Honesty—By causing the child to repudiate any success that does not come through fair play.
7. Imagination—By lifting the child out of the common place and filling him with enthusiasm.
8. Self-confidence—By giving the child some responsibility in the games.
9. Obedience—By teaching the child to respect the leader.
10. Justice—By teaching the child to have consideration for those who are physically and mentally weak.

Will Diminish

1. Idleness—By keeping the child constantly employed at something.
 2. Unfairness—By teaching true sportsmanship.
 3. Selfishness—By encouraging the child to help others.
 4. Temptation—By keeping the child off the streets.
 5. Gang-spirit—By guiding leadership in the right direction.
 6. Reformatories—By giving the child active work to do, thus forming instead of reforming character.
- If some good citizen of Tryon would like to give the school a piece of equipment, the student body will certainly appreciate it. We will be glad to attach a little brass plate giving the name of the kind citizen who presented it to the school.

AT LAST! Carolyn Junior Spring Coats and Dresses for the Junior Miss

In response to an increasing popular demand, Carolyn Modes are now being created in special styles for the Junior Miss, and will be known as Carolyn Junior Modes. The girl in her teens will find these coats and dresses charmingly suitable in style, perfect in line and proportion, at prices representing the moderation her older sisters have learned to associate with the name Carolyn.

Like all Carolyn Modes. A charming street dress of flat crepe, has a straight back and a simulated two-piece effect in front. Notice the slit sleeves, faced with contrasting flat crepe, and the novelty pleating which adorns the skirt. Price $25.00

These Carolyn Junior Coats and Dresses represent the utmost in designing skill and creative ability. They also have been selected from the presentations of leading courtiers by a picked committee of fashion critics, and they also represent values because bought jointly by America's finest stores. Thus they typify the utmost in style and price moderation combined.

Sold here exclusively! A demure little style indeed is this Lorcheen Junior coat with its fashionable cape back. The cape is edged with scallops, which also ornament the sleeves. The collar of squirrel and lining of fine crepe complete its appeal. Price $39.50
